Queer Activism in South African Education Dennis A. Francis, 2022-08-19 Offering a vital critical contribution to debates on gender sexuality and schooling in South Africa this book highlights how South African educational practices discourses and structures normalize cisheteronormativity along with how these are resisted within schools and through contemporary forms of activism Not only does it add fresh insights to the existing research literature on gender sexualities and schooling it also underscores the valuable contributions of queer and transgender social movements which have made influential legislative teaching learning and support contributions to education Drawing on ethnographic research with queer and transgender activists teachers school managers parents and school attending youth the book provides everyday real life quotes and observations offering a deeply critical contribution to the debates on gender and sexualities education and activism Using spatial and affect theories it troubles the assumptions that frame this field of research to make a novel contribution to the national and international literature and research The book provides research based insights for thinking about and calls for informed action to challenging cisheteronormativity within and beyond schools

Human rights in diverse education contexts J.P. Rossouw, Elda de Waal, Johan Beckmann, Johan Botha, Franciska Bothma, André du Plessis, Elize Küng, Nicholus Mollo, Ewelina Niemczyk, Louise Postma, Erika Serfontein, Marius Smit, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2019-12-12 The focus of this publication is on answering the central research question How can Human Rights be advanced with regard to different kinds of diversities and in different educational settings The publication pays special attention to the advancement of human rights in a variety of education related contexts in keeping with human rights as a declared national priority for both society at large and the education system One strategic priority of the Faculty of Education is research based on market requirements and needs This book strives towards meeting this expectation by directly aiming at building human rights and social justice in the South African society public schools and higher education institutions Adjudication in the education context of the constitutional values of dignity equality and freedom focusses regularly on learners The book highlights the value of education for full fledged citizenship by delineating what schooling should entail to inspire learners towards both claiming equal freedoms and rights and taking accountability for the responsibilities attached to citizenship

Transforming Transformation in Research and Teaching at South African Universities Rob Pattman, Ronelle Carolissen, 2018-12-21 What is transformation in contemporary South African higher education How can it be facilitated through research and pedagogic practices These questions are addressed in this edited collection by established academics and emerging research students from nine South African universities The chapters give us access to students worlds how they construct experience and navigate their complex spheres on and off campus By engaging with students as knowledge producers we transform popular ways of thinking about race gender class sexuality disability and age as singular and natural markers of difference and diversity Rather than taking diversity as fixed and rooted in nature we explore how diversity is imagined and lived in particular contexts on and off campus

The Routledge International Handbook of Life and Values Education in Asia John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J Kennedy, 2024-06-28 This Handbook provides a comprehensive look at the educational scope of life and values that characterize 21st century Asia as well as those values shared across cultures Some values are deeply resonant with the region s past while others reflect modernity and the new contexts in which Asian societies find themselves Exploring these values of different types and the way they are constructed in Eastern and Western contexts the contributors delve into the diversity of religious moral and social education to promote greater understanding across cultures While a range of values is identified here there is no single set of values that can be applied to all people in all contexts The time has long gone even for single societies when values can be imposed Yet this Handbook emphasizes both the extent and importance of values to individuals and their societies how they respond to these values may provide the key to better and more caring societies and to better lives for all Academics and teachers will find this Handbook resourceful because it raises important theoretical issues related to social values and their formation in distinctive contexts and provides novel insights into the diverse educational landscape in Asia Policymakers and educators will also find this text helpful in learning to think about new ways to improve the quality of people s lives

Troubling the Teaching and Learning of Gender and Sexuality Diversity in South African Education Dennis A. Francis, 2016-11-18 In this book Francis highlights the tension between inclusion and sexual orientation using this tension as an entry to explore how LGB youth experience schooling Drawing on research with teachers and LGB youth this book troubles the teaching and learning of sexuality diversity and by doing so provides a critical exploration and analysis of how curriculum pedagogy and policy reproduces compulsory heterosexuality in schools The book makes visible the challenges of teaching sexuality diversity in South African schools while highlighting its potential for rethinking conceptions of the social and cultural representations thereof Francis links questions of policy and practice to wider issues of society sexuality social justice and highlights its implications for teaching and learning The author encourages policy makers teachers and scholars of sexualities and education to develop further questions and informed action to challenge heteronormativity and heterosexism

