Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed, 2013-02-01 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own Provoking

Kraft,2017-05-18 Acceptance of Christianity in Southern Polynesia during the eighteenth century proceeded rapidly without missionary activity This fact attracted the attention of Alan Tippett who served for twenty years as an Australian missionary to the Fiji Islands What he found was that the key to their conversion lay in the fact that without missionary presence the south sea islanders responded to demonstrations of what Tippett learned to call power encounters These were contests some staged some not staged in which there was a power encounter between the true God and the gods of the islanders in which the traditional gods were defeated Kraft here discusses the fact that this power principle applies much more widely     Methodology and Emotion in International Relations Eric Van Rythoven,Mira Sucharov,2019-06-20 This volume offers a state of the art study of the diverse methodological approaches and issues in the study of emotions in international relations research While interest in emotion and affect in IR has grown in recent years there remains an absence of sustained engagement with questions of methodology and method Although much of the field holds the emotions turn as laudable it is commonly seen as facing serious even prohibitive methodological challenges Using a common framework for making discussions of methodology and emotion mutually intelligible this work seeks to address this lacuna and will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations research methods and IR theory
