Compulsory Compassion Compulsory Compassion:

Compulsory Compassion Annalise E. Acorn, 2004 Restorative justice is often touted as the humane and politically progressive alternative to the rigid philosophy of retributive punishment that underpins many of the world's judicial systems Emotionally seductive its rhetoric appeals to a desire for a right relation among individuals and communities an offers us a vision of justice that allows for the mutual healing of victim and offender and with it a sense of communal repair In Compulsory Compassion Annalise Acorn a one time advocate for restorative justice deconstructs the rhetoric of the restorative movement Drawing from diverse legal literary philosophical and autobiographical sources she questions the fundamental assumptions behind that rhetoric that we can trust wrongdoers performances of contrition that healing lies in a respectful face to face encounter between victim and offender and that the restorative idea of right relation holds the key to a reconciliation of justice and accountability on the one hand with love and compassion on the other Compassionate Justice Christopher D. Marshall, 2012-08-01 Two parables that have become firmly lodged in popular consciousness and affection are the parable of the Good Samaritan and the parable of the Prodigal Son These simple but subversive tales have had a significant impact historically on shaping the spiritual aesthetic moral and legal traditions of Western civilization and their capacity to inform debate on a wide range of moral and social issues remains as potent today as ever Noting that both stories deal with episodes of serious interpersonal offending and both recount restorative responses on the part of the leading characters Compassionate Justice draws on the insights of restorative justice theory legal philosophy and social psychology to offer a fresh reading of these two great parables It also provides a compelling analysis of how the priorities commended by the parables are pertinent to the criminal justice system today The parables teach that the conscientious cultivation of compassion is essential to achieving true justice Restorative justice strategies this book argues provide a promising and practical means of attaining to this goal of reconciling justice with compassion Compassion-Based Practices for Secondary Traumatic Stress Ruth Gottfried, 2024-10-23 Compassion Based Practices for Secondary Traumatic Stress is a comprehensive guide that merges profound theoretical insights with practical compassion based practices Tailored for helping professionals working with survivors of trauma this book illuminates a path toward addressing secondary traumatic stress and promoting vicarious posttraumatic growth through a compassionate lens Distinguished by its in depth and hands on creative approach inclusion of East Asian philosophical principles and harmonization of self and other oriented compassion this resource guide provides empowering tools for helping professionals from diverse fields of practice and their host organizations Social Science of the Syringe Nicole Vitellone, 2017-02-10 This book addresses the history of harm reduction It evaluates the consequences and constraints stakes and costs of the policy of needle exchange for the purposes of harm prevention and health research Vitellone situates the syringe at the centre of empirical research and theoretical analysis challenging existing accounts of drug injecting which treat the syringe as a dead device that simply facilitates social action between humans Instead this book complicates the relationship between human and object injecting drug user and syringe to ask what happens if we see the object as an intra active part of the sociality that constitutes injecting practices And what kinds of methods are required to generate a social science of the syringe that is able to measure injecting sociality Social Science of the Syringe develops material methodologies and epistemologies of injecting drug use to enact the syringe as an object of intellectual inquiry It draws on the methodologies of social anthropology Actor Network Theory Deleuze s empiricism and new feminist materialism to move towards materially engaged knowledge production This interdisciplinary approach improves understandings of the causes and effects of injecting behaviour and the problem of needle sharing as well as providing a more robust empirical framework to evaluate the motivations and consequences of drug use and drug policy This book will appeal to researchers and students interested in the sociology of health and illness STS Actor Network Theory empirical sociology medical anthropology social and cultural anthropology addiction theory and harm reduction Roohi Sharif (The Divine Soul) Sultan-ul-Fagr Publications, 2023-08-19 Risala Roohi Sharif is one such Divine Message concise comprehensive and complete conveyed to us through the most eminent Sufi Saint of the Sub Continent Sultan Bahoo He has written 140 books of which Risala Roohi Sharif is the most popular and is the essence of all his teachings For online reading please visit http sultan ul fagr publications com Contact 923224722766 risalaroohi risalaroohisharif risalarohishareef risalarohisharif risalarohishareef sultanbahoo sultanularifeen sultanulashigeen sultanulashigeen books sultanbahoobooks bahusultanbooks hagbahusultan bahoosultan hagbahoosultan hagbahu bahoonama sultanbahookiktabain sufismbooks tasawwufbooks islamicbooks Restorative Justice Theo Gavrielides, 2017-09-19 The legitimacy and performance of the traditional criminal justice system is the subject of intense scrutiny as the world economic crisis continues to put pressure on governments to cut the costs of the criminal justice system. This volume brings together the leading work on restorative justice to achieve two objectives to construct a comprehensive and up to date conceptual framework for restorative justice suitable even for newcomers and to challenge the barriers of restorative justice in the hope of taking its theory and practice a step further The selected articles start by answering some fundamental questions about restorative justice regarding its historical and philosophical origins and challenge the concept by bringing into the debate the human rights and equality discourses Also included is material based on empirical testing of restorative justice claims especially those impacting on reoffending rates victim satisfaction and reintegration. The volume concludes with a critique of restorative justice as well as with analytical thinking that aims to push its barriers It is hoped that the investigations offered by this volume not only offer hope for a better system for abolitionists and reformists but also new and convincing evidence to persuade the sceptics in the debate over restorative justice Abuse of Taxpayer Funds to Subsidize Lobbying and Political Activity United States. Congress. House. Committee on Economic and Educational Opportunities. Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations, 1996 Victims of Terrorism Orla Lynch, Javier Argomaniz, 2014-10-17 This book examines the politicisation of victims of terrorism and the reality of the victimisation experience within the broader field of terrorism and the resulting conflict Victims of terrorism are a unique group of individuals whose experience is overlooked in the current literature on terrorism Since 9 11 terrorism has risen to global prominence and has become a key topic of interest with regards to media attention and national security As a result many European countries as well as the USA have had to take active steps to protect and provide for the victims of terrorism particularly given the nature of victimisation post 3 11 Madrid and 7 7 London Recently we have also seen an increase in the political currency of the terrorist victim for example the lobbying activities and political involvement of the victims of ETA terrorism and the exceptionally powerful lobby in the USA that sees the involvement of victims of terrorism and their families in policy making and law enforcement transformations This book is based on extensive field work in Northern Ireland London and Spain and presents the results which focus on the needs and experiences of victims of terrorism and political violence and critically analyses these findings comparatively and in their own right The aim is to assess the provision of support initiatives in Northern Ireland mainland UK and Spain and understand if victims needs are being met by these initiatives but most importantly to construct a picture of the local and international interpretation of the experience of victimisation by terrorism This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism and political violence victimology criminology security studies and IR Compassion's Edge Katherine Ibbett, 2018 Compassion's Edge traces the relation between compassion and toleration after France's Wars of Religion This is not however a story about compassion overcoming difference but one of compassion reinforcing division It provides a robust corrective to today s hope that fellow feeling draws us inexorably and usefully together Restorative Christ Geoff Broughton, 2015-01-02 The conviction that Jesus is the restorative Christ demands a commitment to the justice he articulated The justice of the restorative Christ is justice with reconciliation justice with repentance justice with repair and justice without retaliation The Gospel of Luke and the book of Acts portray the life death and resurrection of Jesus Christ through the radical concept of enemy love In conversation with Dietrich Bonhoeffer Jesus for others John Howard Yoder a nonviolent Jesus Miroslav Volf an embracing Jesus and Chris Marshall a compassionate Jesus Broughton demonstrates what the restorative Christ means for us today Following the restorative Christ faithfully involves imaginative disciplines seeing remembering and desiring conversational disciplines naming questioning and forgiving and embodied disciplines absorbing repairing and embracing Memorials Matter Jennifer K Ladino, 2019-02-06 From the sculptured peaks of Mount Rushmore to the Coloradan prairie lands at Sand Creek to the idyllic islands of the Pacific the West's signature environments add a new dimension to the study of memorials In such diverse and often dramatic landscapes how do the natural and built environments shape our emotions In Memorials Matter author Jennifer Ladino investigates the natural and physical environments of seven diverse National Park Service NPS sites in the American West and how they influence emotions about historical conflict and national identity Chapters center around the region s diverse inhabitants Mexican Chinese Japanese African and Native Americans and the variously traumatic histories these groups endured histories of oppression exploitation incarceration slavery and genocide Drawing on material ecocritical theory Ladino emphasizes the ideological and political importance of memorials and how they evoke visceral responses that are not always explicitly storied but nevertheless matter in powerful ways In this unique blend of narrative scholarship and critical theory Ladino demonstrates how these memorial sites and their surrounding landscapes combined with written texts generate emotion and shape our collective memory of traumatic events She urges us to consider our everyday environments and to become attuned to features and feelings we might have otherwise overlooked Compassion and Education Andrew Peterson, 2016-12-01 This book makes a defence of compassion as an essential and significant quality that should be at the heart of the education of young people It provides a careful exploration of what compassion means how it is relevant to the various relationships among students teachers and the wider community and the particular pedagogical processes that can and might develop compassion Understanding and justifying compassion as a virtue this book argues that compassion is a virtue central to all human relationships from the familial to the communal and to the global It will be of interest to academics research and students of education Alberta Law Review ,2010 The Psychology of Restorative Justice Theo Gavrielides, 2016-02-24 This ground breaking collection dares to take the next step in the advancement of an autonomous inter disciplinary restorative justice field of study It brings together criminology social psychology legal theory neuroscience affect script psychology sociology forensic mental health political sciences psychology