Creating Postwar Canada Community Diversity And Dissent 1945 75:

Creating Postwar Canada Magda Fahrni, Robert Rutherford, 2008-07-01 Creating Postwar Canada showcases new research on this complex period exploring postwar Canada's diverse symbols and battlegrounds. Contributors to the first half of the collection consider evolving definitions of the nation, examining the ways in which Canada was reimagined to include both the Canadian North and landscapes structured by trade and commerce. The essays in the latter half analyze debates on shopping hours, professional striptease, the provider role of fathers, interracial adoption, sexuality on campus, and illegal drug use issues that shaped how the country defined itself in sociocultural and political terms. This collection contributes to the historiography of nationalism, gender, and the family, consumer cultures, and countercultures. Debating Dissent Lara A. Campbell, Dominique Clement, Gregory S. Kealey, 2012-10-09 Although the 1960s are overwhelmingly associated with student radicalism and the New Left, most Canadians witnessed the decade's political, economic, and cultural turmoil from a different perspective. Debating Dissent dispels the myths and stereotypes associated with the 1960s by examining what this era's transformations meant to diverse groups of Canadians, and not only protestors, youth, or the white middle class. With critical contributions from new and senior scholars, Debating Dissent integrates traditional conceptions of the 1960s as a time apart within the broader framework of the long sixties and post-1945 Canada, and places Canada within a local, national, and international context. Cutting-edge essays in social, intellectual, and political history reflect a range of historical interpretation and explore such diverse topics as narcotics, the environment, education, workers, Aboriginal and Black activism, nationalism, Quebec, women, and bilingualism. Touching on the decade's biggest issues, from changing cultural norms to the role of the state, Debating Dissent critically examines ideas of generational change and the sixties. Serpent River Resurgence Lianne C. Leddy, 2022-01-27 Serpent River Resurgence tells the story of how the Serpent River Anishinaabek confronted the persistent forces of settler colonialism and the effects of uranium mining at Elliot Lake, Ontario. Drawing on extensive archival sources, oral histories, and newspaper articles, Lianne C. Leddy examines the environmental and political power relationships that affected her homeland in the Cold War period. Focusing on Indigenous-settler relations, the environmental and health consequences of the uranium industry, and the importance of traditional uses of land, and what happens when they are compromised, Serpent River Resurgence explores how settler colonialism and Anishinaabe resistance remained potent forces in Indigenous communities throughout the second half of the twentieth century. The Centennial Cure Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton, 2017-04-24 In The Centennial Cure, the second volume in the Studies in Atlantic Canada History series, Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton critically examines the intersection of state policy, cultural development, and commemoration in Nova Scotia during Canada's centennial celebrations. Beaton's engaging and insightful analysis of four case studies—the establishment of the Cape Breton Miners Museum, the construction of Halifax's Centennial Swimming Pool, the Community Improvement Program, and the 1967 Nova Scotia Highland Games and Folk Festival—reveals the province's attempts to reimagine and renew public spaces Through these case studies Beaton illuminates the myriad ways in which Nova Scotians saw themselves in the context of modernity and ethnic identity during the post war years The successes and failures of these infrastructure and cultural projects intended to foster and develop cultural capital reflected the socio economic realities and dreams of local communities The Centennial Cure shifts our focus away from the dominant studies on Expo 67 to provide a nuanced and tension filled account of how Canada s 1967 centennial celebrations were experienced in other parts of Canada

The NGO Moment Kevin O'Sullivan,2021-10-14 This book is a study of compassion as a global project from Biafra to Live Aid Kevin O Sullivan explains how and why NGOs became the primary conduits of popular concern for the global poor between the late 1960s and the mid 1980s and shows how this shaped the West s relationship with the post colonial world Drawing on case studies from Britain Canada and Ireland as well as archival material from governments and international organisations he sheds new light on how the legacies of empire were re packaged and re purposed for the post colonial era and how a liberal definition of benevolence rooted in charity justice development and rights became the dominant expression of solidarity with the Third World In doing so the book provides a unique insight into the social cultural and ideological foundations of global civil society It reveals why this period provided such fertile ground for the emergence of NGOs and offers a fresh interpretation of how individuals in the West encountered the outside world

