Circles Of Compassion Essays Connecting Issues Of Justice:

Circles of Compassion Will Tuttle, 2014-10-28 What is the link between compassion for animals social justice and harmony in our human world This book consists of a series of essays by internationally recognized authors and activists These insightful and inspiring essays focus on how the seemingly disparate issues of human animal and environmental rights are indeed connected Illuminating the connections between injustice to animals and the various forms of social and ecological injustice these thirty authors provide essential keys to effectively addressing the hidden roots of our dilemmas The essays also provide practical guidance about how to make the individual systemic and social changes necessary to effectively create a peaceful and just world for all This landmark book provides a crucial impetus for us to break through our confining delusions build bridges of understanding and awaken from the cultural trance of indifference and inequity

The Human Animal Earthling Identity Carrie P. Freeman, 2020-12-01 With The Human Animal Earthling Identity Carrie P Freeman asks us to reconsider the devastating division we have created between the human and animal conditions leading to mass exploitation injustice and extinction As a remedy Freeman believes social movements should collectively foster a cultural shift in human identity away from an egoistic anthropocentrism human centered outlook and toward a universal altruism species centered ethic so people may begin to see themselves more broadly as human animal earthlings To formulate the basis for this identity shift Freeman examines overlapping values supporting life fairness responsibility and unity that are common in global rights declarations and in the current campaign messages of sixteen global social movement organizations that work on human civil rights nonhuman animal protection and or environmental issues such as Amnesty International Human Rights Watch CARE People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals the World Wildlife Fund the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society the Nature Conservancy the Rainforest Action Network and Greenpeace She also interviews the leaders of these advocacy groups to gain their insights on how human and nonhuman protection causes can become allies by engaging common opponents and activating shared values and goals on issues such as the climate crisis enslavement extinction pollution inequality destructive farming and fishing and threats to democracy Freeman s analysis of activist discourse considers ethical ideologies on behalf of social justice animal rights and environmentalism using animal rights respect for sentient individuals as a bridge connecting human rights to a more holistic valuing of species and ecological systems Ultimately Freeman uses her findings to recommend a set of universal values around which all social movements campaign messages can collectively cultivate respectful relations between human animal earthlings fellow sentient beings and the natural world we share

The Palgrave International Handbook of Animal Abuse Studies Jennifer Maher, Harriet Pierpoint, Piers Beirne, 2017-07-12 This Handbook fills a large gap in current scholarly literature on animal abuse studies It moves considerably beyond the debate that has traditionally dominated the discourse of animal abuse the link between one on one interpersonal violence and animal abuse and towards those institutionalised forms of animal abuse which are routine everyday socially acceptable and invisibilised Chapters from expert contributors raise issues such as the use of animals as edibles vivisection animal sexual assault animals used in sport and hunting animal trafficking the use of animals by youth gangs by other groups and in war species extinction and the passivity of national and international organisations in combating animal abuse The Handbook is a unique text it is essential reading for students researchers academics activists and policy makers involved in understanding and preventing animal abuse The Palgrave Handbook of Environmental Restorative Justice Brunilda Pali, Miranda Forsyth, Felicity Tepper, 2022-09-19 This handbook explores the dynamic new field of Environmental Restorative Justice Authors from diverse disciplines discuss how principles and practices of restorative justice can be used to address the threats and harms facing the environment today The book covers a wide variety of subjects from theoretical discussions about how to incorporate the voice of future generations nature and more than human animals and plants in processes of justice and repair through to detailed descriptions of actual practices of Environmental Restorative Justice The case studies explored in the volume are situated in a wide range of countries and in the context of varied forms of environmental harm from small local pollution incidents to endemic ongoing issues such as wildlife poaching to cataclysmic environmental catastrophes resulting in cascades of harm to entire ecosystems Throughout it reveals how the relational and caring character of a restorative ethos can be conducive to finding solutions to problems through sharing stories listening healing and holding people and organisations accountable for prevention and repairing of harm It speaks to scholars in Criminology Sociology Law and Environmental Justice and to practitioners policy makers think tanks and activists interested in the environment The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Criminology Joseph F Donnermeyer, 2016-04-28 49% of the world's population lives in small towns villages and farms yet until recent years criminological scholarship has focused almost exclusively on urban crimes The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Criminology is the first major publication to bring together this growing body of scholarship under a single cover For many years rural criminology has remained marginalized and often excluded from the mainstream with precedence given to urban criminology this volume intends to address that imbalance Pioneering in scope this book brings together leading international scholars from fourteen different countries to offer an authoritative synthesis of theoretical and empirical literature This handbook is divided into seven parts each addressing a different aspect of rural criminology Rurality and crime Criminological dimensions of food and agriculture Violence and rurality Drug use production and trafficking in the rural context Intersections between rural and green criminology Policing justice and rurality Teaching rural criminology Edited by a world renowned scholar of rural criminology this book explores rural crime issues in over thirty five countries including Japan Sweden Brazil Australia Tanzania the US and the UK This is the first Handbook dedicated to rural criminology and is an essential resource for criminologists sociologists and social geographers engaged with rural studies and crime The Vegan Matrix Melanie Joy, 2020 In The Vegan Matrix psychologist longtime vegan advocate and organizational head Dr Melanie Joy explores a serious problem in the vegan movement unexamined privilege She also examines the struggle to talk effectively about this problem in a way that helps offset it Using simple straightforward language and a compassionate tone Joy explains what privilege is why it s so important for vegans to become aware of it and how to talk about it in a way that deepens understanding and helps transform it In so doing Joy unpacks some of the many privileges that must be acknowledged and addressed and calls for more inclusivity and diversity within vegan organizations and the movement as a whole The Vegan Matrix is a call to awareness and action empowering vegans to reach a broader audience and to help create a more compassionate and just world

