Dr Wouter deGroote This issue is one of four selected each year by our series Consulting Editor Dr Santos Martinez of the Campbell Clinic Topics in this issue include but are not limited to Epidemiology of Disability Community Based Rehabilitation in Developing Countries Rehabilitation in Disaster Relief Rehabilitation in Latin America Rehabilitation in Africa Rehabilitation in China Rehabilitation in Nepal Rehabilitation in Bangladesh Rehabilitation in Malaysia Rehabilitation in South India Rehabilitation Technology for Developing Countries and Facilitators and Barriers to The Rehabilitation Workforce among others The Funeral Preplanning Guide Volume 2 , The Highlands Richard G. Lathrop, 2011-12-12 Think of the Highlands as the backyard and backstop of the Philadelphia New York Hartford metroplex A backyard that spans over three million acres across Pennsylvania New York and Connecticut the Highlands serves as recreational open space for the metroplex s burgeoning human population As backstop Highlands watersheds provide a ready source of high quality drinking water for over fifteen million people The Highlands is the first book to examine the natural and cultural landscape of this four state region showing how it s distinctive and why its conservation is vital Each chapter is written by a different leading researcher and specialist in that field and introduces readers to another aspect of the Highlands its geological foundations its aquifers and watersheds its forest ecology its past iron industry In the 1800s the Highlands were mined cutover and then largely abandoned Given time the forests regenerated the land healed and the waters cleared Increasingly however the Highlands are under assault again polluted runoff contaminating lakes and streams invasive species choking out the local flora and fauna exurban sprawl blighting the rural landscape and climate change threatening the integrity of its ecosystems The Highlands makes a compelling case for land use planning and resource management strategies that could help ensure a sustainable future for the region strategies that could in turn be applied to other landscapes threatened by urbanization across the country The Highlands are a valuable resource And now so is The Highlands Scientific and Technical Books and Serials in Print , 1989 Psychosocial Risk Factors in the Development, Maintenance and Treatment Outcome of Eating Disorders Matteo Aloï, Antonino Carcione, Giovanni Castellini, Gianluca Lo Coco, Marianna Rania, Cristina Segura-Garcia , Karin Waldherr, 2024-09-25 Eating disorders EDs are mental disorders characterized by altered eating habits and excessive concerns about weight and body shape They arise mainly during adolescence and predominantly affect females The three most common types of EDs are Anorexia nervosa AN which is characterized by restriction of food intake significant low body weight an intense fear of gaining weight and disturbances in body shape and weight experience Bulimia nervosa BN which is characterized by recurrent binge eating episodes followed by behaviors that compensate for the overeating i e self induced vomiting excessive exercise or extreme use of laxatives enemas or diuretics and self evaluation based on body shape and weight Binge eating disorder BED which is characterized by the recurrence of binge eating episodes without the use of compensatory behaviors for weight control and feelings of distress embarrassment and guilt To date researchers and clinicians agree that a multifactorial model is the most suitable for explaining the onset and maintenance of EDs For example a risk factor for BED may be lower parental care as it may trigger greater confusion and uncertainty in responding to unpleasant emotional experiences This contributes to an impaired personality development more severe psychopathological symptomatology and greater difficulty in both identifying and distinguishing feelings of hunger and satiety from other emotions Attachment styles have also been explored in patients with EDs According to the attachment theory attachment insecurity could disrupt the ability to identify and express emotional states and might impair affect regulation skills i e emotional dysregulation Within the two main dimensions of attachment insecurity i e attachment anxiety and avoidance higher attachment anxiety is related to greater symptom severity in patients with AN and BN Moreover prior studies have examined impaired emotional competences ECs theory of mind ToM and metacognition which refer to how individuals identify express understand regulate and use their emotions or those of significant others These skills may also explain why attachment insecurity places individuals at greater risk of EDs Although particular personality traits i e impulsivity perfectionism self esteem attachment styles trauma and metacognition clearly play a role in the onset and maintenance of EDs little is known about their associations and underlying mechanisms The United States Catalog

,1909 Industrialisation for Employment and Growth in India R. Nagaraj,2021-10-07 India initiated liberal economic reforms in 1991 to transform a slow growing state led economy into an open export oriented industrialising economy Though economic growth has accelerated industrialisation has suffered from the manufacturing sector s share and labour intensive sectors failing to improve in India s exports The government launched the Make in India initiative in 2015 aimed at raising the manufacturing sector s share in GDP to 25 percent and to create an additional 100 million jobs by 2022 Though official estimates show an optimistic image of small scale industries they do not explain why India failed to boost industrial production as expected of the reforms Why did they fail to keep the domestic market let alone expand exports What would it take to meet the ambitious policy goals of the initiative This book attempts to address these questions It looks at a series of case studies of the small industry to obtain an in depth understanding of specific industries and locations to draw meaningful conclusions No Great Wall Felix Boecking,2020-05-11 This book an in depth study of Nationalist tariff policy fundamentally challenges the widely accepted idea that the key to the Communist seizure of power in China lay in the incompetence of Chiang Kai shek s Nationalist government It argues instead that during the second Sino Japanese War China s international trade the Nationalist government s tariff revenues and hence its fiscal policy and state making project all collapsed Because tariffs on China s international trade produced the single greatest share of central government revenue during the Nanjing decade the political existence of the Nationalist government depended on tariff revenue Therefore Chinese economic nationalism both at the official and popular levels had to be managed carefully so as not to jeopardize the Nationalist government s income Until the outbreak of war in 1937 the Nationalists management of international trade and China s government finances was largely successful in terms of producing increasing and sustainable revenues Within the first year of war however the Nationalists lost territories producing 80 percent of tariff revenue Hence government revenue declined just as war related expenditure increased and the Nationalist government had to resort to more rapacious forms of revenue extraction a decision that had disastrous consequences for both its finances and its political viability     Popular Science ,2004-12 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better     Woman's Who's who of America John W.
