Feminism and Nationalism in the Third World Kumari Jayawardena, 1986 This book is about the history of those political struggles women launched in the Asian countries of India Sri Lanka China Indonesia Vietnam Japan Korea and the Philippines and the Middle Eastern countries of Egypt Turkey and Iran from the late 19th century onwards The author challenges the view that feminism is a foreign ideology currently being imposed on Third World countries Feminism and Nationalism in the Third World Kumari Jayawardena, 1992 Fantasizing the Feminine in Indonesia Laurie Jo Sears, 1996 Presenting dialogues between prominent scholars of and from Indonesia and Indonesian women working in professional activist religious and literary domains the book dissolves essentialist notions of women and Indonesia that have arisen out of the tensions of empire Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories Lorraine Code, 2002-06-01 The path breaking Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories is an accessible multidisciplinary insight into the complex field of feminist thought The Encyclopedia contains over 500 authoritative entries commissioned from an international team of contributors and includes clear concise and provocative explanations of key themes and ideas Each entry contains cross references and a bibliographic guide to further reading over 50 biographical entries provide readers with a sense of how the theories they encounter have developed out of the lives and situations of their authors The Criminology of War Ruth Jamieson, 2017-07-05 The essays selected for this volume provide an overview of the range of issues confronting scholars interested in the complex and multiple relationships between war and criminality and map the many connections between war security governmentality punishment gender and crime The collection draws on the recent theoretical advances made by both criminologists and scholars from cognate disciplines such as law politics anthropology and gender studies in order to open out criminological thinking about what war is how it is related to crime and how these war crime relationships reach into peace The volume features contributions from key thinkers in the field and serves as a valuable resource for academics and students with an interest in the criminology of war The essays selected for this volume provide an overview of the range of issues confronting scholars interested in the complex and multiple relationships between war and criminality and map the many connections between war security governmentality punishment gender and crime The collection draws on the recent theoretical advances made by both criminologists and scholars from cognate disciplines such as law politics anthropology and gender studies in order to open out criminological thinking about what war is how it is related to crime and how these war crime relationships reach into peace The volume features contributions from key thinkers in the field and serves as a valuable resource for academics and students with an interest in the criminology of war Men, Women, and Gods Fedwa Malti-Douglas, 2024-07-26 Men Women and God s is a pioneering study of the Arab world s leading feminist and most controversial woman writer Nawal El Saadawi Author of plays memoirs and such novels as Woman at Point Zero and The Innocence of the Devil El Saadawi has become well known in the West as well as in the Arab community for her unforgettable female heroes and explosive narratives which boldly address sexual violence female circumcision theology and other politically charged themes Her outspoken feminism and critique of patriarchy have also earned her the wrath of repressive forces in the Middle East Imprisoned in her native Egypt under Sadat El Saadawi is now among those on the death lists of Islamic religious conservatives In Men Women and God's Fedwa Malti Douglas makes the work of this important but little understood writer truly accessible Contending that El Saadawi's texts cannot be read in isolation from their Islamic and Arabic heritage Malti Douglas draws upon a deep knowledge of classical and modern Arabic textual traditions and on extensive conversations with Nawal El Saadawi to place the writer within her cultural and historical context With this impassioned and radical exegesis of El Saadawi's prolific output Malti Douglas has written a crucial study of one of the most controversial and influential writers of our time This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995 Gender in History Merry E.

