Desistance from Sexual Offending Kelly Richards, 2021-12-23 This book explores how Circles of Support and Accountability can reduce sexual reoffending The release of a notorious sex offender from prison strikes fear into members of the public Media coverage often provokes further panic casting such offenders as irredeemable monsters and ticking time bombs destined to continue preying on innocent children and women In the West governments have responded by enacting heavily punitive and exclusionary policies such as public sex offender registers indefinite detention and lifetime correctional supervision A radically different approach Circles of Support and Accountability CoSA emerged alongside these measures CoSA are groups of trained volunteers who collectively resist the exclusionary impulse instead actively supporting those with sexual offence convictions to reintegrate into communities Despite their seemingly counterintuitive nature the research is clear that CoSA reduce sexual reoffending far better than more popular draconian sex offender management policies However little is understood about how CoSA work This book begins to address this gap by proposing a new way of understanding how CoSA reduce sexual reoffending Drawing on 65 in depth interviews with CoSA participants it offers a new theoretically informed empirical explanation of CoSA s capacity to promote desistance from sexual offending and to turn those convicted of sexual offenders into law abiding and productive members of the community Ultimately it is a call to action demonstrating that we the community must play a more central role in integrating people with sexual offence convictions if we desire safer communities for our children and our selves This work illuminates new directions for research policy and practice and is essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of criminology and criminal justice restorative justice sexual violence and reentry

Practices of Reparations in International Criminal Justice Christoph Sperfeldt, 2022-07-07 Combining interdisciplinary techniques with original ethnographic fieldwork Christoph Sperfeldt examines the first attempts of international criminal courts to provide reparations to victims of mass atrocities The observations focus on two case studies the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia where Sperfeldt spent over ten years working at and around and the International Criminal Court s interventions in the Democratic Republic of Congo Enriched with first hand observations and an awareness of contextual dynamics this book directs attention to the social life of reparations that too often get lost in formal accounts of law and its institutions Sperfeldt shows that reparations are constituted and contested through a range of practices that produce change and give meaning to reparations Appreciating the nature and effects of these practices provides us with a deeper understanding of the discrepancies that exist between the reparations ideal and how it functions imperfectly in different contexts