The Oxford Handbook of Food Ethics Anne Barnhill, Mark Budolfson, Tyler Doggett, 2018 Academic food ethics incorporates work from philosophy but also anthropology economics the environmental sciences and other natural sciences geography law and sociology Scholars from these fields have been producing work for decades on the food system and on ethical social and policy issues connected to the food system Yet in the last several years there has been a notable increase in philosophical work on these issues work that draws on multiple literatures within practical ethics normative ethics and political philosophy This handbook provides a sample of that philosophical work across multiple areas of food ethics conventional agriculture and alternatives to it animals consumption food justice food politics food workers and food and identity

Envisioning a Better Future for Nonhuman Animals Doris Schneeberger, 2024-12-15 This book presents an ethical discussion of the possible future Universal Declarations of diverse specific nonhuman Animal Rights It contributes to a basis for a discussion about nonhuman animal rights concerning diverse aspects and quality of nonhuman animal life Doris Schneeberger deals with the interpretation and justification of animal rights and argues that because nonhuman animals are individuals whose lives are intrinsically and inherently valuable their goods and welfare ought to be protected She claims that these rights should be protected in possible morally advanced societies of the future

Methods in Human-Animal Studies Annalisa Colombino, Heide K. Bruckner, 2023-06-07 This timely book provides a methodological guide for how to conduct and theorise research in human animal studies In response to critiques of the anthropomorphic slant to human animal research and the increasing political relevance of animals in contemporary environmental debates this book emphasises methods which bring to light the animal side of multispecies encounters Drawing from the interdisciplinary strength of human animal studies this book contains contributions from practitioners and scholars working in sociology anthropology ethology and geography Each chapter uses a case study approach to present a theoretical framework and empirical application of cutting edge methods in human animal studies from creative writing in multispecies ethnographies to visual methods like videography and body mapping Organized in three parts theorizing collaborating visualizing the book equips readers with methodological tools to conduct human animal studies research attentive to animal lives Furthermore chapters reflect on the opportunities limitations and ethical considerations of research that seeks to understand our more than human worlds The book is aimed towards undergraduate

Ecology and Evolution of Plant-Herbivore Interactions on Islands Xoaquín Moreira, Luis Abdala-Roberts, 2024-01-03 Theory and early empirical work posed that herbivore pressure should be lower on islands than on the mainland owing to lower herbivore abundance and diversity in insular systems Consequently plant taxa found on islands are expected to be less protected or even to have lost their defences completely While early observational studies supported the prediction of lower herbivory and plant defences on islands recent island mainland comparisons have yielded mixed results with some studies finding no differences between islands and mainlands or surprisingly higher herbivory and plant defences on islands In this book the authors aim to re assess current theory and initiate a new generation of work on insularity effects on plant herbivore interactions This book aims to fill the research gaps by integrating the research that has been done to date and by compiling and summarising new research on insularity effects on plant herbivore interactions It provides a critical examination of the patterns in light of classical theory and identifies potential mechanisms or underlying processes It also aims to raise new questions that will form the basis for a revised and more robust research programme
