the formation of the Union of Utrecht four hundred years ago on 23 January 1579 was celebrated by many different events One of these certainly not the least important to historians was the holding of an inter national congress in Utrecht and Zeist on 8 9 and 10 May 1979 organized by the Dutch Historical Association This Association had decided to select a theme which fitted well in the framework of the Union celebrations federalism history and current significance of a form of government For the Union of Utrecht constituted the legal foundation even the constitution it is claimed of the Republic of the United Netherlands and that commonwealth can undoubtedly be regarded as a very interesting example of a federal form of government As is evident from the formulation of the congress theme the intention of the organizers was that attention should be given not only to federal and regional structures and tendencies in the past but also in the contemporary world Historical phenomena needed necessarily to be viewed in present day perspective current problems ought if possible to be seen in historical perspective There is no doubt that the prevailing view today at least in the Western World is to a great extent characterized by a growing dislike of the modern Leviathan the highly centralized bureaucratic welfare State into narratives and how this process helps to construct identities such as Hutu and Tutsi Through extensive fieldwork in two refugee communities Malkki finds that the refugees current circumstances significantly influence these constructions Those living in organized camps created an elaborate mythico history of the Hutu people which gave significance to exile and envisioned a collective return to the homeland of Burundi Other refugees who had assimilated in a more urban setting crafted identities in response to the practical circumstances of their day to day lives Malkki reveals how such things as national identity historical consciousness and the social imagination of enemies get constructed in the process of everyday life The book closes with an epilogue looking at the recent violence between Hutu and Tutsi in Rwanda and Burundi and showing how the movement of large refugee populations across national borders has shaped patterns of violence in the region

Indigenous Land Rights in Israel Morad Elsana, 2020-11-29 Introducing the Negev Bedouin land issue from the international indigenous land rights perspective this comparative study suggests options for the recognition of their land The book demonstrates that the Bedouin land dispossession like many indigenous peoples progressed through several phases that included eviction and displacement legislation and judicial decisions that support acts of dispossession and deny the Bedouin s traditional land rights Examining the Mawat legal doctrine on which the State and the Court rely on to deny Bedouin land rights this volume introduces the relevant international law protecting indigenous land rights and shows how the limitations of this law prevent any meaningful protection of Bedouin land rights In the second part of the work the Aborigines land in Australia is introduced as an example of indigenous peoples successful struggle for their traditional land rights The final chapter analyzes the basic elements of judicial recognition of the land and shows that the basic elements needed for Bedouin land recognition exist in the Israeli legal system Proposing practical recommendations for the recognition of Bedouin land this volume is a key resource to scholars and students interested in land rights international law comparative studies and the Middle East

The Margins of Discretion in Transnational Administrative Acts Kathrin Hamenstädt, 2022-05-05 This book analyses the expulsion of delinquent foreigners and their exclusion from the territory through a comparative lens The book begins with a vertical perspective focusing on the effects of European standards on the law of expulsion and entry bans in Germany and the Netherlands and the law regulating deportation from the United Kingdom It explores how these countries use their margin of discretion granted by European law to solve the societal political and legal challenges that are posed by delinquent foreigners Moreover it highlights the similarities convergences and differences between these countries approaches to the topic Subsequently the book adopts a horizontal perspective by focusing on the effects of national decisions on other states thereby addressing transnational administrative acts National expulsion decisions and entry bans can be given effect throughout European countries with the consequence that other states are in principle obliged to enforce them by refusing foreigners access to their territory This obligation arises despite the fact that expulsion decisions and entry bans are adopted on the basis of diverging national provisions Even though the margin of discretion of national decision makers has already been limited the remaining differences call for further recommendations which are put forward in this book
