Understanding Deleuze, Understanding Modernism Paul Ardoin, S. E. Gontarski, Laci Mattison, 2014-08-28 Understanding Deleuze Understanding Modernism explores the multi faceted and formative impact of

Gilles Deleuze on the development and our understanding of modernist thought in its philosophical literary and more broadly cultural manifestations Gilles Deleuze himself rethought philosophical history with a series of books and essays on individual philosophers such as Kant Spinoza Leibniz Nietzsche and Bergson and authors such as Proust Kafka Beckett and Woolf on the one hand and Bacon Messiaen and Pollock among others in other arts This volume acknowledges Deleuze s profound impact on a century of art and thought and the origin of that impact in his own understanding of modernism Understanding Deleuze Understanding Modernism begins by conceptualizing Deleuze by offering close readings of some of his most important works The contributors offer new readings that illuminate the context of Deleuze s work either by reading one of Deleuze s texts against or in the context of his entire body of work or by challenging Deleuze s readings of other philosophers A central section on Deleuze and his aesthetics maps the relationships between Deleuze s thought and modernist literature The volume s final section features an extended glossary of Deleuze s key terms with each definition having its own expert contributor

Japanese Horror Cinema and Deleuze Rachel Elizabeth Barraclough, 2022-01-13 Using theories of national transnational and world cinema and genre theories and psychoanalysis as the basis of its argument Japanese Horror Cinema and Deleuze argues that these understandings of Japanese horror films can be extended in new ways through the philosophy of Deleuze In particular the complexities and nuances of how films like Ju On The Grudge 2002 Audition 1999 and Kairo 2001 and beyond form dynamic transformative global networks between industries directors and audiences can be considered Furthermore understandings of how key horror tropes and motifs apply to these films and others more broadly such as the idea of the monstrous feminine can be transformed allowing these models to become more flexible

Real Images Josephine Woll, 1999-12-31 During the thaw from Stalin s death in 1953 to the late 1960s and Khrushchev s rule Soviet society experienced major transformations So did films In this first comprehensive account of the relationship between politics and cinema in this period Josephine Woll skillfully interweaves cultural history with film analysis to explore how movies at once responded to the changes around them and helped engender them She considers dozens of individual films within the context of Khrushchev s policies and the artistic foment they inspired

Gilles Deleuze, Postcolonial Theory, and the Philosophy of Limit Réda Bensmaïa, 2017-02-23 Does a philosopher have an identity What kind of identity is mobilized when the work of a philosopher becomes a major reference for certain schools of thought as in the case of Gilles Deleuze and postcolonial theory. Have the promoters of a generalized Deleuzianism taken care their usage of his specialized work does him justice? Few exponents of postcolonial and subaltern theories now dispute the influence that Deleuze's work exerted on the intellectuals and theorists who developed those theories. However, this book contends that postcolonial and subaltern theorists have engaged with Deleuzian thought in ways that have perhaps produced a long series of misunderstandings for which Deleuze himself is not responsible. By engaging with recent innovations in North African culture and by examining the dissemination of Deleuze's identities across a broad range of postcolonial theory, R. da Bensmaïa shows that the encounter between Deleuze and the postcolonial movement can only be understood through the idea of a transcendental field in which Deleuze and his postcolonial followers find themselves captured.

Writing, Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture, 1880 - 1920 Emily Ennis, 2022-03-24. At the turn of the 20th century, printing and photographic technologies evolved rapidly, leading to the birth of mass media and the rise of the amateur photographer. Demonstrating how this development happened symbiotically with great changes in the shape of British literature, Writing, Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture, 1880 - 1920 explores this co-evolution, showing that as both writing and photography became tools of mass dissemination, literary writers were forced to re-evaluate their professional and personal identities. Focusing on four key authors—Thomas Hardy, Bram Stoker, Joseph Conrad, and Virginia Woolf—each of which had their own private and professional connections to photography, this book offers valuable historical contexts for contemporary cultural developments and anxieties. At first, establishing the authors' response to developing technologies through their non-fiction, personal correspondences, and working drafts, Ennis moves on to examine how their perceptions of photography extend into their major works of fiction: A Laodicean, Dracula, The Secret Agent, The Inheritors, and The Voyage Out. Reflecting on the first graphic revolution in a world where text and image are now reproduced digitally and circulated en masse and online, Ennis redirects our attention to when image and text appeared alongside each other for the first time and the crises this sparked for authors: how they would respond to increasingly photographic depictions of everyday life and, in turn, how their writing adapted to a distinctly visual mass media.

