Community Partnerships Susan Auerbach, 2012-05-22 School leaders are increasingly called upon to pursue meaningful partnerships with families and community groups yet many leaders are unprepared to meet the challenges of family and community partnerships to cross cultural boundaries or to be accountable to the community This book brings together research perspectives that intersect the fields of leadership and partnerships to inform and inspire new approaches that strive toward more authentic collaboration Urban Education for the 21st Century Festus E. Obiakor, Floyd D.

Beachum, 2005 This timely book exposes the complexities and realities facing urbanness and urban schools that are inadequately funded and denigrated along with students who continue to be misidentified misassessed miscategorized misplaced and misinstructed by illprepared and unprepared educators and service providers The text very successfully demonstrates the comprehensive nature and connectedness of problems and prospects in urban education This book will be an added resource to researchers scholars educators and service providers It should be an excellent required text for graduate and undergraduate courses in all branches of education Addition ally the book will be of interest to education administrators at all levels public school teachers policy makers and change agents The thirteen chapters discuss and explore the following primary topics Urban education and the quest for democracy equity and excellence Educating urban learners with and without special needs Personnel preparation and urban schools Teaching and learning in urban schools Educational leadership in urban schools Insights into educational psychology and what urban practitioners must know Managing violence in urban schools Financing urban schools Reducing the power of whiteness in urban schools Promises and challenges of building and the future perspectives of urban education Commemorating the 50th Anniversary of brown V. Board of Education: Kenneth K. Wong, 2014-04-04 This special issue commemorates and reassesses the educational effects of the Brown decision The articles are grounded in theories and methods of several disciplines including law philosophy economics political science sociology and public policy The researchers examine the way the Court frames racial inequality and whether the proposed remedy is consistent with the institutional and legal context at the time of the ruling In addressing these questions the authors pay particular attention to the nature of the constitutional argument use of social evidence in shaping judicial decisions the political economy of policy development and implementation in addressing racial desegregation and the ongoing challenge of ensuring equality of schooling opportunity for the increasingly diverse student population

International Handbook of Leadership for Learning Tony Townsend, John MacBeath, 2011-07-10 The International Handbook of Leadership for Learning brings together chapters by distinguished authors from thirty one countries in nine different regions of the world The handbook contains nine sections that provide regional overviews a consideration of theoretical and contextual aspects system and policy approaches that promote leadership for learning with a focus on educating school leaders for learning and the role of the leader in supporting learning It also considers the challenge of educating current leaders for this new perspective and how leaders themselves can develop leadership for learning in others and in their organisations especially in diverse contexts and situations The final chapter considers what we now know about leadership for learning and looks at ways this might be further improved in the future The book provides the reader with an understanding of the rich contextual nature of learning in schools and the role of school leaders and leadership development in promoting this It concludes that the preposition for between the two readily known and understood terms of leadership and learning changes everything as it foregrounds learning and complexifies rather than simplifies what that word may mean Whereas common terms such as instructional leadership reduce learning to outcomes leadership for learning embraces a much wider developmental view of learning

McCray, Floyd D. Beachum, Phyllis F. Reggio, 2021-09-01

With the increasing amount of diversity taking place in the United States and in our K 12 schools this book will help school leaders become prepared It is the school principal who sets the tone for the school culture and provides the vision as to the direction of the organization Therefore school principals will ultimately have a great impact in promoting cultural and social diversity School Leadership in a Diverse Society Helping Schools Prepare all Students for Success 2nd Edition will help scholars and practitioners have a better understanding of the increasing amount of diversity that is occurring in American society This book will give them the tools needed to lead schools to ensure that all students regardless of their life circumstances and status are provided a school experience that promotes high academic achievement and a sense of belonging Today multiculturalism and diversity preparation are needed in our society seemingly more so than when schools first made an earnest effort to integrate twenty years after Brown V Board of Education Just as it seemed the United States was making significant progress dealing with issues that have plagued this country for hundreds of years recently there has been a surge in diversity related issues the killing of unarmed African Americans the unwarranted attacks on Asians immigration debates the recent rise of groups that support white supremacy blackface incidents increasing wealth divide between the ultra rich and the poor religious backlash etc These issues should remind us that the struggle for social equity continues into the present moment Communities must work together to help fight rising intolerance and prejudice within our country and schools