What's a Cellphilm? Katie MacEntee, Casey Burkholder, Joshua Schwab-Cartas, 2016-07-27 What is a Cellphilm explores cellphone video production for its contributions to participatory visual research There is a rich history of integrating participants videos into community based research and activism However a reliance on camcorders and digital cameras has come under criticism for exacerbating unequal power relations between researchers and their collaborators Using cellphones in participatory visual research suggests a new way forward by working with accessible everyday technology and integrating existing media practices Cellphones are everywhere these days People use mobile technology to visually document and share their lives This new era of democratised media practices inspired Jonathan Dockey and Keyan Tomaselli to coin the term cellphilm cellphone film The term signals the coming together of different technologies on one handheld device and the emerging media culture based on people's use of cellphones to create share and watch media Chapters present practical examples of cellphilm research conducted in Canada Hong Kong Mexico the Netherlands and South Africa Together these contributions consider several important methodological questions such as Is cellphilm a new research method or is it repackaged participatory video What theories inform the analysis of cellphilms What might the significance of frequent advancements in cellphone technology be on cellphilms How does our existing use of cellphones inform the research process and cellphilm aesthetics What are the ethical dimensions of cellphilm use dissemination and archiving These questions are taken up from interdisciplinary perspectives by established and new academic contributors from education Indigenous studies communication film and media studies

Malindi,Johnnie Hay,Thabo Makhalemele,2024-02-23 The COVID 19 pandemic and the restrictions that came with it led to unprecedented disruptions in learner development and put them at risk of poor developmental outcomes It is thus important that the extent of the disruption on their development and the support needs of learners be investigated Researching the impact of the disruption should focus on holistic development In this book the authors use multiple research approaches and methods of gathering data in their respective fields to examine the impact of the disruption and determine the support needs of learners Data gathered through the different methods are processed and findings are presented The findings have implications for both practice and future research in the fields of inclusive education learner support educational psychology movement education Life Orientation and curriculum development

Career Development and Systems Theory Wendy Patton, Mary McMahon, 2014-05-12 Career Development and Systems Theory Connecting Theory and Practice offers practitioners researchers and students a comprehensive introduction to and overview of career theory introduces the Systems Theory Framework of career development and demonstrates its considerable contemporary and innovative application to practice A number of authors have identified the framework as one of a small number of significant innovations in the career development literature The Systems Theory Framework of career development was developed to provide coherence to the career development field by providing a comprehensive conceptualisation of the many existing theories and concepts relevant to understanding career development It is not designed to be a theory of career development rather systems theory is introduced as the basis for an overarching or metatheoretical framework within which all concepts of career development described in the plethora of career theories can be usefully positioned and utilised in both theory and practice It has been applied to the career development of children adolescents and women Since its first publication the Systems Theory Framework has been the basis of numerous publications focusing on theoretical application and integration practice and research with a growing number of these by authors other than the framework developers Its application across cultures also has been emphasised The theoretical and practical unity of the Systems Theory Framework makes this book a worthy addition to the professional libraries of practitioners researchers and students new to or experienced in the field of career development

Human Rights Literacies Cornelia Roux, Anne Becker, 2018-12-29 This book adds impetus to the nexus between human rights human rights education and material reality The dissonance between these aspects is of growing concern for most human rights educators in various social contexts The first part of the book opens up new discourses and presents new ontologies and epistemologies from scholars in human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to critique and or justify the understandings of human rights complex applications Today's rapidly changing social contexts and new languages attempting to understand ongoing dehumanization and violations put enormous pressure on higher education educators individuals working in social sciences policy makers and scholars engaged in curricula making The second part demonstrates how global interactions between citizens from different countries with diverse understandings of human rights from developed and developing democracies question the link between human rights and it's in exclusive Western philosophies Continuing inhumane actions around the globe reflect the failure of human rights law and human rights education in schools higher education and society at large The book shows that human rights education is no longer a blueprint for understanding human rights and its universal or contextual values presented for multicomplexial societies The final chapters argue for new ontologies and epistemologies of human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to open up difficult conversations and to give space to dissonant and disruptive discourses The many opportunities for human rights education and literacies lies in these conversations Healthcare Ethics for Healthcare Practitioners Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-05-24 Discusses foundational and applied ethics in clinical settings addressing dilemmas faced by doctors nurses and allied professionals ENGLISH FOR INTERNATIONAL