Luis Buñuel Jo Evans, Breixo Viejo, 2019-10-31. Luis Buñuel: A Life in Letters provides access for the first time to an annotated English language version of around 750 of the most important and most widely relevant of these letters. Buñuel (1900-1983) came to international attention with his first films Un Chien Andalou (1929) and Le gèd Or (1930), two surprisingly avant-garde productions that established his position as the undisputed master of Surrealist filmmaking. He went on to make 30 full-length features in France, the US, and Mexico, and consolidated his international reputation with a Palme d'Or for Viridiana in 1961 and an Academy Award in 1973 for The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie. He corresponded with some of the most famous writers, directors, actors, and artists of his generation, and the list of these correspondents reads like a roll call of major twentieth-century cultural icons: Fellini, Truffaut, Vigo, Aragon, Dalí.

Unik and yet none of this material has been accessible outside specialist archives and a very small number of publications in Spanish and French

Analyzing and Interpreting Qualitative Research Charles Vanover, Paul Mihas, Johnny Saldana, 2021-04-14 This text provides comprehensive coverage of the key methods for analyzing interpreting and writing up qualitative research in a single volume and drawing on the expertise of major names in the field Covering all the steps in the process of analyzing interpreting and presenting findings in qualitative research the authors utilize a consistent chapter structure that provides novice and seasoned researchers with pragmatic how to strategies Each chapter introduces the method uses one of the authors own research projects as a case study of the method described shows how the specific analytic method can be used in other types of studies and concludes with questions and activities to prompt class discussion or personal study

Cinema's Melodramatic Celebrity Mandy Merck, 2020-08-21 Challenging the study of both celebrity and the cinema Mandy Merck argues that modern fame and film melodrama are part of the same worldview one that cannot resolve the relation of personal worth to social esteem Tracing the history of this conundrum back to the philosophy of the seventeenth century and the theatre of the eighteenth she demonstrates its convergence in stage melodrama and its intensification in the Hollywood star system Are today's celebrities worth our attention In that demand for judgement and the hope for its visual guidance the melodramatic imagination survives permeating not only fiction film but documentary the artist's film and our self exhibition on social media Examining a range of classical and contemporary films from Charlie Chaplin's City Lights 1931 to Laura Poitras's Citizenfour 2014 the many remakes of A Star Is Born the compulsory exhibitionism of political celebrity and the unmasking of whistle blowers Merck illustrates the ways in which the cinema constantly restages the moral evaluation of prominent individuals whether they are actors artists politicians or activists

Ex-centric Cinema Janet Harbord, 2016-10-20 In the beginning cinema was an encounter between humans images and machine technology revealing a stream of staccato gestures micrographic worlds and landscapes seen from above and below In this sense cinema's potency was its ability to bring other non human modes of being into view to forge an encounter between multiple realities that nonetheless co exist Yet the story of cinema became through its institutionalization one in which the human swiftly assumed centrality through the literary crafting of story character and the expression of interiority Ex centric Cinema takes an archaeological approach to the study of cinema through the writings of philosopher Giorgio Agamben arguing that whilst we have a century long tradition of cinema the possibility of what cinema may have become is not lost but co exists in the present as an unexcavated potential The term given to this history is ex centric cinema describing a centre less moving image culture where animals children ghosts and machines are privileged vectors where film is always an incomplete project and where audiences are a coming community of ephemeral connections and links Discussing such filmmakers as Harun Farocki the Lumiere Brothers Guy Debord and Wong Kar wai Janet Harbord draws connections with Agamben to propose a radically different way of thinking about cinema

