Experience And Judgment Studies In Phenomenology And Existential Philosophy:

Experience and Judgment Edmund Husserl, 1975-06-01 In Experience and Judgment Husserl explores the problems of contemporary philosophy of language and the constitution of logical forms. He argues that even at its most abstract logic demands an underlying theory of experience. Husserl sketches out a genealogy of logic in three parts: Part I examines prepredicative experience; Part II the structure of predicative thought as such; and Part III the origin of general conceptual thought. This volume provides an articulate restatement of many of the themes of Husserlian phenomenology. The Crisis of European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology Edmund Husserl, 1970 The Crisis of European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology Husserl's last great work is important both for its content and for the influence it has had on other philosophers. In this book, which remained unfinished at his death, Husserl attempts to forge a union between phenomenology and existentialism. Husserl provides not only a history of philosophy but a philosophy of history. As he says in Part I, 'The genuine spiritual struggles of European humanity as such take the form of struggles between the philosophies that is between the skeptical philosophies or nonphilosophies which retain the word but not the task and the actual and still vital philosophies. But the vitality of the latter consists in the fact that they are struggling for their true and genuine meaning and thus for the meaning of a genuine humanity.' Sociology, Ethnomethodology and Experience Mary F.

Rogers, 1983-11-25 In this volume, first published in 1983, Professor Rogers examines the usefulness of a phenomenological approach to sociology. Her broad purpose is to demonstrate the theoretical and methodological advantages phenomenological sociology holds. Thus she offers a selective introductory exposition of phenomenology, highlighting its relevance for social scientists and undercutting the notion of phenomenology as a non-scientific, subjective or esoteric method of study. The Essentials of Husserl: Studies in Transcendental Phenomenology V. C. Thomas, 2023-01-31 Known as the founder of the phenomenological movement, this book examines Husserl's various phases of phenomenology during his realist, transcendental, static, genetic, and post-Crisis of European Sciences periods. Consisting of ten carefully researched and thoroughly examined essays, this book describes Husserl's concepts and ideas through numerous examples and diagrammatic representations in a bid to elucidate the nuances of phenomenology for its readers. Valuable insights into Husserl's realist phase are made in the chapter on Meaning, and the chapters on Natural Attitude, Epoch, and Phenomenological Reduction, while the chapter on Noesis-Noema symbolizes the transcendental phase. Thomas points out Husserl's transition from static to genetic phenomenology in the chapter on Lived Body, with the chapters on Lifeworld and the Notion of the Other later focusing on this perspective. Husserl's entire phenomenological space, including his pre-phenomenological period, are covered in the chapter on Lived Time. However, the chapters on Phenomenology, The Study of Self and Beyond, and Consciousness and Intentionality are the fulcrums upon which the edifice of phenomenology turns. The final chapter on Presuppositionlessness in phenomenology expresses Thomas's personal enquiries into Husserl's contention that phenomenology is a presuppositionless science This book will be of particular interest to research scholars and post graduate students in the areas of Philosophy and Social Sciences as well as those interested in contemporary Western Philosophy and the history and development of Ideas

Adorno's Nonidentical and Derrida's Différance - For a Resurrection of Negative Dialectics Stefan Zenklusen, 2020-11-06
The virulent anti Hegelianism of French poststructuralism and its difficult confrontation with Jürgen Habermas has long obscured the closeness of Jacques Derrida's différance to Theodor W Adorno's Nonidentical Taking the overarching theme of identity and difference as a guide we can peel apart what unites and separates these two thinkers In so doing certain de-realizing effects of Derrida's entrapment in signs reveal themselves By contrast Adorno's social and cultural diagnosis when extrapolated to a post Fordian context is astonishingly fruitful Attempts to trivialize negative dialectics as a model of intellectual self understanding from a past age or as an esthetic reserve of ways of life are untenable Edmund Husserl Bibliography Steven Spileers, 2013-03-09 This bibliography contains the publications of Husserl and the main secondary literature on Husserl from Husserl's earliest publication 1887 till today 1997 As the collection of material was concluded in June 1997 the list of publications for the year 1997 is of course incomplete In this bibliography publications in the following languages have been included German English French Italian Spanish Portuguese and Dutch for both primary and secondary literature Since this bibliography has been based primarily on the consultation of the included documents and not restricted to copying already existing bibliographies it was not possible to include publications in languages other than those mentioned The bibliography has been constructed in the following way 1 The list of Husserl's works and secondary literature by individual authors is preceded by a list of all edited volumes in which a text by or on Husserl is published This list is ordered chronologically and runs from 1921 till 1997 inclusive Edited volumes of the same year are classified according to language and this in the order mentioned above German English French etc Edited volumes with a title in more than one language are classified according to the above order of languages this of course concerns only the title of the edited volume not the titles of the individual contributions This order is maintained throughout the other parts of the bibliography

