A Fundamental Mistake Graham Cliff, 2012-06-01 Does it puzzle you that despite ever increasing rules controls and counter measures antisocial behaviour is seemingly spiralling out of control Why have there been riots in Britain Why is law enforcement failing to make our society a better place in which to live Have our politicians lost the plot Are our values wrong A Fundamental Mistake explains why a change of direction is needed in society's thinking about how to get people to behave themselves it also offers a carefully argued strategy by which to achieve this The emphasis needs to shift away from coercion and punishment and towards inducement and reward The remarkable thing is that although we already have the necessary knowledge it's not put to good use Taking a fresh approach Graham Cliff draws on mainstream behavioural psychology and applied ethics to make his case for challenging some of our time honoured cultural assumptions and practices Be prepared to re think your position Despite the weightiness of the subject this is a book for everyone because it works up from first principles in a readily readable way No expertise is needed to follow the flow from the basics of human nature to the way our minds work then through the web of customs and rules that make up society on to government laws and punishment and finally to how and why things might be done differently Nobody will agree with everything that A Fundamental Mistake has to say because that's what debate is all about However it's as well to remember this when it comes to tackling antisocial behaviour it's not enough just to get tough we must get clever too

Race and Crime Shaun L. Gabbidon, Helen Taylor Greene, 2018-08-20 This is a great tool that provides not only historical perspective but also incorporates additional resources to help expand the student's ability to understand an issue and implications stemming from it Robbin Day Brooks Arizona State University Written by two of the most prominent criminologists in the field Race and Crime Fifth Edition takes an incisive look at the intersection of race ethnicity and the criminal justice system Authors Shaun L Gabbidon and Helen Taylor Greene offer students a panoramic perspective of race and crime by expertly balancing historical context with modern data and research in thought provoking discussions of contemporary issues Accessible and reader friendly this comprehensive text illuminates the continued importance of race and ethnicity in all aspects of the administration of justice New to the Fifth Edition Both Sides of the Debate boxes encourage student engagement and critical thinking as they explore both sides of controversial issues such as school shootings the Model Minority label affluenza eliminating peremptory challenges President Trump's judicial appointments the underreporting of hate crimes the increase of opioid use among black Americans and expanding the death penalty for opioid dealers Extensive updates around policing provides a foundational understanding of important issues such as policing and the use of force the Black Lives Matter movement the Blue Lives Matter movement the need for diversity in law enforcement traffic stops and the connection between immigration and policing Key court rulings are included along with updated discussions of racial disparities in plea bargains backstrikes of potential jurors wrongful convictions and intersectionality in death penalty decisions Important topics such as life after prison and the impact of felony disenfranchisement on minorities help contextualize the discussion of corrections Updated data tables such as crime and victimization trends hate crime incidents and juvenile crime victimization put the study of race and crime in complete context Discussions of the Trump Administration s policies capture the current state of crime and justice policies in the United States Updated data tables such as crime and victimization trends hate crime incidents and juvenile crime victimization put the study of race and crime in complete context for students
