Capturing Talk: The Institutional Practices Surrounding the Transcription of Spoken Language Martha Komter, Helen Fraser, Emma Richardson, Felicity Deamer, Kate Haworth, Debbie Loakes, 2024-05-22 Across a range of institutional settings practitioners and professionals are eliciting and capturing spoken talk from clients Sarangi 1998 transcribing that talk and later repurposing the transcripts in place of the original interaction This Research Topic seeks both to shed light on this often overlooked institutional process and to encourage further linguistic input into this area of professional practice Transcription is almost always an institutional practice Park Bucholtz 2009 providing a written record of spoken interaction to be used by another party at a later date in another setting or context There are a number of underappreciated features and consequences of this transformational process which we hope this Research Topic will expose and examine

Fergus and Zeke and the 100th Day of School Kate Messner, 2024-09-17 In their fourth adventure classroom mice Fergus and Zeke after a few false starts jump into a creative project to help the kids mark the one hundredth day of school Fergus and Zeke love being the class pets in Miss Maxwell's classroom and they do everything the students do But when the kids start collecting items and doing gym challenges and making projects to celebrate the one hundredth day of school the mice can't seem to find a way to join in One hundred miles is a very long distance when you're running on your spinny wheel One hundred seconds is a very short time when you're trying to take a nap Stacking one hundred wood chips makes a tower that tips and falls before you're even halfway done And writing a story with exactly one hundred words means abandoning your characters in the middle of the action Will these two classroom mice ever come up with the perfect project to celebrate the one hundredth day
