Emergency Vehicle Safety Initiative , Emergency Vehicle Safety Initiative U.s. Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency, 2013-10 As traffic volume increases and the highway and interstate system becomes more complex emergency responders face a growing risk to their personal safety while managing and working at highway incidents The purpose of this report is to identify practices that have the potential to decrease that risk as well as to reduce the number of injuries and deaths that occur while responding to and returning from incidents The consistently high annual percentage of emergency worker fatalities related to response prompted the Fire Service Emergency Vehicle Safety Initiative EVSI a partnership effort among the U S Fire Administration USFA the U S Department of Transportation DOT NHTSA and the DOT Intelligent Transportation Systems ITS Joint Program Office One of the primary functions of the EVSI was to sponsor the National Forum on Emergency Vehicle Safety which brought together representatives of major national level fire and emergency service associations and other individuals and organizations with an interest and expertise in emergency vehicle safety These representatives met to identify the major issues related to firefighter fatalities that occur while responding to or returning from alarms and while operating on highway emergency scenes develop and prioritize recommendations to reduce firefighter response and highway scene fatalities identify organizations that had made progress in improving firefighter responder safety in these areas based on mitigation techniques and technologies and review and approve the findings of the research done for this report Emergency Vehicle Safety Initiative ,2004 From Book s Introduction As traffic volume increases and the highway and interstate system becomes more complex emergency responders face a growing risk to their personal safety while managing and working at highway incidents The purpose of this report is to identify practices that have the potential to decrease that risk as well as to reduce the number of injuries and deaths that occur while responding to and returning from incidents Emergency Vehicle Safety Initiative ,2004 From Book s Introduction As traffic volume increases and the highway and interstate system becomes more complex emergency responders face a growing risk to their personal safety while managing and working at highway incidents The purpose of this report is to identify practices that have the potential to decrease that risk as well as to reduce the number of injuries and deaths that occur while responding to and returning from incidents Emergency Vehicle Approaching Kajsa Weibull, 2024-10-17 Driving an emergency vehicle can be difficult The driver of the emergency vehicle must navigate communicate with emergency services often drive at high speeds and take surrounding traffic into account Civilian drivers are required by law to give way to emergency vehicles with lights and sirens activated Despite this they sometimes fail to move over One reason is not noticing the emergency vehicle in time This dissertation aims to understand how technology can support civilian drivers in their interactions with emergency vehicles One form of technology used to make drivers move over is emergency vehicle lighting The results of this dissertation show that alternative designs of emergency vehicle lighting can affect driver behavior and that the current designs are not always suited to promote the most desirable driver behavior. Another technological approach to supporting drivers in their interactions with emergency vehicles is the use of Cooperative Intelligent Transport Systems (C-ITS). One C-ITS service is the Emergency Vehicle Approaching (EVA) warning. An EVA warning is an early in-car warning sent out to the driver before being overtaken by an emergency vehicle, providing more time to move over. Three driving simulator studies with EVA warnings were conducted in this dissertation. The results indicate that EVA warnings make drivers move over more quickly and thereby decrease delay time for emergency vehicles. Furthermore, there is a learning effect when receiving multiple EVA warnings, implying that drivers move over more quickly once they are familiar with the system. One of the simulator studies used eye tracking and showed that EVA warnings make drivers scan mirrors earlier compared to when not receiving an EVA warning. An EVA warning is distributed based on the most probable path of the emergency vehicle. If the driver of the emergency vehicle decides on another route, there is a risk of false EVA warnings. Therefore, this dissertation explored how false alarms and false expectations of EVA warnings affect drivers. Receiving false alarms makes drivers move over more slowly in future interactions and negatively affects attitudes toward the EVA system. Furthermore, wrongly expecting an EVA warning makes drivers less attentive to the road ahead. In conclusion, both emergency vehicle lighting and EVA warnings can support civilian drivers in their interactions with emergency vehicles. It can decrease the risks of both collisions and delays. However, to implement a large-scale deployment of C-ITS, Sweden needs digital infrastructure to support secure data exchange.

Att framföra ett utryckningsfordon utmanande Utryckningsförförarna navigera kommunicera med larmcentralen framföra utryckningsfordonet i inte så långa hastigheter och samtidigt ta hänsyn till omgivande trafik. Bilister enligt lag tvungna att lämna fri väg för utryckningsfordon med blåljus och sirener. Trots det misslyckas ibland förförarna med att lämna fri väg. En anledning är att de inte hinner uppfatta utryckningsfordonet i tid. Syftet med denna avhandling är att förstå hur teknik kan stödja förförarna vid interaktioner med utryckningsfordon. En form av teknik som används för att förstå att lämna fri väg är blåljus. Resultaten av denna avhandling visar att alternativa designlösningar för blåljus kan påverka förarnas beteende och att de nuvarande utformningarna inte alltid är optimala för att förbjuda det mest nödvändiga arbetet. En annan metod för att stödja förförarna i deras interaktion med utryckningsfordon är uppkopplad fordonsteknik så kallat Cooperative Intelligent Transport Systems (C-ITS). En typ av C-ITS tjänst är Emergency Vehicle Approaching (EVA) varningar. En EVA varning är en tidig varning som skickas ut till bilisten innan utryckningsfordonet kommer ikapp vilket ger förförarna mer tid att lämna fri väg. Tre förförarsimulatorstudier med EVA varningar genomfördes inom ramen för avhandlingen. Resultaten visar på att EVA varningar kan förstå att lämna fri väg snabbare och därmed minska förseningarna för utryckningsfordon. Dessutom finns det en inlärningseffekt med EVA varningar som innebär att förförarna lämnar fri väg snabbare när de är bekanta med EVA systemet. I en av simulatorstudierna användes kontrollerna som visade att EVA varningar för förförarna att skanna av speglarna i bilen tidigare jämfört med när de inte fick någon EVA varning. En EVA varning distribueras baserat på den mest sannolika versionen för utryckningsfordonet Om följaren av utryckningsfordonet väljer en annan väg finns det risk för falska EVA varningar I den här avhandlingen undersöks därför hur falska larm och en falsk förväntan om EVA varningar påverkar följare Att ta emot falska larm påverkar följarens framtida interaktioner och inställning till EVA systemet Dessutom gjorde en felaktig förväntan på en EVA varning till att följarna var mindre uppmärksamma på väg fram för dem Sammanfattningsvis kan både blåljus och EVA varningar störa civila följare i interaktionen med utryckningsfordon Varningssystemen kan minska riskerna för både kollisioner och följare För att genomföra en storskalig utbyggnad av CITS behövs Sverige dock en digital infrastruktur för att stödja säkert datautbyte