Wiesner-Hanks, 2011-06-24 GENDER IN HISTORY Praise for the first edition Wiesner Hanks accomplishes a near impossible feat a review of what is known about the construction of gender and the character of women's lives in all known cultures over the course of human history Theoretically sophisticated and doing justice to the historical and cross cultural record yet assimilable by students Choice Gender in History brilliantly explores the influence of gender constructs in political social economic and cultural affairs The remarkable cultural geographical and chronological range of Wiesner Hanks research is matched only by the sophistication nuance and clarity of her analysis This book offers a rare and valuable global perspective on gender roles in human history Jerry H Bentley University of Hawaii Over the past two decades considerations of gender have revolutionized the study of history Yet most books on the subject remain narrowly focused on a specific time period or particular region of the world Gender in History Global Perspectives Second Edition continues to redress this inequity by providing a concise overview of the construction of gender in many world cultures over a period stretching from the Paleolithic era to modern times Thoroughly updated to reflect current developments in the field the new edition features entirely new sections which address primates slavery colonialism masculinity transgender issues and other relevant topics As in the well received first edition material is presented thematically to reveal the connections between gender and structures such as the family economy law religion sexuality and the state Wiesner Hanks also investigates precisely what it meant to be a man or woman throughout history how these roles were shaped by various institutions and how they in turn were influenced by gender The author presents material within each chapter chronologically to highlight the ways in which gender structures have varied over time The new edition of Gender in History Global Perspectives offers rich insights into all that is currently known about gender roles throughout world history A companion website is available at www.wiley.com/go wiesnerhanks The Companion to Development Studies, 2nd Edition Vandana Desai, Robert B Potter, 2013-01-22 The Companion to Development Studies is an essential one stop reference for anyone with an interest in development studies Over 100 international experts have been brought together to present a comprehensive overview of the key theoretical and practical issues dominating contemporary development studies Building on the success of the first edition the second edition of the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated and includes new chapters on a range of topics including ageing culture and development corruption and development and global terrorism Each chapter summarises current debates and provides guidance for further reading and research The Companion to Development Studies is indispensable for students of development studies at all levels from undergraduate to postgraduate and beyond in departments of development studies geography politics international relations sociology social anthropology and economics Postnational Feminisms Hena Ahmad, 2010 Postnational Feminisms Postcolonial Identities and Cosmopolitanism in the Works of Kamala Markandaya Tsitsi Dangarembga Ama Ata Aidoo and Anita Desai offers a significant contribution to the field of postcolonial and Third World feminist studies It reevaluates the ways in which Third World women writers interrogate the relationship between woman and nation in the postcolonial context Hena Ahmad brings forth the concept of postnational feminism which she deploys to show how these major writers challenge the role of women as signifiers of national cultures in their works This innovative concept illuminates the ambivalence of these uniquely positioned writers as Ahmad explores the connection between postnationalism and Third World feminism BOOK JACKET Secularism, Gender and the State in the Middle East Nadjie Al-Ali, 2000-07-27 A considerable literature has been devoted to the study of Islamic activism By contrast Nadjie Al Ali's book explores the anthropological and political significance of secular oriented activism by focusing on the women's movement in Egypt In so doing it challenges stereotypical images of Arab women as passive victims and demonstrates how they fight for their rights and confront conservative forces Al Ali's book also takes issue with prevailing constructions of the West and its perceived dichotomous relation to the East The argument is constructed around interviews which afford fascinating insights into the history of the women's movement in Egypt notions about secularism and how Islamist constituencies have impacted on women's activism generally The balance between the empirical and conceptual material is adeptly handled The author frames her work in the context of current theoretical debates in Middle Eastern and post colonial scholarship while some of the ideas are complex her lucid style means they are always comprehensible the book will therefore appeal to students as well as to scholars in the field Can Muslims Think? Muneeb Hafiz, 2022-06-14 As Europe goes astray deeply conflicted about where it is within and with the world it does not know what it wants to know about or do with the racial subject In this situation the Muslim becomes an intense source of anxiety one that is at once terrifying and called to answer for Europe's existential fear of relegation Islamophobia thus represents both the racism constitutive of European modernity and is also symptomatic of contemporary transformations in racist power knowledge and governance propelled by technologies and economies of endless wars on terror But how might the Muslim speak about the world its past and unfolding terrors Which questions must she answer and which answers does Europe deem acceptable Presenting a speculative theory of the post racial subject of Islamophobia Can Muslims Think is an attempt to build a vocabulary for analyzing the complexities of racism today its potential futurity and techniques for its dismantling Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women Cheris Kramarae, Dale Spender, 2004-04-16 For a full list of entries and contributors sample entries and more visit