Language Prescription Don Chapman, Jacob D. Rawlins, 2020-09-21. This book is a detailed examination of social connections to language evaluation with a specific focus on the values associated with both prescriptivism and descriptivism. The chapters written by authors from many different linguistic and national backgrounds use a variety of approaches and methods to discuss values in linguistic prescriptivism. In particular the chapters break down the traditional binary approaches that characterize prescriptive discourse to create a view of the complex phenomena associated with prescriptivism and the values of those who practice it. Most importantly this volume continues serious academic conversations about prescriptivism and lays the foundation for continued exploration.

English Academic Writing for Spanish Speakers Gustavo Sánchez Canales, Juan Antonio Núñez Cortés, 2025-03-31. English Academic Writing for Spanish Speakers: A Practical Guide offers step by step guidance on writing and publishing academic work in English providing essential tools and strategies to master academic writing. The book is divided into two parts. The first one, Theory, examines key issues about academic writing: what it is and the different types of academic genres such as research papers, essays, cover letters and CVs, resumes. The second part, From Theory to Practice, provides clear, simple explanations of these same genres which are followed by authentic examples of academic texts from Spanish scholars in the areas of social sciences and humanities and a checklist of common errors. Readers will gain confidence and proficiency in academic writing benefiting from practical advice and real world examples tailored specifically to the challenges faced by Spanish speakers. This detailed guide to academic writing will be an invaluable resource for Spanish speaking undergraduate and postgraduate students, doctoral candidates, teachers and researchers publishing academic work in English.
