Emotionally Involved The Impact Of Researching Rape:

Emotionally Involved Rebecca Campbell, 2013-06-17 Tackling difficult issues Emotionally Involved gives a vivid picture the challenges researchers who study traumatic events face It is essential reading for researchers therapists fieldworkers for those on the frontlines of rape crisis and domestic violence work and for anyone concerned with the role of emotions in social science

Practical and Ethical Dilemmas in Researching Sensitive Topics with Populations Considered

Vulnerable Ana Patrícia Hilário, Fábio Rafael Augusto, 2020-11-06 This book seeks to support social science researchers who interact with vulnerability and or sensitivity in the context of their research Whilst there has been some important debate about the theoretical methodological and ethical issues of conducting research on sensitive topics and or with vulnerable populations the number of scholarly publications focused solely on these topics is limited and not up to date The book intends to fill this gap by providing various research experiences as well as the elements that characterize them The articles selected for this book intend first and foremost to stimulate reflexivity amongst the use of the concepts of sensitive topics and vulnerable groups and to provide tools that will allow researchers to improve their research practices The book integrates several articles that explore a wide range of dilemmas that to a certain extent might allow the reader to access the backstage of this type of research The reader will find here a rich and fruitful space for theoretical and empirical reflection where several social science researchers with different backgrounds share their experiences and research paths in a rigorous and creative way

Researching with Feeling Caroline Clarke, Mike Broussine, Linda Watts, 2014-10-10 Why should researchers be interested in their feelings and emotions as they carry out research Emotion is what it is to exist to be human and is present in every sphere of our lives All activities are infused with emotion even those that are constructed as rational because rationality and emotionality are interpenetrated and entwined because all thinking is tinged with feeling and all feeling is tinged with thinking This book illuminates the emotional processes of doing social and organizational research and the implications of this for the outcomes of research With contributions from leading academics and research practitioners it addresses the significant issue of the sometimes intense emotional experiences involved in doing research and the implications it has for the theory and practice of social research By examining the nature of feelings and emotions it explores how we might understand researchers emotions and experiences and considers the often powerful feelings encountered in a variety of research contexts Topics discussed include power relations psycho social explanations of researcher emotions paradoxical relations with research participants and the sometimes disturbing data that is gained research supervision the politics of research gender publishing undergoing vivas and presenting at conferences This book will therefore be a valuable companion to researchers and research students from the start of their career onwards

Emotional Labour in Oral

History Research Jennifer Harding, Verusca Calabria, 2025-02-13 Emotional Labour in Oral History Research critically appraises the many complex ways in which emotion management features in oral history research and its specific implications for the researcher. Uniquely this volume draws on oral historians' personal accounts of conducting sensitive research and assesses the applicability of the term emotional labour to this work. It examines how oral historians may perform emotional labour, highlighting the often hidden emotional toll it takes on them. This volume considers how the emotionally taxing implications of conducting sensitive research may be exacerbated or mitigated by the institutional relations and contexts in which the researcher works. The authors evaluate recommendations from related disciplinary fields for ways of supporting researchers and consider how an ethics of care can be fostered in local research environments. Emotional Labour in Oral History Research engages critically with theories of emotion, conceptualisations of emotional labour, questions of power and positionality, an ethics of care, and debate on the impact of neoliberal ideas and policies on the higher education sector. This book will be of interest to all those using oral history to conduct sensitive research in all locations and at all career stages, including doctoral students, academics new to oral history, established oral historians, community-based oral historians, and qualitative researchers in adjacent disciplines. Researching Gender Violence Tina

Skinner, Marianne Hester, Ellen Malos, 2013-01-11. This text focuses on research methodology and approaches in the complex and sensitive area of violence against women and provides important insights into and critical approaches to the evidence base for policy and practice. Sexual Violence and Abuse Judy L. Postmus, 2012-12-12. A comprehensive examination of the pervasive and persistent social problem of sexual violence and abuse that plagues millions of women, children, and men across the globe. Sexual Violence and Abuse: An Encyclopedia of Prevention, Impacts, and Recovery coalesces the vast amount of information available on the subject, providing a convenient and comprehensive resource on sexual violence and abuse for students, practitioners, and general readers. It is the first of its kind to bring together a full range of topics on sexual violence and abuse across a human lifespan in a single work. The entries are written by a range of professionals who represent academics, researchers, and individuals working in the field of sexual violence and abuse. The two-volume work contains 264 fully cross-referenced entries in alphabetical order, starting with abortion and ending with yoga therapy. The bibliography provides important books, articles, online resources, and videos on a wide range of topics. The encyclopedia also includes a list of key topics with corresponding entries to assist readers needing to examine a group of related entries. Social Science

Research Ethics for a Globalizing World Keerty Nakray, Margaret Alston, Kerri Whittenbury, 2015-10-14. Research in the humanities and social sciences thrives on critical reflections that unfold with each research project, not only in terms of knowledge created but in whether chosen methodologies served their purpose. Ethics forms the bulwark of any social science research methodology, and it requires continuous engagement and reengagement for the greater advancement of knowledge. Each chapter in this book will draw from the empirical knowledge created through intensive fieldwork and provide an account of ethical questions faced by the contributors, placing them in the context of contemporary debates surrounding the theory and practice of ethics. The chapters have been thematically organized into five sections: Feminist Ethics, Cross Cultural
