Possible Reasons for Behaviour

Modelled - Child copying learned behaviours

Overstimulation - Child needs stimulation

Seeking - Child is looking for attention

- Child is finding something difficult

Overwhelmed - Child feels overwhelmed by too much going on

- Child may be expressing strong emotions

Exploring - Child is exploring what happens if...

Feeling Unwell / Tired or Hungry

Change in Routine / Family Circumstances

Prevention & Intervention Strategies

Understand - Notice and understand what situations trigger the behaviours and adapt, avoid or help child find better coping strategies

Ignore - Good for minor attention-seeking behaviours.

Ignore the behaviour and only reward the child with attention once they have stopped the behaviour.

Distract - Stop the negative behaviour or prevent a situation from escalating by providing an appealing alternative.

Encourage Empathy - Point out how the negative behaviour makes making another person feel (e.g. sad, hurt) Ask child how they feel if someone did the same to them.

Be Clear & Consistent - Ensure child is aware of what you want them to do. Be consistent in what you say and how negative behaviour is dealt with.

Promoting Positive Behaviour

Praise the Positive - Give praise and attention to positive behaviour. e.g. thank child for being helpful, give attention when they are kind to others

Be a good Role Model - Demonstrate positive behaviours, favourable attitudes and desirable ways to interact with others
Children learn by copying behaviours!

Support Emotional Wellbeing - Through routines and activities help children learn about feelings and emotions, why we feel them and how we can share and manage them.

Use Rewards - Allow child choose next toy, activity or game 'because they have been kind and helpful' OR Use stickers or certificates to help visually reinforce positive behaviour.

BTEC National Care Neil Moonie, Mark Walsh, 2003 This textbook covers the content of the BTEC National care course it contains 12 units and advice and guidance on completion of the IVA

Severe Learning Disabilities and Challenging Behaviours Eric Emerson, Peter McGill, Jim Mansell, 2013-11-11 This is a timely book The question of how to help people with challenging behaviour and how to design and manage services so that staff families and users feel that what should be done is being done is at the top of the agenda Failure to deal competently with the issue results in disaffection poor quality services and a less than optimal quality of life for service users Moreover the credibility of services for all people with learning disabilities is intimately connected with how we cope with challenging behaviour a point made recently by a Department of Health Working Group chaired by Jim Mansell Department of Health 1993 The book is welcome because it draws together what is known about the important questions from a British perspective although of course most of the underlying issues have world wide relevance The contributors while all having a good deal of experience and authority do not put forward simple portrayals of the problems nor glib solutions and this is one of the book's major strengths. Clarity in the field of challenging behaviour is sometimes elusive. What is presented here forces the reader to confront arguments in a rational and logical fashion.

Managing Very Challenging Behaviour 2nd Edition Louisa Leaman, 2009-10-11. This new and updated edition of Managing Very Challenging Behaviour is brimming with practical, tried and tested guidance for dealing with difficult and disruptive behaviour in schools. With sage advice on how to tackle negative attitudes and ways to engage parents and guardians, this accessible book uses a unique approach to encourage teachers to reflect on their own practice and stay positive when things get tough. Packed with strategies for managing low and medium level disruption as well as higher level aggression, Louisa provides a comprehensive framework for dealing with the full spectrum of challenging behaviour. This edition expands on the popular original with new sections on topical issues such as dealing with gang culture, understanding group dynamics and useful suggestions for coping with stress. Managing Very Challenging Behaviour provides invaluable support for all professionals tackling extreme behaviour in primary and secondary schools, including established teachers, SENCOs and NQTs.

Managing Aggressive Behaviour in Care Settings Andrew A. McDonnell, 2010-05-03. A practical guide for health professionals and trainers offering evidence-based, low arousal approaches to defusing and managing aggressive behaviours in a variety of health care settings. Provides both an academic background and practical advice on how to manage and minimize confrontation. Illustrates low arousal approaches and offers clear advice on physical restraint and the reduction of these methods. Describes the evidence base for recommended approaches. Includes a wide range of valuable case examples from a variety of care settings.

Challenging Behaviour in Schools Peter Gray, Andy Miller, Jim Noakes, 1994. The contributors bring together their wealth of experience and ideas in the management of difficult behaviour to provide teachers with the practical advice and reassurance necessary to cope with difficult and disruptive pupils.

Behavioural Phenotypes in Clinical Practice Gregory O'Brien, 2002-01-21. Clinics in Developmental Medicine No 157. Clinicians, educators and other specialists who work with young people with intellectual disabilities are increasingly aware of the extent to which their clients' behaviours are shaped by the respective causal syndrome. This book is a practical response to the need for interventions and ongoing care programmes to take account of this within the context of coordinated multimodal case planning. An international team of experts drawn from child health, special education, psychology, psychiatry and related disciplines explores general principles of case management in addition to giving consideration to a large number of individual syndromes, resulting in a comprehensive review of the subject. All of the authors have been involved in original research on the themes explored and in the development of coherent service responses to the challenges posed by behavioural phenotypes. This will be essential reading for all professionals engaged in the care and management of people with intellectual disabilities.

Neurobehavioural Disability and Social Handicap Following Traumatic Brain Injury Tom M. McMillan, Rodger L. Wood, 2013-11-12. Persisting neurobehavioural disability follows many forms of serious brain injury and acts as a major constraint on social independence Rehabilitation services are often not organised in a way which addresses the needs of people with such disability and relatively few professionals have experience in the clinical management of complex disability patterns which comprise the neurobehavioural syndrome This book is a compilation of chapters written by a group of clinicians with experience of post acute brain injury rehabilitation to ameliorate the social handicap experienced by a growing number of people who survive serious brain injury The aim of the book is to describe the nature of neurobehavioural disability how it translates into social handicap and what can be done to address the problems generated by such handicap through social and behavioural rehabilitation vocational training and family education Consideration is also given to evaluating post acute rehabilitation methods and selecting the most appropriate form of rehabilitation both in terms of clinical and cost effectiveness The book is aimed at clinical psychologists psychiatrists and neurologists working in brain injury rehabilitation plus all the rehabilitation disciplines and social workers The book will also be of interest to relatives of brain injured people who are seeking a better knowledge base in order to understand neurobehavioural disability Additionally the book should be helpful to the growing number of therapy care assistants case managers and support workers responsible for the day to day care of brain injured people in the community

Learning Disabilities Bob Gates, Helen Atherton, 2007-01-01 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States It is the authoritative textbook for students of learning disabilities covering a wide variety of topics It is relevant not only for nursing courses but also for care workers OTs and other professional and non professional carers The new edition has been completely updated and includes the latest evidence for practice There are new chapters which means the book provides comprehensive coverage of learning disabilities throughout a person's life There are also new contributors including people with learning disabilities Each chapter is supported by information on further reading and other resources
