Fireworks Angela Carter, 1987 Fairground Attractions Deborah Philips, 2012-01-19 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com The study investigates the cultural production of the visual iconography of popular pleasure grounds from the eighteenth century pleasure garden to the contemporary theme park Deborah Philips identifies the literary genres including fairy tale gothic horror Egyptiana and the Western which are common to carnival sites tracing their historical transition across a range of media to become familiar icons of popular culture Though the bricolage of narratives and imagery found in the contemporary leisure zone has been read by many as emblematic of postmodern culture the author argues that the clash of genres and stories is less a consequence of postmodern pastiche than it is the result of a history and popular tradition of conventionalised iconography

Current Trends in Narratology Greta Olson, 2011-03-29 Current Trends in Narratology offers an overview of cutting edge approaches to theories of storytelling The introduction details how new emphases on cognitive processing non prose and multimedia narratives and interdisciplinary approaches to narratology have altered how narration narrative and narrativity are understood The volume also introduces a third post classical direction of research comparative narratology and describes how developments in Germany Israel and France may be compared with Anglophone research Leading international scholars including Monika Fludernik Richard Gerrig Ansgar N nning John Pier Brian Richardson Alan Palmer and Werner Wolf describe not only their newest research but also how this work dovetails with larger narratological developments

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of im prison ment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods
