Kraft, Scott R. Furlong, 2013 All too often public policy textbooks offer a basic grounding in the policy process without the benefit of integrating the use of policy analysis Kraft and Furlong since their first edition take a different tack They want students to understand how and why policy analysis is used to assess policy alternatives not only to question the assumptions of policy analysts but to recognize how analysis is used in support of political arguments To encourage critical and creative thinking on issues ranging from the financial bailout to rising gas prices to natural disasters the authors introduce and fully integrate an evaluative approach to policy Public Policy starts with a concise review of institutions policy actors and major theoretical models The authors then discuss the nature of policy analysis and its practice and show students how to employ evaluative criteria in six substantive policy areas Public Policy arms students with analytic tools they need to understand the motivations of policy actors both within and outside of government influence a complex yet comprehensible policy agenda Enhancements to the 4th edition All chapters have been comprehensively updated to include recent events issues and policy debates including the conduct of the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq the use of private contractors for military support and operations the rising cost of gasoline and disputes over energy policy and climate change the controversy over immigration policy requirements for financial regulation heightened concerns over economic and social inequality and the clash over reforming taxes and entitlement programs as well as dealing with the federal deficit and national debt New and updated working with sources and steps to analysis features help students investigate sources of information and apply evaluative criteria New and updated end of chapter discussion questions suggested readings and web sites

"All different - All equal" 4th edition Rui Gomes,Anca-Ruxandra Pandeia,Patricia Brander,Laure de Witte,Gavan Titley,2024-10-01 An invaluable education pack proposing resources and activities for education and action with young people against racism and discrimination It is easy to say I have no prejudices or I m not racist so it has nothing to do with me It is much harder to say I may not be to blame for what happened in the past but I want to take responsibility for making sure it doesn t continue in the future Many young people in Europe and beyond defied the pandemic and took to the streets in 2020 to express their sorrow and their anger in the aftermath of George Floyd s death in Minneapolis at the hands of a white policeman This also served as a wake up call to the daily systemic and sometimes structural forms of racial discrimination which are visible across Europe expressed in hate speech or outright physical violence and which target people on the basis of their characteristics or identity including age colour of skin disability ethnicity gender legal status nationality origin race religion and belief sex and sexual orientation Youth leaders and human rights activists turned to the Council of Europe the guardian of human rights in Europe for responses support and in particular what the youth sector could propose A consultation with youth workers and specialists in human rights education concluded that part of the response has to be educational The rise of populist nationalist and xenophobic ideas and discourse must also be countered through democratic citizenship and human rights education including anti racism education and intercultural learning Education remains an important antidote to racism and prejudice This manual was originally produced in 1995 for the European youth campaign against racism antisemitism xenophobia and intolerance It has been updated and extended to reflect the kaleidoscope of racial discrimination in Europe today and the mutations of racist discourses and ideologies It contains basic information and hands on non formal education methodologies for supporting young people in learning about and addressing prejudice and its impact on people and societies
