The Contemporary

Museum Simon Knell, 2018-10-11 The Contemporary Museum issues a challenge to those who view the museum as an artefact of history constrained in its outlook as much by professional institutional and disciplinary creed as by the collections it accumulated in the distant past Denying that the museum can locate its purpose in the pursuit of tradition or in idealistic speculation about the future the book asserts that this can only be found through an ongoing and proactive negotiation with the present the contemporary This volume is not concerned with any present but with the peculiar circumstances of what it refers to as the global contemporary the sense of living in a globally connected world that is preoccupied with the contemporary To situate the museum in this world of real and immediate need and action beyond the reach of history the book argues is to empower it to challenge existing dogmas and inequalities and sweep aside old hierarchies As a result fundamental questions need to be asked about such things as the museum's relationship to global time and space to systems and technologies of knowing to the life well lived to the movement and rights of people and to the psychology permanence and organisation of culture Incorporating diverse viewpoints from around the world The Contemporary Museum is a follow up volume to Museum Revolutions and as such should be essential reading for students in the fields of museum and heritage studies cultural studies communication and media studies art history and social policy Academics and museum professionals will also find this book a source of inspiration

Public Representations of Immigrants in Museums Yannik Porsché, 2018-02-13 This book offers an interactionist perspective on theories of public representation knowledge and immigration in museum institutions Examining how a Franco German museum exhibition represents immigrants and exposes public stereotypes the analysis follows the process of the production and reception of the exhibition as it travelled from Paris to Berlin The author proposes a microsociological contextualisation analysis integrating discourse analysis and ethnography to compare formats of museum work social interaction in the exhibition and mass media debates Visitor reception of the different exhibition versions reveals the symbolic nature of interactions in museums for example concerning conflicting political voices and accusations of censorship Depending on the institutional context interactions in the museums are geared towards securing immigrants a place in national collective memory towards carrying out debate on integration or providing opportunities for personal encounters and reflection beyond national categorisation This book will appeal to students and researchers interested in work on the intersection of sociology cultural studies and discursive psychology in methods of discourse analysis and ethnography and to practitioners working in museums
