State Succession in Cultural Property Andrzej Jakubowski, 2015-06-04 The demise and rebirth of states brings with it a set of very complicated legal issues among which is the question of how to deal with that state's cultural heritage whether within its boundaries or not Through a historical analysis of state dissolution and succession and its impact on cultural heritage from 1815 to present day the work will identify guiding principles to facilitate the conclusion of agreements on the status of cultural property following the succession of states Studying primary materials and evidence of state practice that has not been available before the work will propose a novel approach to state succession from the perspective of the emerging interest of the international community to safeguard cultural heritage State succession is one of the most obscure areas of international law since its rules are characterized either by their absence or their inconsistency This book explores to what extent the principles and practice of state succession correspond to the evolution of the concept of cultural heritage in international law It provides an extensive analysis of the alternations of the international practice and legal doctrine of state succession to tangible cultural heritage since the formation of the European nation states in the nineteenth century through the experience of decolonization to the post Cold War dissolution of multinational states The book has been awarded Prize of the Professor Manfred Lachs Foundation and Kozminski University in Warsaw for the best monograph in public international law published by a Polish author in 2015 in the category of debuts On 24 November 2016 the book State Succession in Cultural Property by Andrzej Jakubowski was awarded the Prize of the Professor Manfred Lachs Foundation and Kozminski University in Warsaw for the best monograph in public international law published by a Polish author in 2015 in the category of debuts

A Natural Theology of the Arts Anthony Monti, 2017-07-05 A Natural Theology of the Arts contends that the arts are theological by their very nature and not simply when they are explicitly religious thereby constituting a distinctive kind of natural theology Borrowing from science the stance of critical realism to justify truth claims in art and theology it argues that works of art are complex metaphors that convey the real presence of God even when not labelled as such Citing numerous examples from literature painting and music including Shakespeare's King Lear Vermeer's Young Woman with a Water Jug Rembrandt's Return of the Prodigal Son and Stephen Cleobury's experiences performing Bach's St Matthew Passion and Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb the author concludes that works of art anticipate the new creation thereby suggesting a Trinitarian account of the God present in the creation and reception of such works

Constance Fenimore Woolson's Subversive Politics Victoria Brehm, 2023-05-22 This seminal study reveals how Constance Fenimore Woolson participated in debates on nineteenth century political topics considered the province of men She commented on the most important issues of her time monetary policy post Reconstruction legal decisions racial justice and interracial marriage women's rights religious hypocrisy environmental destruction destabilizing international developments and the moral character of the nation The innovative essays in this book introduce her techniques and the political concerns that inspired her complicated art encouraging scholars to begin the process of rereading and reanalyzing Woolson's oeuvre to understand the compelling allegories and satires she created The oppositional intertextual and referential techniques she developed allowed her to enter contested political conversations about compelling nineteenth century problems like few women of her century sometimes making her work political commentary as much as fiction

Through the Dark Field Susie Paulik Babka, 2017-01-13 Theological discourse in the West has consistently valued the word over the image Aesthetics which discerns the criteria and value of the beautiful and what pleases the senses is the discipline that prioritizes sensual intelligence over the rational this book advocates a reconsideration of the doctrine of the incarnation through an aesthetics of vulnerability in which the ethical optics of attention to the vulnerable other becomes the standpoint in which to ponder the significance of God became human Relying on such diverse thinkers as Emmanuel Levinas Maurice Blanchot Karl Rahner and Masao Abe Susie Paulik Babka explores visual art images and poetry as theological sources designating what Blanchot called a region where impossibility is no longer deprivation but affirmation

Connected at the Roots Jerry Camery-Hoggatt,2025-02-25 Written for beginning seminary students this interdisciplinary study argues that recent advances in the social and cognitive sciences demonstrate that knowing involves not only our physical bodies but also our tools our communities and our social institutions As important as these discoveries are for understanding general cognition they are even more important for understanding the nature of faith The Bible is rich with metaphors that emphasize the living church as a source of wisdom and spiritual depth We always need other Christians if our faith is to be both rich and deep We are like groves of aspen trees individual trees that are connected at the roots