The Broken Cisterns of African American Education M. Christopher Brown, RoSusan D. Bartee, 2008-12-01 The failure of American education to achieve racial diversity has resulted from the inability of educational researchers policy makers and judicial officials to disentangle the complex definitions that have emerged in a post segregated society More specifically the capricious aim of post segregated educational settings leads to the confusing and often conflicting interchangeable usage of terms desegregated integrated and diversity This ambiguity is further confounded by the imprecise definitions of equity equality and opportunity The proposed book will examine the role of language post Brown v Board of Education and the effects of that language on educational policy and practice He also examines how the fundamental implications of language within post Brown court cases in pre through post secondary education demonstrate the unspecified outcomes for desegregation and integration while concomitantly demand an educational continuum of equitable distribution The arguments will further interrogate how education policy and practices implicitly contain a scholarly roadmap to forge equal opportunity and access fifty years after Brown

Valuing Other Voices Festus E. Obiakor, 2020-03-01 How can we build an organization or institution that treats people equitably How do we develop conscientious communities where people's voices are heard and not silenced How can we go from half truths and alternative facts to real truths How can we reduce or eliminate societal ills such as racism ethnocentrism xenophobia religious dogmatism sexism homophobia tribalism colonial mentality slave mentality Messiah Complex and terrorism How can we get into the mind's eyes of others and treat them as we would like to be treated How do we create environments that stimulate fearless or hearty conversations between peoples How do we learn from history or other people's experiences to make functional goal directed decisions And how can we inspire people to value their differences and similarities as they think and talk in our global village These are questions that deserve answers in our respective communities states nations and world This book Valuing Other Voices Discourses That Matter in Education Social Justice and Multiculturalism opens doors of communication for all people willing to create a community state nation or world of harmony

Radicalizing Educational Leadership Ira Bogotch, Floyd Beachum, Jackie Blount, Jeffrey Brooks, Fenwick English, 2008-01-01 What you will find inside this provocative text It should come as no surprise as the collection of papers in this book show that we are up against it Killing those we despise has become normative in the political minds of both the powerful and the marginalised Framing

those who are weakest as the architects of their own disgusting state it has become commonsense in all societies rich and poor Any counter hegemonic project that seeks to rethink social justice and reframe educational leadership is without question confronting the enormous power of ordinariness the commonsense about power inequality and violence Jonathan Jansen By virtue of an institutionalized hegemony the formal scales of social justice are informally tipped in favor of the haves leaving the have nots at a distinct disadvantage and often powerless and defenseless to effect change for themselves or others How do these critical perspectives change our vision of public schools and of educational leadership Suddenly new dynamics emerge race matters gender matters sexual orientation matters ethnicity matters class matters power matters money matters agency matters etc Jeffrey Brooks Historical research is one important way that individuals can heighten their awareness of their own conditions It can inspire understanding that compels social justice leadership on account of one s status It can assist potential allies in learning how their own lived experiences of oppression might translate to persons experiencing subjugation along other social dimensions It can accomplish these ends by provoking us to ask better questions to understand larger patterns more deeply and to find inspiration in the infinitely varied stories of human frailty and courage Jackie Blount To illustrate social injustice we have to look backwards But our graduates are not going to work in the past So it isn t enough to work to undo socially unjust practices The more complex question surrounding making social justice a thematic anchor and connector of an educational leadership program is the requirement to create within a theoretical framework in which the effects of a curriculum can be empirically assessed and which can serve as an holistic and heuristic model by which graduate students can engage in a gestalt view approach to leading schools and school systems in very different directions than before Fenwick English
