

"A true pioneer in Christian fiction, Grace Livingston Hill wove faith-filled romances that have developed into timeless classics."

—Erica Vetsch, author of A Bride's Portrait of Dodge City, Kansas

"There it lay in all its dusky majesty. Her rose!"

When Marion Warren bought herself a season ticket to the symphony, she expected to bring a spark of new life into her world of drab routine, nothing more. But what she finds at the concert hall sends her life whirling into the unknown and makes her wish for the drab again. Each night a mysterious crimson rose rests on her seat with no sign of who left it—except perhaps the young man Marion saw watching her on opening night.

As the mystery of the roses looms large, wealthy Jefferson Lyman whisks into Marion's world, bringing with him a deepening love for Marion—and the jealousy of socialite Isabel Cresson. Jefferson searches for a way to win Marion's heart, but his efforts may be in vain. Soon Isabel's false charm begins to draw Marion into a dangerous social circle—threatening to end more than a budding romance.

GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL, known as the pioneer of Christian romance, wrote over one hundred books.

poems penned by the author Encompassing a variety of genres such as science fiction horror mystery and thriller the tales within offer an engaging read for readers of diverse ages and inclinations In the tranquil expanse of mist covered hills where murmurs reverberate through ancient woodlands and forgotten paths lead to enigmatic domains I am deeply impressed by the legacy of literary greats As I compose my debut work The Silence of The Hills I draw inspiration from the luminaries who have graced the stage of storytelling before me Shakespeare the adept chronicler of human emotions imparted to me the rhythms of passion His sonnets soliloquies and tragedies endure through the ages reminding us that love ambition and folly are the fundamental threads of our existence In his works I find both comfort and challenge a testament to the fact that language is a dynamic entity constantly evolving Coleridge the visionary wanderer bestowed upon us Kubla Khan and The Rime of the Ancient Mariner His verses transport us to fantastical landscapes where imagination intertwines with reality From him I learn the craft of infusing enchantment into the everyday of breathing life into the mundane Then there is Arthur Conan Doyle whose pipe smoking sleuth Sherlock Holmes strides through the foggy streets of London unraveling mysteries with razor sharp logic Doyle s meticulous attention to detail and the dance of deduction inspire me His stories remind me that every character every clue holds significance even the smallest inkling can alter the course of a narrative However it is not only these luminaries it is the collective murmur of countless storytellers the bards the balladeers the chroniclers who reverberate through time Their ink stained hands have shaped civilizations ignited revolutions and whispered secrets into the night They ve taught me that storytelling is a sacred covenant between writer and reader a ballet of revelation and concealment I aspire for my own writing to echo this harmony It carries the weight of their influence yet dances to its own cadence I aim for prose that breathes dialogue that crackles and imagery that lingers like dew on morning petals My characters imperfect hopeful beleaguered wander the same hills where I walk seeking answers redemption or simply a moment of respite As I undertake this literary odyssey I bear their torch cognizant of the responsibility The hills listen their silence heavy with anticipation Perhaps they harbor secrets of their own stories etched in stone whispered by winds awaiting a willing scribe Thus dear reader journey with me Together let us explore these mistenveloped hills where shadows meld with light and where the ink flows freely For in the silence there lies magic the magic of words of tales woven from stardust and yearning And so with reverence and passion I offer you The Silence of The Hills Note The Silence of The Hills is a work of fiction Any resemblance to actual events or locales is purely coincidental Sounak Ghosal Author Sky-blue is the Sapphire, Crimson the Rose John (Abbot of Ford.), Hilary Costello, 2006 Simple and direct John of Forde writes in a way that is also profound and often distinctly original He is a theologian with a flair for language that appeals to ordinary readers a monk in a very masculine world who is not afraid of deep emotional feelings Few other spiritual writers can achieve his poignancy without trailing into sentimentality Yet for seven hundred years John has remained largely unknown and ignored He passed much of his life at the Cistercian abbey of Forde in southwest England at the end of the twelfth century active in the Order and well known among his contemporaries Only with the publication of his sermons on the Song of Songs first in Latin and then in English has he become known to moderns even modern Cistercians Here in one volume is an introduction to his spirituality typical of his age and Order and yet ageless His charm for readers today lies in the genial simplicity of his style which speaks directly to the heart Hilary Costello OCSO 1926-2018 was a monk of Mount Saint Bernard Abbey in England where he served as guest master and the editor of the critical Latin edition of the Sermons of John of Ford on the Song of Songs

The Silence of Memory Adrian Gregory, 2014-03-04 This book examines how the British people came to terms with the massive trauma of the First World War Although the literary memory of the war has often been discussed little has been written on the public ceremonies on and around 11 November which dominated the public memory of the war in the inter war years This book aims to remedy the deficiency by showing the pre eminence of Armistice Day both in reflecting what people felt about the war and in shaping their memories of it It shows that this memory was complex rather than simple and that it was continually contested Finally it seeks to examine the impact of the Second World War on the memory of the First and to show how difficult it is to recapture the idealistic assumptions of a world that believed it had experienced the war to end all wars
