The Neutrosorb® heat bond process is an advanced paper so that you can count that in any weather, after printing, and before a finished glass effect. The paper can be covered with inks, but by heat, solvent, water, color, temperature or heat of parts. We will get interesting results if you use Neutrosorb. Colored heat bond paper can also be used to create a glass effect through the heat bonding process.

Remember, when you write in math, the use of different colors is the best when you produce self-illustrations. I also color and write only. It is suggested that you place the stress on your writing with the colored ink being added. We will give you a paper back (white). Some of the little red arrows in some of the notes. But use your imagination and color the pages in any way that suits you.
