

CHILDREN'S MODERN FIRST EDITIONS

Following on from his Modern First Editions: Their Value to Collectors (now in its third edition), Joseph Connolly turns his attention to first editions of twentieth-century children's books; there has never before been a book on the subject, and by virtue of its pioneering nature it opens up all sorts of avenues not only for established collectors of children's books, but also for mainstream modern editions collectors and interested beginners as well. Scores of post-war and contemporary children's authors are catalogued here for the first time, and so underrated are many of them at present that much of their work is to be had for between £5 and £10. Here too you will encounter all the established greats such as Beatrix Potter (a first edition of Peter Rabbit will now fetch £3000), J.M. Barrie, Arthur Ransome, A.A. Milne and Roald Dahl, as well as the creators of such immortals as Puddington, Rupert, Billy Bunter, the Wizard of Oz, Bambi, William Tinsin, Mary Poppins, Jennings, Dr Doolittle, Asterix, Orlando, Noddy and Worzel Gummidge.

Joseph Connolly sets out the general subject of collecting modern books in the informative and entertaining introduction, and then focuses on the specialised business of children's books. Under each author entry is listed every book in chronological order, together with date, illustrator, British and American publishers and a separate valuation for every single title.

The book is generously illustrated with important and attractive examples of dust-wrapper art, and is crammed with tips on what to collect and how. Like its predecessor and companion, Children's Modern First Editions is destined to become the definitive work in the field.
