A New Gomorrah Elizabeth Kinzer O'Farrell, 2009-08-26 The story in the New Gomorrah is about a Midwestern city so steeped in crime and corruption that a new minister, Reverend Dr. David Chandler, at a prestigious church on Park Avenue feels he must do something about it. In a challenging sermon, he compares it to Gomorrah, the ancient city of biblical times destroyed by fire because of its evil ways. His compelling words are heard by Paul Chedder, a cynical, now burned out but once highly regarded investigative reporter for The Daily Chronicle, the city's only daily newspaper. Dr. Chandler is popular among the young people in the church and has learned about the drug trafficking on the local college campus. He is furious to hear about the gambling and prostitution rampant in the city, the running of crap games at the American Legion Hall, and berates local authorities for doing nothing about the bookie operation next to the Civic Center. He decides to bring such matters to the attention of his congregation in his sermon. The city's crime problems expand with the assassination of the drug kingpin and Paul's ongoing private investigations into a nursing home swindle, the possibility of corruption in City Hall, the death of two young reporters working with him, and his own near death at the hands of the assassin. While Paul is recuperating, the trusted members of the citizens committee decide to share Paul's suspicions of the Mayor's involvement with the trusted District Attorney working together to get crime off of the streets.

Inside & Falling Away Robert Linehart, 2024-08-29 Inside Falling Away is a fictional autobiographical coming of age story that follows three young men: Will Haywood, Ronny Connor, and Jim Owens, and several of their friends. While they are all from diverse geographical and cultural backgrounds, they come from similar Christian homes benefitting from the 1970s American Dream. As the young men navigate a year at a Christian university in the 1980s, theirs is an insular world from which they are trying to break free. Becoming interested in things that their family, church, and university frown upon, their desire to explore life comes head to head with duty, responsibility, authority, and faith. The young men discover a new world full of confidence, love, exhilaration, pain, self-discovery, sex, and pride, tempered by inevitable self-doubt, insecurity, and fear of the future. Inside Falling Away invites readers to participate in the emotions, experiences, and passion of youth in a more innocent time.

True Adventures of the Floating Poet Mike Harris, 2012-03-09 Free Spirited with Salty Lyric Waves Poet Mike Harris pens his disillusionments on his own terms and comes up with truth, philosophy, epiphany, and catharsis in jest. Beaufort, South Carolina. Release Date: TBD. For a surety shoe rate, see True Adventures of the Floating Poet. Mike Harris' collection of verse is not The Rime of the Ancient Mariner. But it is as salt and barnacle encrusted as that distant predecessor. Born out of a need to get away from Wall Street, induced and ultimately fake problems, self-styled Capt. Mike left for the Caribbean on a normal day in

New York All poets who have followed the seabreeze to a life of adventure on the waves share the author's respect for the sensible in the face of chance and nature From the first poem The Holy Clam and the birth of Clamism the author divests himself of the trappings of the civilized jungles of boardroom and yuppie restaurants distances himself from them because they induce spiritual phobia and rides out on the crests of a versified ocean like Neptune riding sea horses Not unlike Hunter S Thompson's author of Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas famous sojourn into pre Castro Cuba this Mike Harris vacation has produced an awesome seismic new reading of the largely unspotlighted areas of the American dream that few except the disillusioned intellectuals get to comment on Both Thompson and Harris like Coleridge do not get to drink much water In both the modern writers cases whiskey or perhaps rum in Harris case is the philosophical lubrication of choice The difference is that Harris holds out some hope for the reader whom this volume will surely hook it makes Harris an excellent not quite indifferent grungy but compassionate fisher of men He who floats has surely lived to tell a deeply funny ultimately meaningful compelling tale
