Changing Spaces Of Education New Perspectives On The Nature Of Learning:

Changing Spaces of Education Rachel Brooks, Alison Fuller, Johanna Waters, 2012-05-16 In today's modern climate education and learning take place in multiple and diverse spaces. Increasingly these spaces are both physical and virtual in nature. Access to and use of information and communication technologies and the emergence of knowledge based economies necessitate an understanding of the plurality of spaces such as homes, workplaces, international space and cyberspace in which learning can take place. The spaces of policy making with respect to education are also being transformed away from traditional centres of policy formation towards the incorporation of a wider range of actors and sites. These changes coincide with a more general interest in space and spatial theory across the social sciences where notions of simultaneity and diversity replace more modernist conceptions of linear progress and development through time. This volume proffers a unique perspective on the transformation of education in the 21st century by bringing together leading researchers in education, sociology and geography to address directly questions of space in relation to education and learning. This collection of essays examines the changing and diverse spaces and concepts of education occurring simultaneously at different scales and in different parts of the world, explores where education and learning take place, discusses how spaces of education vary at different stages, compulsory schooling, tertiary and higher education, adult education and workplace learning, inspects the ways in which the meanings attached to education and learning change in different national and regional contexts. Changing Spaces of Education is an important and timely contribution to a growing area of concern within the social sciences and amongst practitioners and policy makers, reflecting an urgent need to understand the ways in which both education and learning are being reconfigured, not just nationally but also internationally and transnationally. It is essential reading for final year undergraduates, postgraduates and researchers in geography, sociology, education and policy studies, with an aim too of informing policy and practice in this area.

The Wiley Blackwell Handbook of the Psychology of Training, Development, and Performance Improvement Kurt Kraiger, Jonathan Passmore, Nuno Rebelo dos Santos, Sigmar Malvezzi, 2020-06-02 This Handbook is sure to become a key resource for any researcher or professional looking for the latest and most innovative thinking from around the world on the full range of topics related to training, development and performance management. Bradford S Bell, PhD, Cornell University, USA, Editor, Personnel Psychology. I wish I could have accessed this book many years ago. Comprehensive and scholarly, the four sections: training, e-learning, personal and professional development and performance management fit well together and address a gap in the literature that has been apparent for some time. The psychological perspective speaks to growing interest in the micro foundations of strategic success and the blending together of both formal and informal perspectives on learning in organizations ensures a holistic rather than piecemeal approach to the question of how to build individual knowledge, skills and competences in organizations. I believe that this book will make a significant impact on its target audience in this critical area. Helen Shipton, Professor of International Human Resource Management Nottingham Trent University UK The Wiley Blackwell Handbook of the Psychology of Training Development and Performance Improvement provides up to date contemporary information for researchers and professionals by reviewing the latest literature and research in the interconnected fields of training development and performance appraisal It brings a psychological perspective to bear on a multidisciplinary field that links to management human resources and education Unique to reference works in this area it maintains a truly global focus on the field with top international contributors looking at research and practice from around the world including South America Europe Canada and Australia as well as the United States and the United Kingdom The chapters cover a diverse range of important contemporary topics such as needs analysis job design active learning self regulation simulation approaches 360 degree feedback and virtual learning environments Together they offer researchers and professionals essential information for building a talented organization a critical and challenging task for organizational success in the twenty first century Global Mobility and Higher

Learning Anatoly Oleksiyenko, 2018-03-14 Winner of the Best Book Award from Researchers and Students and Study Abroad Programmes at the CIES2019 conference 2019 This book examines learning mobility tensions and ties caused by convergences and divergences of social organizational and cognitive forces in global higher education As some of these forces generate status anxiety and others enhanced self worth this volume asks the questions How can students navigate treacherous education markets to reduce the former and increase the latter Which specific forces and confluences enhance the quality of self discovery Does the search for identity and meaning produce better results when conducted internationally Which transformative drivers of global mobility enhance social mobility What allows some students to gain the capacity for impactful higher learning at a time when others lose it Why are strategically minded students increasingly concerned about equality and the quality of contribution to the common good of education rather than about their own status What makes some places of learning stand out when students recount their journeys of self discovery and roads to self worth This book includes a broad range of stories and firsthand perspectives that are often overlooked in the process of internationalization of higher education The narratives offer important insights to consider given the ever increasing disquiets of competitiveness oriented global higher education Geographies of the University Peter Meusburger, Michael Heffernan, Laura