Cold War Comforts Tarah Brookfield,2012-05-01 Cold War Comforts examines Canadian women s efforts to protect children s health and safety between the dropping of the first atomic bomb in Hiroshima in 1945 and the end of the Vietnam War in 1975 Amid this global insecurity many women participated in civil defence or joined the disarmament movement as means to protect their families from the consequences of nuclear war To help children affected by conflicts in Europe and Asia women also organized foreign relief and international adoptions In Canada women pursued different paths to peace and security From all walks of life and from all parts of the country they dedicated themselves to finding ways to survive the hottest periods of the Cold War What united these women was their shared concern for children s survival amid Cold War fears and dangers Acting on their identities as Canadian citizens and mothers they characterized with their activism the genuine interest many women had in protecting children s health and safety In addition their activities offered them a legitimate space to operate in the traditionally male realms of defence and diplomacy Their efforts had a direct impact on the lives of children in Canada and abroad and influenced changes in Canada s education curriculum immigration laws welfare practices defence policy and international relations Cold War Comforts offers insight into how women employed maternalism nationalism and internationalism in their work and examines shifting constructions of family and gender in Cold War Canada It will appeal to scholars of history child and family studies and social policy

Small Stories of War Barbara Lorenskowski,Kristine Alexander,Andrew Burtch,2023-06-15 Many believed the twentieth century would be the century of the child an era in which modern societies would value and protect children sheltering them from violence and poverty Yet this hopeful vision was marred by the harsh realities of migration displacement and armed conflict Small Stories of War grapples with the meanings and memories of childhood and wartime by asking new questions about lived experience Spanning the First World War to the early twenty first century and featuring chapters about Canada Australia Germany the former Yugoslavia Rwanda and northern Uganda this volume asks how young people encountered and responded to armed conflict How did children youth and their families make sense of war in the violent twentieth century How have they shared their stories and experiences of violence and trauma Analyzing a broad range of sources including family letters oral history and children s artwork contributors offer important insights into the production of historical knowledge with and about young people Engaging with cutting edge debates about emotions temporality space and young people as political actors Small Stories of War offers compelling new research and an interpretive toolkit that will benefit scholars from across the social sciences and humanities

The Golden Age of Liberalism Naomi E. S. Griffiths, 2011-09-30 This book explores the life and times of Roméo LeBlanc one of Canada s most popular and successful politicians and statesmen Probably best known as the long standing fisheries minister in Pierre Trudeau s cabinet from 1974 to 1982 LeBlanc s career spanned the golden era of Liberalism in Canada He capped his career during the nineties as the country s twenty fifth governor general Historian Naomi E S Griffiths spent many years reading through LeBlanc s papers and interviewing many of his colleagues to explore the worlds he moved in Paris in the late forties and early fifties world capitals during his time as a journalist and then Ottawa As a writer with an in depth knowledge of the Acadian communities of the Maritimes she knows his roots very well Her biography covers his early years in New Brunswick where he was born into rural poverty his years as a journalist in Ottawa his heyday as a minister in Trudeau s cabinet and his years at Rideau Hall Along the way Ms Griffiths reveals many intriguing insights about her subject s contemporaries including Lester Pearson Pierre Trudeau and Jean Chrétien She also discusses the importance of LeBlanc s Acadian heritage in animating all that he did This engrossing biography illuminates the life of one of Canada s most beloved politicians and statesmen and with it a fascinating era in our history

Equality Deferred Dominique Clément, 2014-05-06 In Equality Deferred Dominique Clément traces the history of sex discrimination in Canadian law and the origins of human rights legislation Focusing on British Columbia the first jurisdiction to prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex he documents a variety of absurd almost unbelievable acts of discrimination Drawing on previously undisclosed human rights commission records Clément explores the rise and fall of what was once the country s most progressive human rights legal regime and reveals how political divisions and social movements shaped the human rights state This book is not only a testament to the revolutionary impact of human rights on Canadian law but also a reminder that it takes more than laws to effect transformative social change

Fast Food Andrew F. Smith, 2016-04-15 The single most influential culinary trend of our time is fast food It has spawned an industry that has changed eating the most fundamental of human activities From the first flipping of burgers in tiny shacks in the western United States to the forging of neon signs that spell out Pizza Hut in