the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women website Featuring comprehensive global coverage of women s issues and concerns from violence and sexuality to feminist theory the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women brings the field into the new millennium In over 900 signed A Z entries from US and Europe Asia the Americas Oceania and the Middle East the women who pioneered the field from its inception collaborate with the new scholars who are shaping the future of women s studies to create the new standard work for anyone who needs information on women related subjects Confucianism, Law, and Democracy in Contemporary Korea Sungmoon Kim, 2015-03-26 Comparative political theory has grown into a recognized discipline in its own right in the last two decades Yet little has been done to explore how political theory engages with the actual social legal and political reality of a particular polity East Asians are complexly conditioned by traditional Confucian norms and habits despite significant social economic and political changes in their contemporary lives This volume seeks to address this important issue by developing a specifically Confucian political and legal theory The volume focuses on South Korea whose traditional society was and remains the most Confucianized among pre modern East Asian countries It offers an interesting case for thinking about Confucian democracy and constitutionalism because its liberal democratic institutions are compatible with and profoundly influenced by the Confucian habit of the heart The book wrestles with the practical meaning of liberal rights under the Korean Confucian societal culture and illuminates a way in which traditional Confucianism can be transformed through legal and political processes into a new Confucianism relevant to democratic practices in contemporary Korea Palestinian Women of Gaza and the West Bank Suha Sabbagh, 1998-03-22 Abdullah Amal Kharisha Barghouthi Rita Giacaman May Mistakmel Nassar Amal Wahdan Sahar Khalifeh translation by Nagla El Bassiouni Intifada year four notes on the women s movement Rita Giacaman and Penny Johnson Palestinian women s activism after Oslo Amal Kavar The declaration of principles on Palestinian women s rights an analysis Suha Sabbagh The Southeast Asian Woman Writes Back Grace V. S. Chin, Kathrina Mohd Daud, 2017-12-04 This collection of essays examines how Southeast Asian women writers engage with the grand narratives of nationalism and the modern nation state by exploring the representations of gender identity and nation in the postcolonial literatures of Brunei Darussalam Malaysia Singapore Indonesia and the Philippines Bringing to light the selected works of overlooked local women writers and providing new analyses of those produced by internationally known women authors and artists the essays situate regional literary developments within historicized geopolitical landscapes to offer incisive analyses and readings on how women and the feminine are imagined represented and positioned in relation to the Southeast Asian nation The book which features both cross country comparative analyses and country specific investigations also considers the ideas of the nation and the state by investigating related ideologies rhetoric apparatuses and discourses and the ways in which they affect women s bodies subjectivities and lived realities in both historical and contemporary Southeast Asian contexts By considering how these literary expressions critique contest or are complicit in nationalist projects and state mandated agendas the collection contributes to the overall regional and comparative discourses on gender identity and nation in Southeast Asian studies

Gender and Change in Hong Kong Eliza Wing-Yee Lee, 2011-11-01 The 1980s and 1990s represent a critical historical juncture for Hong Kong as it underwent important social political and economic transformations This period of transition during which the state worked to redefine itself significantly altered the role and status of Hong Kong women Colonial modernity which arose through the integration of the colonial state the capitalist economy and the Hong Kong Chinese society proved favourable for some women but also had adverse consequences for others It constructed women of different class interests and shaped the gendered citizenship of its colonial subjects Gender and Change in Hong Kong analyzes women s changing identities and agencies amidst the complex interaction of three important forces namely globalization postcolonialism and Chinese patriarchy The chapters examine the issues from a number of perspectives to consider legal changes political participation the situation of working class and professional women sexuality religion and international migration This incisive volume offers sophisticated theoretical discussions and original empirical findings and will appeal to a wide range of scholars and students in gender and women s studies postcolonialism globalization and Asian studies

Mixed Blessings Amanda Whiting, Carolyn Evans, 2006-05-01 The essays in this volume explore some of the diverse and contradictory ways that the lives of women in the Asia Pacific region are shaped by two powerful regimes religion and law and by the interactions between them They show that for women laws customary colonial post independence and international and religions indigenous or introduced Buddhism Christianity Islam and Confucianism have been a mixed blessing These diverse legal systems and religious doctrines and institutions have variously denied women authority and the capacity to participate fully in the public organization of social political and religious life they have furthermore constructed gender and familial relations in ways that subordinate women Yet they have also offered promises of women s empowerment and provided rules and procedures norms values and interpretations of sacred traditions to deliver those emancipatory promises Each chapter is devoted to a single state first the history and current framework of the national legal system is introduced then the place of religion in the state is explained and finally by means of precise and detailed case studies or examples each author explores how these sometimes competing sometimes colluding regimes constructed women and how women interpreted this positioning and sought to resituate themselves
