Puerto Rican Citizenship and Cultural Nationalism J. Font-Guzmán, 2014-01-14 Drawing from in depth interviews with a group of Puerto Ricans who requested a certificate of Puerto Rican citizenship legal and historical documents and official reports not publicly accessible Jacqueline Font Guzmán shares how some Puerto Ricans construct and experience their citizenship and national identity at the margins of the US nation Carceral Citizens Caroline M. Parker, 2025-02-10 A nuanced take on how carceral expansions are changing labor and social life In Carceral Citizens anthropologist Caroline M. Parker offers an ethnographic portrait of therapeutic communities in Puerto Rico the oldest colony in the Americas As nonprofits nested within the carceral state therapeutic communities serve as reeducation and recovery centers for the mostly male drug offenders who serve out their sentences engaged in manual labor and prayer The most surprising aspect of these centers however is that their graduates often remain long after the completion of their term working as self appointed peer counselors in a mixture of volunteer and low wage positions Parker seeks to explain this dynamic by showing how in these therapeutic communities criminalized men find new and meaningful ways of living in the shadow of the prison Through their participation in the day to day functioning of the centers they discover and cultivate alternative forms of belonging livelihood and citizenship despite living within the restrictions of the carceral state Situating her study against the backdrop of Puerto Rico's colonial history and with findings that extend across Latin America Parker challenges common assumptions about confinement labor and rehabilitation By delving into lives shaped by the convergence of imperialism the carceral state and self help she offers a fresh understanding of the transformations of labor and social life brought about by mass incarceration

Early Puerto Rican Cinema and Nation Building Naida Garc a Crespo, 2019-06-07 Early Puerto Rican Cinema and Nation Building focuses on the processes of Puerto Rican national identity formation as seen through the historical development of cinema on the island between 1897 and 1940 Anchoring her work in archival sources in film technology economy and education Naida Garc a Crespo argues that Puerto Rico s position as a stateless nation allows for a fresh understanding of national cinema based on perceptions of productive cultural contributions rather than on citizenship or state structures This book aims to contribute to recently expanding discussions of cultural networks by analyzing how Puerto Rican cinema navigates the problems arising from the connection and or disjunction between nation and state The author argues that Puerto Rico s position as a stateless nation puts pressure on traditional conceptions of national cinema which tend to rely on assumptions of state support or a bounded nation state She also contends that the cultural and business practices associated with early cinema reveal that transnationalism is an integral part of national identities and their development Garc a Crespo shows throughout this book that the development and circulation of cinema in Puerto Rico illustrate how the national is built from transnational connections Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

 ii Neil Stevens Legitimizing Empire Faye Caronan, 2015-05-30 When the United States acquired the Philippines and Puerto Rico it reconciled its status as an empire with its anticolonial roots by claiming that it would altruistically establish democratic institutions in its new colonies Ever since Filipino and Puerto Rican artists have challenged promises of benevolent assimilation and portray U S imperialism as both self interested and unexceptional among empires Faye Caronan s examination interprets the pivotal engagement of novels films performance poetry and other cultural productions as both symptoms of and resistance against American military social economic and political incursions Though the Philippines became an independent nation and Puerto Rico a U S commonwealth both remain subordinate to the United States Caronan s juxtaposition reveals two different yet simultaneous models of U S neocolonial power and contradicts American exceptionalism as a reluctant empire that only accepts colonies for the benefit of the colonized and global welfare Her analysis meanwhile demonstrates how popular culture allows for alternative narratives of U S imperialism but also functions to contain those alternatives Puerto Rican Citizen Lorrin Thomas, 2010-06-15 By the end of the 1920s just ten years after the Jones Act first made them full fledged Americans more than 45 000 native Puerto Ricans had left their homes and entered the United States citizenship papers in hand forming one of New York City s most complex and distinctive migrant communities In Puerto Rican Citizen Lorrin Thomas for the first time unravels the many tensions historical racial political and economic that defined the experience of this group of American citizens before and after World War II Building its incisive narrative from a wide range of archival sources interviews and first person accounts of Puerto Rican life in New York this book illuminates the rich history of a group that is still largely invisible to many scholars At the center of Puerto Rican Citizen are Puerto Ricans own formulations about political identity the responses of activists and ordinary migrants to the failed promises of American citizenship and their expectations of how the American state should address those failures Complicating our understanding of the discontents of modern liberalism of race relations beyond black and white and of the diverse conceptions of rights and identity in American life Thomas s book transforms the way we understand this community s integral role in shaping our sense of citizenship in twentieth century America Diasporic Ruptures , 2007-01-01 Diasporic Ruptures Globality Migrancy and Expressions of Identity lies at the intersections of various processes emerging from globalization border crossings transnationalism identity formations Carefully selected and placed in two volumes the essays here represent works of both well seasoned scholars as well as emerging writers academics and intellectuals The volumes critically examine various manifestations of the trend now commonly known as globalization manifestations that many diasporic communities immigrants and people from all walks of life experience They also illuminate recent political social economic and technological developments that are taking place in a rapidly changing world Volume One offers sophisticated insights into the nature of contemporary formations of diasporic life internationalism and hybrid identities The volume asks bold questions around what it means to live in constantly shifting boundaries of nationality identity and citizenship The type of methodological discursive and experiential awareness promoted by this work helps us understand how millions of people face the challenge of living in a globalizing world it also fosters a consciousness of how globalization itself functions differently in different environments Volume Two see Volume 7 in Transgressions Cultural Studies and Education addresses additional and more nuanced questions around culture race sexuality migration displacement and resistance It also explores certain epistemological and methodological fallacies regarding conventional articulations of nation state nationalism and the local global nexus The volume seeks to answer questions such as What are the meanings and connotations of displacement in a rapidly globalizing world What are some dilemmas and challenges around notions of cultural hybridity linguistic diversity and a sense of belonging What is the meaning of home in diaspora and the meaning of diaspora at home Together the volumes raise many topics that will be of immense interest to scholars across disciplines and general readers While celebrating the increasing acknowledgment of difference and diversity in recent times this work reminds us of the ongoing ramifications of dominant structures of inequality relations of power and issues of inclusion and exclusion This work offers different ways of thinking writing and talking about globalization and the processes that emerge from it