Peripheralizing DeLillo Thomas

Travers,2021-12-16 Peripheralizing DeLillo tracks the historical arc of Don DeLillo's poetics as it recomposes itself across the genres of short fiction romance the historical novel and the philosophical novel of time Drawing on theories that capital rather than the bourgeoisie is the displaced subject of the novel Thomas Travers investigates DeLillo's representation of fully commodified social worlds and re evaluates Marxist accounts of the novel and its philosophy of history Deploying an innovative re periodisation Travers considers the evolution of DeLillo's aesthetic forms as they register and encode one of the crises of contemporary historicity the secular dynamics through which a society organised around waged work tends towards conditions of under and unemployment Situating DeLillo within global histories of uneven and combined development Travers explores how DeLillo's treatment of capital and labour affect and narration reconfigures debates around realism and modernism The DeLillo that emerges from this study is no longer an exemplary postmodern writer but a composer of capitalist epics a novelist drawn to peripheral zones of accumulation zones of social death whose surplus populations his fiction strives to re historicise if not re dialecticise as subjects of history The Sacred and the Cinema Sheila J.

Nayar,2012-03-29 For more than half a century now scholars have debated over what comprises a genuinely religious film one that evinces an authentic manifestation of the sacred Often these scholars do so by pitting the successful films against those which propagate an inauthentic spiritual experience with the biblical spectacular serving as their most notorious candidate This book argues that what makes a filmic manifestation of the sacred true or authentic may say more about a spectator or critic's particular way of knowing as influenced by alphabetic literacy than it does about the aesthetic or philosophical and sometimes even faith based dimensions of the sacred onscreen Engaging with everything from Hollywood religious spectacles Hindu mythologicals and an international array of films revered for their transcendental style The Sacred and the Cinema unveils the epistemic pressures at the heart of engaging with the sacred onscreen The book also provides a valuable summation of the history of the sacred as a field of study particularly as that field intersects with film

Lipsynching Merrie Snell,2020-01-09 What does it mean when a singing voice is detached from an originating body through recording And how does this affect consumers of recorded song This book examines the practice of lipsynching to pre recorded song in both professional and vernacular contexts covering over a century of diverse artistic practices from early cinema through to the current popularity of self produced internet lipsynching videos It examines the ways in which we listen to respond to and use recorded music not only as a commodity to be consumed but as a culturally sophisticated and complex means of identification a site of projection introjection and habitation and through this a means of personal and collective creativity The Endless End of Cinema Gianluca Sergi,Gary Rydstrom,2023-01-26 Film is dead Three little words that have been heard around the world many times over the life of the cinema Yet some 120 years on the old dog's ability to come up with new tricks and live another day remains as surprising and effective as ever This book is an exploration of film's ability to escape its own The End title card It charts the history of cinema's development through a series of crises that could should ought to have ended it From its origins to Covid via a series of unlikely friendships with sound television and the internet the book provides industry professionals scholars and lovers of cinema with an informing and intriguing journey into the afterlife of cinema and back to the land of the living It is also a rare collaboration between an Oscar winning filmmaker and a film scholar a chronicle of their attempt to bridge two worlds that have often looked at each other with as much curiosity as doubt but that are bound by the deep love of cinema that they both share     Deleuze and Guattari's 'What is Philosophy?' Rex Butler, 2015-12-17 What is Philosophy is the last instalment of a remarkable twenty year collaboration between the philosopher Gilles Deleuze and the psychoanalyst Félix Guattari This hugely important text attempts to explain the terms of their collaboration and to define the activity of philosophy in which they have been engaged A major contribution to contemporary Continental philosophy it nevertheless remains distinctly challenging for readers faced for the first time with Deleuze and Guattari's unusual and somewhat allusive style This Reader's Guide offers a concise and accessible introduction to this hugely important and yet challenging work Written specifically to meet the needs of students coming to Deleuze and Guattari for the first time the book offers guidance on the philosophical and historical context of the text its reception and influence its key themes notes on reading the text and further reading suggestions
