Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts, 1899 Journal of the Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies, 1860 Cornell '69 Donald A. Downs, 2014-01-24

In April 1969 one of America s premier universities was celebrating parents weekend and the student union was an armed camp occupied by over eighty defiant members of the campus s Afro American Society Marching out Sunday night the protesters brandished rifles their maxim If we die you are going to die Cornell 69 is an electrifying account of that weekend which probes the origins of the drama and describes how it was played out not only at Cornell but on campuses across the nation during the heyday of American liberalism Donald Alexander Downs tells the story of how Cornell University became the battleground for the clashing forces of racial justice intellectual freedom and the rule of law Eyewitness accounts and retrospective interviews depict the explosive events of the day and bring the key participants into sharp focus the Afro American Society outraged at a cross burning incident on campus and demanding amnesty for its members implicated in other protests University President James A Perkins long committed to addressing the legacies of racism seeing his policies backfire and his career collapse the faculty indignant at the university s surrender rejecting the administration's concessions then reversing itself as the crisis wore on. The weekend's traumatic turn of events is shown by Downs to be a harbinger of the debates raging today over the meaning of the university in American society. He explores the fundamental questions it posed: questions Americans on and off campus are still struggling to answer. What is the relationship between racial justice and intellectual freedom? What are the limits in teaching identity politics? And what is the proper meaning of the university in a democratic polity? Army-Navy-Air Force Register and Defense Times, 1913 Law and Administration Carol Harlow, Richard Rawlings, 2006 A Campaign of Giants--The Battle for Petersburg A. Wilson Greene, 2018-04-17 Grinding, bloody and ultimately decisive, the Petersburg Campaign was the Civil War's longest and among its most complex. Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee squared off for more than nine months in their struggle for Petersburg, the key to the Confederate capital at Richmond. Featuring some of the war's most notorious battles, the campaign played out against a backdrop of political drama and crucial fighting elsewhere, with massive costs for soldiers and civilians alike. After failing to bull his way into Petersburg, Grant concentrated on isolating the city from its communications with the rest of the surviving Confederacy, stretching Lee's defenses to the breaking point. When Lee's desperate breakout attempt failed in March 1865, Grant launched his final offensives that forced the Confederates to abandon the city on April 2, 1865. A week later, Lee surrendered at Appomattox Court House. Here, A. Wilson Greene opens his sweeping new three-volume history of the Petersburg Campaign, taking readers from Grant's crossing of the James in mid-June 1864 to the fateful Battle of the Crater on July 30. Full of fresh insights drawn from military, political and social history, A Campaign of Giants is destined to be the definitive account of the campaign. With new perspectives on operational and tactical choices by commanders, the experiences of common soldiers and civilians, and the significant role of the United States Colored Troops in the fighting, this book offers essential reading for all those interested in the history of the Civil War. Cumulated Index Medicus, 1975