Cyrillic or Arabic scripts the fast food industry has exploded into dominance becoming one of the leading examples of global corporate success And with this success it has become one of the largest targets of political criticism blamed for widespread obesity cultural erasure oppressive labor practices and environmental destruction on massive scales In this book expert culinary historian Andrew F Smith explores why the fast food industry has been so successful and examines the myriad ethical lines it has crossed to become so As he shows fast food plain and simple devised a perfect retail model one that works everywhere providing highly flavored calories with speed economy and convenience But there is no such thing as a free lunch they say and the costs with fast food have been enormous an assault on proper nutrition a minimum wage labor standard and a powerful pressure on farmers and ranchers to deploy some of the worst agricultural practices in history As Smith shows we have long known about these problems and the fast food industry for nearly all of its existence has been beset with scathing exposés boycotts protests and government interventions which it has sometimes met with real changes but more often with token gestures blame passing and an unrelenting gauntlet of lawyers and lobbyists Fast Food ultimately looks at food as a business an examination of the industry's options and those of consumers and a serious inquiry into what society can do to ameliorate the problems this cheap and tasty product has created

Militant Minority Benjamin Isitt, 2011-05-21 Militant Minority tells the compelling story of British Columbia workers who sustained a left tradition during the bleakest days of the Cold War Through their continuing activism on issues from the politics of timber licenses to global questions of war and peace these workers bridged the transition from an Old to a New Left In the late 1950s half of B C's workers belonged to unions but the promise of postwar collective bargaining spawned disillusionment tied to inflation and automation A new working class that was educated white collar and increasingly rebellious shifted the locus of activism from the Communist Party and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation to the newly formed New Democratic Party which was elected in 1972 Grounded in archival research and oral history Militant Minority provides a valuable case study of one of the most organized and independent working classes in North America during a period of ideological tension and unprecedented material advance

Indigenous Women, Work, and History Mary Jane Logan McCallum, 2014-05-02 When dealing with Indigenous women's history we are conditioned to think about women as private sphere figures circumscribed by the home the reserve and the community Moreover in many ways Indigenous men and women have been cast in static pre-modern and one-dimensional identities and their twentieth century experiences reduced to a singular story of decline and loss In Indigenous Women Work and History historian Mary Jane Logan McCallum rejects both of these long-standing conventions by presenting case studies of Indigenous domestic servants hairdressers community health representatives and nurses working in modern Native ways between 1940 and 1980 Based on a range of sources including the records of the Departments of Indian Affairs and National Health and Welfare interviews and print and audio-visual media McCallum shows how state-run education and placement programs were part of Canada's larger vision of assimilation and extinguishment of treaty obligations Conversely

she also shows how Indigenous women link these same programs to their social and cultural responsibilities of community building and state resistance By placing the history of these modern workers within a broader historical context of Aboriginal education and health federal labour programs post war Aboriginal economic and political developments and Aboriginal professional organizations McCallum challenges us to think about Indigenous women s history in entirely new ways

Wasted James Sellars,2022-02-18 WASTED is an aptly titled non fictional account of the legalization of cannabis in Canada The first element of waste is the millions of tax dollars thrown away by incompetent government bureaucrats who failed to realize the economics of the legalization process Each provincial jurisdiction is evaluated and the greed induced by anticipated tax wealth flowing towards the government private interests exposed These officials had no concept of the realities of the cannabis industry they were intent on controlling and it blew up in their face The second element of waste is the failure to grasp the opportunity to grow prosperity in the provinces and the country as a whole This opportunity was completely missed by the bureaucrats in charge of the process of legalizing the cannabis market place The third element of waste is the damaging effect of criminalizing cannabis in the first place Thousands of lives were negatively impacted by the prosecution of young people across this vast country for crimes relating to the recreational use of a plant that we now acknowledge is significantly less dangerous than alcohol or tobacco All the above errors are outlined in the history of the legalization that opens each chapter It is written to provide a source of the press accounts and interviews with politicians that describe the historic discussions and public mumblings of the leaders of our country as they wrestled with the legalization of the sale of cannabis for recreational use The second section of each chapter takes the reader through the economic lessons and laws of commercial behavior that govern any real economic activity The lessons are presented in an academic style that can provide a basis for debate and illustration of how an economy functions and what ill conceived policies can do to a free market Economic thinkers are quoted and principles of free markets are described with emphasis on those intrinsic laws of commercial behavior that can not be broken Additionally there are examples and easy insights into why the legalization rollout failed on so many levels Finally in what we hope will be a gentle chuckle we try to enlighten the reader with a grass roots tongue in cheek dialogue that brings the whole matter full circle to the common sense conclusion that says if you want to make a mess ask the government to strike a committee Informative and historically significant with a bold position on the violation of economics throughout the process of legalization this book can be a valuable resource for future researchers in political science history and economic departments across Canada and the world as they review what happened here and how to do it better when it happens again somewhere else Special interest groups also can use this book as a resource as they develop policy positions that will improve how the legalization of cannabis can finally move towards the potential that this bold government reversal offers