The Masterpieces of Botticelli (1446-1510) Sandro Botticelli,1910 The Unconscious Roots of Creativity Kathryn Madden,2016-10-27 From whence spring the sparks of creativity It is to this very question that the field of depth psychology especially that of C G Jung and his intellectual descendants has much to contribute Just as the Muses were the offspring of Mnemosyne the goddess of memory our memories are the ancestors of our creativity that finds its multifaceted expression in the written word image theater dance and music The Unconscious Roots of Creativity seeks to push the investigation into that domain of memory that is beyond our conscious reach With articles from 16 contributors the red thread running through each of the offerings in this volume is that whatever its ultimate expression the creative impulse has its roots deep in the psyche Edited By Kathryn Madden with articles by Linda Carter Anna Maria Costantino Carol Thayer Cox Leonard Cruz Lisa Raye Garlock James Hollis Naomi Ruth Lowinsky Ian Livingston Kathryn Madden Jordan S Potash Susan Rowland Murray Stein Ann Ulanov Tjeu van den Berk Robin van Loben Sels and Heidi S Volf The Spirit of Truth Myk Habets,2010-03-01 Among the theological loci pneumatology is one of the most stimulating exciting and difficult topics to study it is also one of the most rewarding The identity and mission of the Holy Spirit is pervasive throughout Scripture and the Great Tradition and within contemporary Christianity it is one of the most popular topics currently being explored Here ten scholars present twelve essays spanning biblical hermeneutical theological and practical disciplines The result is not an evangelical pneumatology in systematic fashion nor is it a comprehensive theology of the Holy Spirit Rather this volume presents explorations in pneumatology from a variety of evangelical scholars working in varying contexts mostly the South Pacific basin but each wrestling equally with what the Spirit of Truth is saying to the churches today This is a work of outstanding scholarship with essays by Canadian theologian Gary Badcock and a cast of established and emerging Kiwi or New Zealand theologians which gives the work a unique contextual flavor alongside its ecumenical and evangelical commitment A Theology of Artistic Sensibilities John Dillenberger,2004-10-19 For most of history argues John Dillenberger the visual arts were for better or worse part of the very fabric of the life and thought of the church But with the Reformation and the Counter Reformation a major change took place Protestant rejection of the visual was matched in Roman Catholicism by the reduction of its formative power While the visual arts dropped out of the lives of Protestant churches they became a memory rather than a source of ennoblement or power in the Roman Catholic Church Thus in different but allied ways Protestants and Catholics lost the power of the visual Part art history part historical theology and part theological reflection this book is both an argument and a program for the recovery of the visual arts in the life of the church for reclaiming seeing as part of religious perception It offers a theological understanding of the visual and provides a basis upon which the visual arts may again be incorporated into Protestantism and reinvigorated in Roman Catholicism The first part is devoted to historical reconstruction exploring those moments in Western history in which the relation between religion and the arts was in ferment Part 2 is given to contemporary delineation and analysis of spiritual perceptions in modern American painting and sculpture of modern church art and architecture and of the changing views of contemporary theologians toward the visual arts Citing David Tracy Karl Rahner Langdon Gilkey and others as examples Dillenberger argues that contemporary theology is moving away from the modern rationalistic understanding of theological analogy to one far closer to the arts Part 3 is constructive developing a theological perspective that demands and includes the visual arts and suggesting ways in which this can be accomplished in pastoral and theological education The world of art says Professor Dillenberger is more aware of the role of religion in the arts than the world of religion is of art Thus it is time for the church to resume its historic association with the visual arts albeit in analogous rather than repristinating ways

Practical Theology Beyond the Empirical Turn Heather Walton, 2025-07-31 Practical Theology Beyond the Empirical Turn offers a sustained critical interrogation of the turn towards social research and methodologies in Practical Theology which has transformed the discipline over the past forty years It places the discipline s current research practices within the context of wider theoretical and methodological developments and the climate disaster The work maintains that current circumstances require a radical reassessment of the goals and processes of practical theological research and that artistic and creative methods must be part of this transformation Heather Walton embodies her understanding of the vocation of the discipline in reflective and creative modes of expression This work is essential reading for all those researching writing or teaching Practical Theology today from stately Classical to minimalist Modern arguing that the stylistic choices of a society can represent both its cherished ideals and the qualities it desperately lacks On an individual level de Botton has deep sympathy for our need to see our selves reflected in our surroundings he demonstrates with great wisdom how buildings just like friends can serve as guardians of our identity Worrying about the shape of our sofa or the colour of our walls might seem self indulgent but de Botton considers the hopes and fears we have for our homes at a new level of depth and insight When shopping for furniture or remodelling the kitchen we don't just consider functionality but also the major questions of aesthetics and the philosophy of art What is beauty Can beautiful surroundings make us good Can beauty bring happiness The buildings we find beautiful de Botton concludes are those that represent our ideas of a meaningful life The Architecture of Happiness marks a return to what Alain does best taking on a subject whose allure is at once tantalizing and a little forbidding and offering to readers a completely beguiling and original exploration of the subject As he did with Proust philosophy and travel now he does with architecture

God, Science and the Universe John Swanson, 2010-03 No religion that claims to be relevant in today's world can ignore the truths that science teaches us Nor can it ignore the spiritual values and teachings of past generations The deep religious heritage of humanity is like a pirate's buried treasure chest The ancient chest decays into rotten wood and rusty iron but the precious jewels inside remain as fresh as the day they were buried They need only to be reclaimed and then placed in a fresh container The same is true for our religious heritage Religion today is undergoing a radical transformation that is affecting all aspects of our lives This book presents a synthesis between traditional values and our changing understanding of the universe We live in an age of science and technology that profoundly affects the way we see things

God Science and the Universe presents the outline for a new faith grounded in the natural world
