Cities And Photography Cities And Photography:

Cities and Photography Jane Tormey, 2013 Cities and Photography discusses the relationship between people and the city visualized in photographs. It explores how photographs display attitudes, agency, and vision in the way a city is documented and imagined. It provides a visually focused examination of the city and urbanism for a range of different disciplines across the social sciences and humanities: photography and fine art. This book offers different perspectives from which to view social, political, and cultural ideas about the city. It provides introductions to the theories useful to photographers addressing issues relating to urbanism and to key photographic themes that inform cultural issues central to a discussion of urbanism, e.g., the street, the everyday, social conditions. A series of case studies featuring international and contemporary photographic projects provides a means with which to examine a range of issues, for example, regeneration and displacement, power and the institution, visions of modernity and post modernity, psycho-geographical space. Cities and Photography interprets the city as a space that we inhabit on different conceptual and physical levels and gives emphasis to how people operate within, relate to, and activate the city via construction, habitation, and disruption.

Cities and Photography Jane Tormey, 2013-01-17 Photographs display attitudes, agency, and vision in the way cities are documented and imagined. Cities and Photography explores the relationship between people and the city visualized in photographs. It provides a visually focused examination of the city and urbanism for a range of different disciplines across the social sciences and humanities: photography and fine art. This text offers different perspectives from which to view social, political, and cultural ideas about the city and urbanism through both verbal discussion and photographic representation. It provides introductions to theoretical conceptions of the city that are useful to photographers addressing urban issues as well as discussing themes that have preoccupied photographers and informed cultural issues central to a discussion of city. This text interprets the city as a spatial network that we inhabit on different conceptual, psychological, and physical levels and gives emphasis to how people operate within, relate to, and activate the city via construction, habitation, and disruption. Cities and Photography aims to demonstrate the potential of photography as a contributor to commentary and analytical frameworks: what does photography as a medium provide for a vision of city and what can photographs tell us about cities, histories, attitudes, and ideas. This introductory text is richly illustrated with case studies and over 50 photographs summarizing complex theory and analysis with application to specific examples. Emphasis is given to international contemporary photographic projects to provide focus for the discussion of theoretical conceptions of the city through the analysis of photographic interpretation and commentary. This text will be of great appeal to those interested in Photography, Urban Studies, and Human Geography.

Signs and Cities Madhu Dubey, 2007-11-01 Signs and Cities is the first book to consider what it means to speak of a postmodern moment in African American literature Dubey argues that for African American studies postmodernity best names a period beginning in the early 1970s marked by acute disenchantment with the promises of urban modernity and of print literacy Dubey shows how black novelists from the last three decades have reconsidered the modern urban legacy and thus articulated a distinctly African American strain of postmodernism She argues that novelists such as Octavia Butler Samuel Delany Toni Morrison Gloria Naylor Ishmael Reed Sapphire and John Edgar Wideman probe the disillusionment of urban modernity through repeated recourse to tropes of the book and scenes of reading and writing Ultimately she demonstrates that these writers view the book with profound ambivalence construing it as an urban medium that cannot recapture the face to face communities assumed by oral and folk forms of expression

Postcolonial African Cities Fassil Demissie, 2013-09-13 The book focuses on contemporary African cities caught in the contradiction of an imperial past and postcolonial present The essays explore the cultural role of colonial architecture and urbanism in the production of meanings in the inscription of power and discipline as well as in the dynamic construction of identities It is in these new dense urban spaces with all their contradictions that urban Africans are reworking their local identities building families and creating autonomous communities made fragile by neo liberal states in a globalizing world The book offers a range of scholarly interpretations of the new forms of urbanity It engages with issues themes and topics including colonial legacies postcolonial intersections cosmopolitan spaces urban reconfigurations and migration which are at the heart of the continuing debate about the trajectory of contemporary African cities The collection discusses contemporary African cities as diverse as Dar Es Salaam Dakar Johannesburg Lagos and Kinshasa offering new insights into the current state of postcolonial African cities This was previously published as a special issue of African Identities Architectural Photography and the Growth of the Cities, 1850-1914 Institut für Auslandsbeziehungen, 1980