and positive psychology to articulate for the first time a psychological concept of restorative justice To this end the book studies the power structures of the restorative justice movement the very psychology motivations and emotions of the practitioners who implement it as well as the drivers of its theoreticians and researchers Furthermore it examines the strengths and weakness of our own societies and the communities that are called to participate as parties in restorative justice Their own biases hunger for power and control fears and hopes are investigated The psychology and dynamics between those it aims to reach as well as those who are funding it including policy makers and politicians are looked into All these questions lead to creating an understanding of the psychology of restorative justice The book is essential reading for academics researchers policymakers practitioners and campaigners Power and Emotion Jonathan Heaney, Helena Flam, 2016-02-05 This collection is concerned with two fundamental concepts of social science power and emotion Power permeates all human relationships and is constitutive of social economic and political life It stands at the centre of social and political theorizing and its study has enriched scholarship within a wide range of disciplines including sociology political science philosophy and anthropology The conceptual cluster of emotion by contrast had a more troubled time within these same disciplines However since the 1970 s and the advent of the emotional turn there has been a widespread re evaluation of emotion in and for our shared social existence and today emotions research is at forefront of contemporary social science Yet although both concepts are now widely seen as fundamental research on these two phenomena has tended to run in parallel This collection featuring leading international scholars seeks to unite and deploy both concepts emotion and power in a variety of ways and on a diverse array of topics such as education organizations social movements politics old and new media rhetoric and in comparative intellectual history. The results are at the bleeding edge of scholarship on these concepts and will make important reading for practitioners and students working in the sociology of emotions social and political power political sociology organization studies and for sociological and political theory more generally This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Political Power Loss, Dying and Bereavement in the Criminal Justice System Sue Read, Sotirios Santatzoglou, Anthony Wrigley, 2018-03-22 Life is characterised by movement change and development including transitions losses and grief People experiencing loss must learn to accommodate it and sometimes relearn new roles Whether the offender is accommodating general loss such as transition the loss of others or facing their own impending death the bereavement process can become a particularly complicated experience for those involved in the criminal justice system Criminal offenders may be excluded from participating in grief rituals and may receive few explicit opportunities to talk about a loss they ve experienced sometimes resulting in disenfranchised grief Informing thinking around assessment care and support procedures this volume seeks to bring together a range of perspectives from different disciplines on crucial issues surrounding the impact of loss death dying and bereavement for criminal offenders The book will explore inherent challenges and responses to the criminal justice system by considering to what extent offenders loss death dying and bereavement experiences have been or should be recognised in policy and practice The first section considers theoretical approaches to loss the next section translates these issues using professional perspectives to explore practical applications and the final section introduces an offender perspective Through identifying challenges and consolidating evidence this multidisciplinary book will interest researchers interested in loss and bereavement in vulnerable communities concepts of disenfranchised grief end of life care and mental healthcare in the criminal justice system The Limits of Forgiveness Maria Mayo, 2021-05-06 Demystifying an unrealistic ideal Maria Mayo questions the contemporary idealization of unconditional forgiveness in three areas of contemporary life so called Victim Offender Mediation involving cases of criminal injury the work of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in post apartheid South Africa and the pastoral care of victims of domestic violence She shows that an emphasis on unilateral and unconditional forgiveness puts disproportionate pressure on the victims of injustice or violence and misconstrues the very biblical passages especially in Jesus teaching and actions on which advocates of unconditional forgiveness rely Violence Interrupted Diane Crocker, Joanne Minaker, Amanda Neland, 2020-09-10 We live in a moment of renewed and highly visible action on the issue of sexual violence Rape culture is a real and salient force that dominates campus climates and student experiences Canada has drafted a national framework provincial legislation and institutional policy to address incidences of sexual violence and students have demanded that their universities respond Yet rape culture persists on campuses throughout North America Violence Interrupted presents different ways of thinking about sexual violence It draws together multiple disciplinary perspectives to synthesize new conceptual directions on the nature of the problem and the changes that are required to address it Analyzing survey data educational programs participatory photography projects interviews autoethnography legal case studies and existing policy contributors open up the conversation to illustrate sexual violence on campus as a structural cultural and complex social phenomenon The diversity of methodologies sets this study apart a problem as complex and far reaching as rape culture must be approached from a multitude of angles Decades have passed since student advocates first called for no means no campaigns but universities are still struggling to evolve Violence Interrupted answers the call by bridging the gap between advocacy research and institutional change