Suarsana, 2018-07-31 This open access volume raises awareness of the histories geographies and practices of universities and analyzes their role as key actors in today s global knowledge economy Universities are centers of research teaching and expertise with significant economic social and cultural impacts at different geographical scales Scholars from a variety of disciplines and countries offer original analyses and discussions along five main themes historical perspectives on the university as a site of knowledge production cultural encounter and political interest institutional perspectives on university governance and the creation of innovative environments relationships between universities and the city the impact of universities on national and regional economies and cultures and the processes of internationalization through student mobility the creation of education hubs and global regionalism in higher education      Education and Society Rachel Brooks, 2018-10-04 This new textbook offers a wide ranging discussion of the key debates within the sociology of education Covering everything from policymaking and the curriculum to class ethnicity and gender and the ways that they and other social divisions intersect to produce inequalities this timely publication provides a much needed contribution to the study of education's vital role in contemporary society With examples drawn from such diverse contexts as Australian pre schools Finnish higher education institutions and English further education colleges the text presents students with an international perspective and encourages them to engage critically with some of the core questions that lie at the heart of the topic what is the purpose of education who decides what formal education entails and what impact does education have on both society and individuals Rachel Brooks's extensive knowledge of decades of scholarly work in education and sociology ensures the book is academically rigorous throughout while the final chapter on emerging educational research means it is fully up to date The text's accessible style is ideally suited to all those new to the topic and studying the sociology of education for the first time whether this be from departments of sociology childhood studies social policy or a range of other social science disciplines      Access, Lifelong Learning and Education for All Gareth Parry, Michael Osborne, Peter Scott, 2023-03-23 This book examines access lifelong learning and education for all which have been policy preoccupations in all countries for more than half a century but have been overlaid and pushed aside by the development of mass higher education The authors examine what has been achieved what lessons have been learnt and what still remains to be done addressing matters of equity agency community mobility and hierarchy      Material Feminisms: New Directions for Education Carol Taylor, Gabrielle Ivinson, 2018-02-02 Material Feminisms New Directions for Education provides a range of powerful theoretical and innovative methodological examples to illuminate how new material feminism can be put to work in education to open up new avenues of research design and practice It poses challenging questions about the nature of knowledge production the role of the researcher and the critical endeavour arising from inter and post disciplinarity Working with diffractive methodologies and new materialist ecological epistemologies the book offers resources for hope which widen the scope for how educational problems are interrogated and provides a political counter movement to neo positivist outcomes based approaches within education Inspired by writers such as Barad Bennett and Deleuze and Guattari the book makes a radical break with cognitive dualist and universal conceptions of human subjectivity and intelligence in education By taking its starting point as the co constitutiveness of discourse materiality corporeality and place the book foregrounds educational practices as material enactments of multiple non linear entangled affective and relational forces It offers new insights into how gender class and ethnicity are constituted in and by material assemblages that are often submerged or unseen This book is an essential starting place for those intrigued by what new theoretical accounts of materiality posthumanism and affect can offer educational research Diffractive methodologies challenge readers to take a fuller range of actors into account than in objective humanist methodologies and in so doing to pay closer attention to what data is It invites researchers to engage with long standing feminist concerns about power and knowledge production in research processes This book was originally published as a special issue of Gender and Education Educational Strategies for the Next Generation Leaders in Hotel Management Feng, Jiuguang, Stocklin, Sacha, Wang, Wei, 2015-04-30 As the hospitality industry continues to grow managers and educators are faced with the task of preparing future hospitality professionals for a rewarding but challenging career Due to the impact of an ever changing economy on the industry as a whole the education of hotel managers and professionals has become an increasingly important area of study Educational Strategies for the Next Generation Leaders in Hotel Management combines practical experience with the effective pedagogical approaches being implemented in higher learning institutions and hospitality programs internationally Highlighting key issues surrounding the current and future scope of hotel management and the skills and knowledge necessary for career success in the hospitality industry this publication is an essential reference source for hospitality managers educators and students interested in the future of the industry and the best practices for hospitality education This publication features timely research based chapters and analysis relevant to topics in the hospitality industry including but not limited to craft based learning e learning higher education hospitality management human resources opening delays professional development six sigma women in global leadership and work integrated learning Language Learning and Use in English-Medium Higher Education Lia Blaj-Ward, 2017-08-02

Materialities and Mobilities in Education

Rachel Brooks, Johanna Waters, 2017-09-14 Materialities and Mobilities in Education develops new arguments about the ways in which educational processes can be analysed Drawing on a recent interest in mobilities across the social sciences and a conterminous resurgence in academic accounts of materialities the book demonstrates how these two ostensibly differing perspectives on education might be fruitfully deployed in tandem Considering the interaction and convergence of materialities and mobilities the book highlights the relationship between structural constraints and opportunities and the agency of individuals providing a unique and essential insight into contemporary education Examining a range of education spaces from the formal to the informal and the different types of mobility that manifest in relation to education the book introduces readers to a range of theoretical resources and detailed case studies used to analyse the spatiality of education from across the disciplines of human geography education and sociology Drawing on material from across the globe Materialities and Mobilities in Education is an engaging and relevant text which will appeal to postgraduate students researchers and academics interested in the development of education policy and practice

The Geographies of International Student Mobility Suzanne E. Beech, 2019-05-21 This book offers critical insights into the geographies of the international student higher education experience from initial recruitment through to the plethora of personal factors which influence their decisions to become mobile and experiences when abroad From the student perspective these include but are not limited to the importance of social networks desire for a multicultural experience and the attraction to certain locations as discussed in this volume However unlike other work it also reflects on the motivations of the HEIs themselves and their need to continue recruiting students in the face of greater competition from overseas Recognising this omission this book also analyses the resulting migration industries and how these are sustained and even necessitated by the sector It is therefore the first to bring together these wider institutional narratives with those of the students resulting in a holistic and comprehensive insight into the student mobility process