Cities Interrupted Shirley Jordan, Christoph Lindner, 2016-02-25 Cities Interrupted explores the potential of visual culture in the form of photography film performance architecture urban design and mixed media to strategically interrupt processes of globalization in contemporary urban spaces Looking at cities such as Amsterdam Beijing Doha London New York and Paris the book brings together original essays to reveal how the concept of interruption in global cities enables new understanding of the forms of space experience and community that are emerging in today's rapidly transforming urban environments The idea of interruption addressed in this book refers to deliberate interventions in the spaces and communities of contemporary cities interventions that seek to disrupt or destabilize the experience of everyday urban life through creative practice Interruption is used as an analytic and conceptual tool to challenge and explore alternatives to the narratives of speed hyper mobility rapid growth and incessant exchange and flow that have dominated critical thinking on global cities Bringing art and creative practice into the centre of discussions about the future of cities alongside discussions of development design justice health sustainability technology and citizenship this book is essential reading for anyone working at the intersections of a range of urban cultural and visual fields including urban studies urban design and architecture visual studies cultural studies media studies art history and social and cultural geography

Wounded Cities: The Representation of Urban Disasters in European Art (14th-20th Centuries), 2015-05-26 Natural hazards punctuate the history of European towns moulding their shape and identity this book is devoted to the artistic representation of those calamities from the late Middle Ages to the 20th century It contains nine case studies which discuss among others the relationship between biblical imagery and the realistic depiction of urban disasters the religious political and ritual meanings of destruction subjects in early modern painting the image of fire in Renaissance treatises on architecture the first photographic campaigns documenting earthquakes damages the role of contemporary art in the elaboration of a cultural memory of urban destructions. Thus this book intends to address one of the main issues of Western civilization: the relationship of European towns with their own past and its discontinuities. Contributors are Alessandro Del Puppo, Isabella di Lenardo, Marco Folin, Sophie Goetzmann, Emanuela Guidoboni, Philippe Malgouyres, Olga Medvedkova, Fabrizio Nevola, Monica Preti, and Tiziana Serena.

Communicative Cities and Urban Space Scott McQuire, Sun Wei, 2020-12-30. Cities have long been recognized as key sites for fostering new communication practices. However, as contemporary cities experience major changes, how do diverse inhabitants encounter each other? How do cities remember? What is the role of the built environment in fostering sites for public communication in a digital era? Communicative Cities and Urban Space offers a critical analysis of contemporary changes in the relation between urban space and communication. This volume seeks to understand the situatedness of contemporary communication practices in diverse contexts of urban life and to explore digitized urban space as a historically specific communicative environment. The essays in this book collectively propose that the concept of the communicative city is a productive frame for rethinking the above questions in the context of 21st century media cities. They challenge us to reconsider qualities such as openness, autonomy, and diversity in contemporary urban communication practices and to identify factors that might expand or constrict communicative possibilities. Students and scholars of communication studies and urban studies would benefit from this book.

Paper Cities Susana S. Martins, Anne Reverseau, 2016-04-21. Thought provoking case studies on cities, photographs, and books. Photographic books are almost as old as photography itself, and the city is one of their first and more recurring themes. Cities have been and they continue to be intensely photographed under a wide variety of forms, materialities, intentions, and genres. This volume examines how a city can be moulded through the particularities of a photographic book, suggesting how urban portraits configure an overlooked yet quite specific photo-textual practice. Ranging from early photography to contemporary works, Paper Cities gathers thought provoking case studies from several international contexts, providing new insights into art, material culture, history, heritage, and memory while simultaneously illuminating the debate on cities, photographs, and books. Contributors: Steven Jacobs, Ghent University; Simon Dell, University of East Anglia; Hugh Campbell, University College Dublin; Steven Humblet, LUCA School of Arts; Chris Balaschak, Flagler College; Annarita Teodosio, University of Salerno; Cecile Laly, Universit Paris I; Mónica Pacheco, University College London; Douglas Klahr, University of Texas; Johanna M. Inert Cities Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Christoph Lindner, 2014-10-01 We usually associate contemporary urban life with movement and speed But what about those instances when the forms of mobility associated with globalized cities the flow of capital people labour and information freeze or decelerate How can we assess the value of interruption in a city What does valuing stillness mean in regards to the forward march of globalization When does inertia presage decay and when does it promise immanence and rebirth Bringing together original contributions by international specialists from the fields of architecture photography film sociology and cultural analysis this cutting edge book considers the poetics and politics of inertia in cities ranging from Amsterdam Berlin Beirut and Paris to Beijing New York Sydney and Tokyo Chapters explore what happens when photography film mixed media works architecture and design intervene in public spaces and urban communities to disrupt speed and growth both intellectually and or practically and question the degree to which mobility is aspirational or imaginary absolute or transient Together they encourage a re assessment of what it means to be urban in an unevenly globalizing world to live in cities built around mythologies of perpetual progress These new analyses of visual culture s strategic interruptions in global cities allow a more in depth understanding of the new forms of space experience and community that are emerging in today s rapidly transforming urban environments

