Migrating to the Movies Jacqueline Najuma Stewart,2005-03-28 The rise of cinema as the predominant American entertainment around the turn of the last century coincided with the migration of African Americans to the urban land of hope Discussing early films and illuminating black urban life in this period this text presents a look at the early relationships between African Americans and cinema Black City Cinema Paula Massood,2011-01-19 In Black City Cinema Paula Massood shows how popular films reflected the massive social changes that resulted from the Great Migration of African Americans from the rural South to cities in the North West and Mid West during the first three decades of the twentieth century By the onset of the Depression the Black population had become primarily urban transforming individual lives as well as urban experience and culture Massood probes into the relationship of place and time showing how urban settings became an intrinsic element of African American film as Black people became more firmly rooted in urban spaces and more visible as historical and political subjects Illuminating the intersections of film history politics and urban discourse she considers the chief genres of African American and Hollywood narrative film the black cast musicals of the 1920s and the race films of the early sound era to blaxploitation and hood films as well as the work of Spike Lee toward the end of the century As it examines such a wide range of films over much of the twentieth century this book offers a unique map of Black representations in film

Black Women Film and Video Artists Jacqueline Bobo, 1998 Black women film and video makers have been producing shorts documentaries and films since the early part of this century Unfortunately not only has their work been overlooked by distributors but critical reviews have been few and far between Conceived to redress that omission Black Women Film and Video Artistsis the first comprehensive history and analysis of this genre Gathered here are noted scholars and critics as well as the film video makers themselves who offer insight into the work of underexplored artists The discussions range from pioneering to contemporary film makers and include artists such as Madeline Anderson Monica Freeman Jacqueline Shearer Kathleen Collins Julie Dash Camille Billops Zeinabu irene Davis and Michelle Parkerson among others Contributors include Jacqueline Bobo Carmen Coustaut Gloria J Gibson C A Griffith Monique Guillory Carol Munday Lawrence O Funmilayo Makarah Ntongela Maselila Jacqueline Shearer P Jane Splawn Mammies No More Lisa M. Anderson, 1997-08-28 Explores the ways in which mainstream American plays and films have reflected and helped to reinforce stereotypes of black African American Female Leadership in Major Motion Pictures Tracy L.F. Worley, 2024-02-09 This book women explores the factors contributing to the under representation of African American female directors in mainstream cinema leadership It also unmasks the potential strategies African American female film directors might pursue to reduce this inequity Author Tracy L F Worley draws on research around ethics to conclude that there are specific consequences of the male gaze on women in cinema leadership especially African American female directors of box office cinema Combining extensive analysis of ethics and ethical stance relative to the motion picture industry with perspectives from working African American female directors the text discusses the ethical considerations and historical inequities including the male gaze and uses those findings to define how the inequities can be opportunities. The efficacy model for cinematic leadership is presented as a mechanism for viewing obstacles through the lenses of gender ethnicity and culture so they become drivers for African American women to achieve success Ideal for students of directing and filmmaking as well as aspiring professional filmmakers wishing to gain a better understanding of the industry as it stands today L.A. Rebellion Allyson Field, 2015-11-13 L A Rebellion Creating a New Black Cinema is the first book dedicated to the films and filmmakers of the L A Rebellion a group of African Caribbean and African American independent film and video artists that formed at the University of California Los Angeles in the 1970s and 1980s The group including Charles Burnett Julie Dash Haile Gerima Billy Woodberry Jamaa Fanaka and Zeinabu irene Davis shared a desire to create alternatives to the dominant modes of narrative style and practice in American cinema works that reflected the full complexity of Black experiences This landmark collection of essays and oral histories examines the creative output of the L A Rebellion contextualizing the group s film practices and offering sustained analyses of the wide range of works with particular attention to newly discovered films and lesser known filmmakers Based on extensive archival work and preservation this collection includes a complete filmography of the movement over 100 illustrations most of which are previously unpublished and a bibliography of primary and secondary materials This is an indispensible sourcebook for scholars and enthusiasts establishing the key role played by the L A Rebellion within the histories of cinema Black visual culture and postwar art in Los Angeles Envisioning Freedom Cara Caddoo, 2014-10-13 In Cara Caddoo's perspective changing study African Americans emerge as pioneers of cinema from the 1890s to 1920s But as it gained popularity black cinema also became controversial Black leaders demanded self representation and an end to cinematic mischaracterizations which they charged violated the civil rights of African Americans The Witch's Flight Kara Keeling, 2007-11-05 Through an analysis of filmic representations of Black femininity and the Black Femme in particular this book highlights the ways the cinematic structures both racist and sexist portrayals and their potential undoing Uplift Cinema Allyson Nadia Field, 2015-05-22 In Uplift Cinema Allyson Nadia Field recovers the significant yet forgotten legacy of African American filmmaking in the 1910s Like the racial uplift project this cinema emphasized economic self sufficiency education and respectability as the keys to African American progress Field discusses films made at the Tuskegee and Hampton Institutes to promote education as well as the controversial The New Era which was an antiracist response to D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation She also shows how Black filmmakers in New York and Chicago engaged with uplift through the promotion of Black modernity Uplift cinema developed not just as a response to onscreen racism but constituted an original engagement with the new medium that has had a deep and lasting significance for African American cinema Although none of these films survived Field's examination of archival film ephemera presents a method for studying lost films that opens up new frontiers for exploring early film culture Speculative Film and

Moving Images by Or about Black Women and Girls Karima K. Jeffrey-Legette, 2023 Speculative Film and Moving Images by or about Black Women and Girls Watch It examines depictions of African descended women and girls in twentieth and twenty first century filmmaking Topics include a discursive analysis of stereotypes roles garnered by Halle Berry the only Black woman to receive an Oscar for Best Actress in a Leading Role the promise of characters relationships and scripts found in works ranging from Altered Carbon Lovecraft Country and HBO s Watchmen series and a closing chapter that considers the legacy of Black women in horror Jeffrey Legette illustrates the ways in which recent texts explore the trauma endured by people of African descent in the United States of America in evocative ways In doing so she provides a compelling interpretation of prevalent well received and recurring images of Black women and girls in American popular culture

Black Aesthetic, Season One Zoé Samudzi,Ryanaustin Dennis,2017 The Black Aesthetic Season II is composed of critical essays and projects in response to the second season of The Black Aesthetic Film Series based out of Oakland CA and put on by The Black Aesthetic Collective which showcased films made by independent Black filmmakers It contains work that contributes to a larger conversation that attempts to define and demarcate boundaries around Black aesthetics while also positioning the diasporic diversity of Black cultural production and aesthetics as a self contained and self referential global body of work Wolfman Books