Inventing Philosophy's Other Jonathan Strassfeld, 2024-05-31 The history of phenomenology and its absence in American philosophy Phenomenology and so called continental philosophy receive scant attention in most American philosophy departments despite their foundational influence on intellectual movements such as existentialism post structuralism and deconstruction In Inventing Philosophy's Other Jonathan Strassfeld explores this absence revealing how everyday institutional practices played a determinative role in the development of twentieth century academic discourse Conventional wisdom holds that phenomenology's absence from the philosophical mainstream in the United States reflects its obscurity or even irrelevance to America's philosophical traditions Strassfeld refutes this story as he traces phenomenology's reception in America delivering the first systematic historical study of the movement in the United States He examines the lives and works of Marjorie Grene Alfred Schütz Hubert Dreyfus and Iris Marion Young among others while also providing a fresh

introduction to phenomenological philosophy

The Phenomenological Critique of Mathematisation and the Question of Responsibility Lubica Učník, Ivan Chvatík, Anita Williams, 2014-11-19

This edited collection discusses phenomenological critiques of formalism and their relevance to the problem of responsibility and the life world. The book deals with themes of formalization of knowledge in connection to the life world, the natural world, the history of science, and our responsibility for both our epistemic claims and the world in which we live. Readers will discover critiques of formalization, the life world, and responsibility, and a collation and comparison of Patočka's and Husserl's work on these themes. Considerable literature on Husserl is presented here, and the two themes of epistemic responsibility and the life world are discussed together. This work specifically emphasizes the interrelatedness of these existential aspects of his work: self-responsibility and the crisis as not only epistemological but also related to human life. This volume also introduces Jan Patočka to English-speaking readers as a phenomenologist in his own right. Patočka shows us, in particular, the significance of the modern abyss between our thinking and the world. Readers will discover that this abyss is of concern for our everyday experience because it leads to a rupture in our understanding of the world between the world of our living and its scientific construct. We see that Patočka continually emphasized the relevance of Husserl's work to existential questions relating to human responsibility and the life world, which he admits is left largely implicit in Husserl's work. This edited collection will spark discussion on the question of responsibility against the backdrop of formalized knowledge, which is increasingly inaccessible to human understanding. Despite the complexity of some of the analyzed ideas, this book discusses these themes in a clear and readable way. This work is scholarly exact in its discussion and authoritative in its reading but at the same time accessible to anyone motivated to understand these debates.

Non-affirmative Theory of Education and Bildung

Michael Uljens, 2023-07-14. Interpreting the modern heritage of Bildung in connection to education theory, this open access volume explores non-affirmative theory of education and Bildung as a language of education for the 21st century. In this Bildung-centered view of education, discerning thought on knowledge and values are critical objectives of education. To promote these aims, education practice must recognize but not affirm existing conditions or future ideals but instead pedagogically summon the student to self-directed critical treatment of the contents. Drawing on contemporary developments of modern education theory, especially as developed by Dietrich Benner in Berlin, the volume highlights how educative teaching aims at supporting the growth of the individual as a person and citizen. The volume shows how it is possible to identify a position beyond education, either as a mere transformative or a reproductive power. Instead of such an instrumentalism, education is seen as a critical societal practice necessary for reflexive action and democracy. In different ways, the chapters demonstrate how non-affirmative theory offers an alternative to contemporary neo-liberal and conservative policies. The non-affirmative approach offers a strong education theory relationally connecting the interactive level of teaching, studying, and learning with the societal level and educational governance. Non-affirmative theory on education and

Bildung provides an elaborate point of departure for empirical research on teaching and educational leadership teacher education and policy making In five sections the volume highlights how non affirmative education theory relate to Didaktik educative teaching school didactics democratic education and social justice The approach is also analysed in relation to phenomenology sociology hermeneutics cultural historical activity theory discursive institutionalism empirical research educational leadership and governance and 21st century competencies Chapter On Affirmativity and Non affirmativity in the Context of Theories of Education and Bildung is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution

By examining the stunning stone buildings and dynamic spaces of the royal estate of Chinchero Nair brings to light the rich complexity of Inca architecture This investigation ranges from the paradigms of Inca scholarship and a summary of Inca cultural practices to the key events of Topa Inca s reign and the many individual elements of Chinchero s extraordinary built environment What emerges are the subtle often sophisticated ways in which the Inca manipulated space and architecture in order to impose their authority identity and agenda The remains of grand buildings as well as a series of deft architectural gestures in the landscape reveal the unique places that were created within the royal estate and how one space deeply informed the other These dynamic settings created private places for an aging ruler to spend time with a preferred wife and son while also providing impressive spaces for imperial theatrics that reiterated the power of Topa Inca the choice of his preferred heir and the ruler s close relationship with sacred forces This careful study of architectural details also exposes several false paradigms that have profoundly misguided how we understand Inca architecture including the belief that it ended with the arrival of Spaniards in the Andes Instead Nair reveals how amidst the entanglement and violence of the European encounter an indigenous town emerged that was rooted in Inca ways of understanding space place and architecture and that paid homage to a landscape that defined home for Topa Inca Eco-Anxiety and Planetary Hope

Douglas A. Vakoch,Sam Mickey,2022-09-15 This timely volume examines the conflict between human individual life and larger forces that are not controllable Drawing on recent literature in phenomenological and existential psychology it calls for a more nuanced understanding of the human predicament Focusing on the co occurring crises of climate change and the COVID 19 epidemic it explores the nature of widespread anxiety and the long term human consequences It calls for an expansion of current research that would include the arts and humanities for critical insights into how this essential conflict between humanity and nature may be reconciled Books for College Libraries: Humanities Association of College and
