Symbolic Blackness and Ethnic Difference in Early Christian Literature Gay L. Byron, 2002 How were early Christians influenced by contemporary assumptions about ethnic and colour differences Why were early Christian writers so attracted to the subject of Blacks Egyptians and Ethiopians Looking at the neglected issue of race brings valuable new perspectives to the study of the ancient world now Gay Byron's exciting work is the first to survey and theorise Blacks Egyptians and Ethiopians in Christian antiquity By combining innovative theory and methodology with a detailed survey of early Christian writings Byron shows how perceptions about ethnic and color differences influenced the discursive strategies of ancient Christian authors She demonstrates convincingly that in spite of the contention that Christianity was to extend to all peoples certain groups of Christians were marginalized and rendered invisible and silent Original and pioneering this book will inspire discussion at every level encouraging a broader and more sophisticated understanding of early Christianity for scholars and students alike

Jonson, Shakespeare and Early Modern Virgil Margaret Tudeau-Clayton, 2006-11-23 Examines how Virgil is represented in early modern England particularly in

Jonson's and Shakespeare's writings      Keywords Re-oriented Joachim Gentz, 2009      Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Karyn Sproles, 2018-07-11

Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Producing the Reader is an interdisciplinary exploration into the profound power of narratives to create and recreate how we imagine ourselves. It posits that the process of producing a text also produces the reader. Written from the perspective of a psychoanalytic feminist, Sproles considers a wide array of examples from literature, popular culture, and her own experiences to illustrate what she calls reflective reading: a metacognitive reading practice that recognizes the workings of the unconscious to push the reader toward a potentially transformational engagement with narrative. This may manifest as epiphany, recovery from loss, or resolution of repressed trauma. Each chapter draws on examples of characters and authors who model a reflective reading process, from Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf to Johnny Cash and Alison Bechdel. By reclaiming the role of the unconscious, Karyn Sproles reinvigorates the theoretical work begun by reader response criticism and develops a deep understanding of identification and transference as an integral part of the reading process. For students and researchers of cultural studies, psychoanalysis, gender studies, and feminist literature and theory, Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative offers innovative and accessible ideas on the relationship between reader and text. An Introduction to Literature, Criticism and Theory Andrew Bennett, Nicholas Royle, 2014-07-10

Fresh, original, and compelling, An Introduction to Literature, Criticism and Theory is the essential guide to literary studies. Starting at the beginning and concluding with the end, the book covers topics that range from the familiar (character, narrative, the author) to the more unusual (secrets, pleasure, ghosts). Eschewing abstractisms, Bennett and Royle successfully illuminate complex ideas by engaging directly with literary works, so that a reading of Jane Eyre opens up ways of thinking about racial difference, whilst Chaucer, Raymond Chandler, and Monty Python are all invoked in a discussion of literary laughter. Each chapter ends with a narrative guide to further reading, and the book also includes a glossary and bibliography. The fourth edition has been revised to incorporate two timely new chapters on animals and the environment. A breath of fresh air in a field that can often seem dry and dauntingly theoretical, this book will open the reader's eyes to the exhilarating possibilities of both reading and studying literature.