About Canada: The Environment Linda

Pannozzo,2016-12-20T00:00:00Z The environmental history of Canada is a bleak one Resource extraction has always put profits before conservation Settlers exploited both the land and the Indigenous peoples for commercial gain and big business continues that policy with forests fish minerals tar sands and pipelines As the Earth veers toward a biological tipping point as resources become scarcer and as climate change threatens our survival how is Canada responding What kind of future can Canadians expect What changes need to be made In About Canada The Environment award winning author Linda Pannozzo examines the philosophical economic and ideological landscape of our current environmental worldview She connects our faith in the free market and our adherence to an economic system based on endless growth to illustrate the critical situation of Canada s environment Regulations and protections where they did exist have been eroded to benefit the bottom line and industrial expansion and resource extraction fueled by cheap energy and consumers insatiable demand for goods have taken an unprecedented environmental toll one that will only be worsened by the realities of climate change Ultimately Pannozzo argues the solution requires a profound shift in thinking personally politically and economically The inherent value of nature must be recognized for we cannot continue to destroy nature without ultimately destroying ourselves Uplift PearlAnn Reichwein,Karen Wall,2020-11-15 The Banff School opened its doors in 1933 by offering a summer drama course Since then it has grown into a renowned cultural destination today known as the Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity As PearlAnn Reichwein and Karen Wall recount in this engaging history over its first four decades the school produced and circulated ideals of culture and liberal democratic citizenship that were intrinsic to the development of modern Canada Uplift traces the role of the school in shaping arts and cultural education as reflected in its array of artistic political economic and ideological interests Situated within Banff National Park the school and its surroundings combined stunning natural scenery and cultural capital in a symbolic national landscape In an era of unstable cultural policy and funding Uplift draws welcome attention to the place of fine arts culture and the humanities in public education and in Canada s history Lost Kids Mona Gleason,Tamara Myers,Leslie Paris,Veronica Strong-Boag,2010-07-01 Children and youth occupy important social and political roles even as they sleep in cribs or hang out on street corners Conceptualized as either harbingers or saboteurs of a bright secure tomorrow they have motivated many adult driven schemes to effect a positive future But have all children benefited from these programs and initiatives Lost Kids examines adults misgivings about and the inadequate care of vulnerable children From explorations of interracial adoption and the treatment of children with disabilities to discussions of the cultural construction of the hopeless child this multifaceted collection rejects the essentialism of the priceless child or lost youth simplistic categories that continue to shape the treatment of those who deviate from the so called norm

Untied Kingdom Stuart Ward,2023-02-16 A panoramic history uncovering the demise of Britishness as a global civic idea since the Second World War Through Feminist Eyes Joan Sangster,2011 Through Feminist Eyes gathers in one volume the most incisive and insightful essays written to date by the distinguished Canadian historian Joan Sangster To the original essays Sangster has added reflective introductory discussions that situate her earlier work in the context of developing theory and debate Sangster has also supplied an introduction to the collection in which she reflects on the themes and theoretical orientations that have shaped the writing of women's history over the past thirty years Approaching her subject matter from an array of interpretive frameworks that engage questions of gender class colonialism politics and labour Sangster explores the lived experience of women in a variety of specific historical settings In so doing she sheds new light on issues that have sparked much debate among feminist historians and offers a thoughtful overview of the evolution of women's history in Canada Pub desc A Cultural History of Education in the Modern Age Judith Harford, Tom