Learning Cities Sue Nichols, Stephen Dobson, 2018-03-29 This book is an interdisciplinary text exploring the learning and educative potentials of cities and their spaces including urban and suburban contexts at all stages of life Drawing on the insights of researchers from diverse fields such as education architecture history visual sociology applied linguistics and sensory studies this collection of papers develops and demonstrates the connection between experience in all its dimensions and informal learning in the city The chapters discuss various sensory domains of experience considering visual embodied and even sexual dimensions in relation to what and how learning operates and the contributors reflect on their learning and inquiring experiences in the city with special reference to topics such as narrativity race and ethnicity equity urban literacy re generation participation representation and oral histories

Arrival Cities Burcu Dogramaci, Mareike Hetschold, Laura Karp Lugo, Rachel Lee, Helene Roth, 2020-09-01 Exile and migration played a critical role in the diffusion and development of modernism around the globe yet have long remained largely understudied phenomena within art historiography Focusing on the intersections of exile artistic practice and urban space this volume brings together contributions by international researchers committed to revising the historiography of modern art It pays particular attention to metropolitan areas that were settled by migrant artists in the first half of the 20th century These arrival cities developed into hubs of artistic activities and transcultural contact zones where ideas circulated collaborations emerged and concepts developed Taking six major cities as a starting point Bombay now Mumbai Buenos Aires Istanbul London New York and Shanghai the authors explore how urban topographies and landscapes were modified by exiled artists re establishing their practices in metropolises across the world Questioning the established canon of Western modernism Arrival Cities investigates how the migration of artists to different urban spaces impacted their work and the historiography of art In doing so it aims to encourage the discussion between international scholars from different research fields such as exile studies art history social history architectural history architecture and urban studies Cities, Citizenship and Jews in France and the United States, 1905-2022 (Volume 1) Josef W. Konvitz, 2023-11-10 This comparative transatlantic two volume work covers nearly 120 years of the history of the rights integration and security of the Jewish people in both the United States and France the countries with the largest and third largest Jewish populations Religious freedom and secularism have evolved differently in France and the United States reinforcing their separate national identities Yet there are parallels to their Jewish history and in how the security of Jews has repeatedly defined and tested the national interests of France and the United States in world affairs Drawing on the author's personal experience as an international civil servant these volumes explore topics such as tensions and common interests between France and the United States the memory of the Shoah social mobility the tepid commitment of the United States to the rights of French Jews during World War II trends in antisemitism and tolerance and global climate change as a threat to largely coastal Jewish communities They highlight what makes insecurity different in the 21st century and why a paradigm shift in policy is needed This title is intended both for a general audience and advanced undergraduate and graduate students interested in Jewish history urban history and international relations Future Cities Nick Dunn, Paul Cureton, 2020-12-10 What might our cities look like in ten twenty or fifty years How may future cities face global challenges Imagining the city of the future has long been an inspiration for many architects artists and designers This book examines how cities of the future have been visualised what these projects sought to communicate and what the implications may be for us now It provides a visual history of the future and explores the relationships between different visualisation techniques and ideologies for cities Thinking about what futures are who they are for why they are desirable and how and when they are to be brought into being is central to this book Through visualisation we are able to experiment in ways that would be impractical and potentially hazardous in the real world and this book therefore aims to contribute toward a better understanding of the power and agency of visualisations for future cities In this lavishly illustrated text the authors apply several critical lenses to consider the subject in different ways technological futures social futures and global futures providing a comprehensive survey and analysis of visions for future cities and engaging creatively with how we perceive tomorrow's world and future studies more widely Re-shaping Cities Michael Guggenheim, Ola Söderström, 2009-12-04 How are building types such as skyscrapers mosques or living history museums imported adapted and contested in different societies Our urban landscapes are reshaped by the global circulation of models drawn from elsewhere This original collection examines how architectural ideas social models and building forms circulate round the world and become adapted to local conditions
