

"From Jerusalem and the city of Constantinople comes a grievous report... an accursed race... has violently invaded the lands of those Christians."

— Pope Urban II

"As news of Pope Urban's speech spread throughout Europe, excitement grew. Began searching for adventure, wealth and a chance to serve God, lords and knights began to organize armies... Common people also came together to fight in the Crusades."

"... Christians... He who gave his life for you today demands yours in return. There are combats worthy of you combats in which it is glorious to conquer and advantageous to die. I trust you knights, generous defenders of the Cross, remember the examples of your fathers who conquered Jerusalem, and whose names are inscribed in Heaven, abandon the things that perish, together unfadingly, and conquer a Kingdom which has no end."

— St. Bernard of Clairvaux

"Come then, with all your people and give battle with all your strength, so that all this treasure shall not fall into the hands of the Turks... Therefore act while there is still time lest the kingdom of the Christians shall vanish from your sight... And in your doing you will find your reward in heaven..."

— Emperor Alexius Comnenus

"... For many in the contemporary Arab world, the Crusades are viewed as having begun nearly a millennium of conflict with what would become the West. The Crusades are seen as representing the constant threat of Western encroachment [invading]. But many scholars say that is a more recent and insouciant view of the Crusades...."

—Mike Shuchart, reporter, NPR

The medieval Crusades were taken and then turned into something that they never really were in the first place. They were turned into a kind of a proto-imperialism, an attempt to bring the fruits of European civilization to the Middle East, when, in fact, during the Middle Ages the great sophisticated and wealthy power was the Muslim world. Europe was the Third World.
