Teaching Writing in English as a Foreign Language Huan Zhao, Lawrence Jun Zhang, 2022-05-30 This book explores teachers cognitions about the teaching of writing in English as a foreign language EFL and their teaching practice as well as factors influencing the formation and reformation process of their cognition Taking stock of Bakhtin's dialogism as the theoretical framework the authors argue that the formation and reformation of teacher cognition is a dialogic process A systematic analysis of participating teachers cognition formation and reformation process suggests the highly individual nature of teachers cognitions EFL researchers and teachers teacher educators teacher education policymakers university administrators and EFL textbook writers could draw on the findings of the study to provide better resources to implement the teaching of EFL writing more effectively The study has adopted a mixed methods approach whose quantitative results show the patterns and differences of teacher cognition among teachers of different backgrounds and with different schooling education and working experiences The qualitative findings show in detail teachers cognition formation and reformation processes and the factors contributing to such processes revealing convergence and divergence of teachers stated cognitions with a focus on the discrepancy between teacher cognition and teaching practice These are useful lenses through which researchers and teachers will find significant implications for offering EFL writing instruction more effectively

The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Christina Bratt Paulston, Scott F. Kiesling, Elizabeth S. Rangel, 2014-09-15 The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Intercultural discourse and communication is emerging as an important area of research in a highly globalized and connected world where language and culture contact is frequent and cultural misunderstandings and misconceptions abound The handbook contains contributions from established scholars and up and coming researchers from a range of subfields to survey the theoretical perspectives and applied work in this burgeoning area of linguistics This timely volume features first a part that introduces the background detailing the scope and topics of the field followed by one that describes four different theoretical approaches and their basic research questions from Ethnography of Speaking and John Gumperz's Interactional Sociolinguistics to Critical Approaches and Postmodernism The third part Interactional Discourse Features describes and explains the features of talk that are frequently studied in cross cultural research such as turn taking and politeness The volume also includes a section on Interactional Discourse sites examining cross cultural communication such as Greek Turkish discourse The final part considers a variety of domains in which interaction takes place such as Translation Business Law Medicine Education and Religion

Early Foreign Language Learning and Teaching Marianne Nikolov, Stela Letica Krevelj, 2024-10-15 Over the past six decades the field of teaching modern foreign languages to young learners has come a long way from the early surmises about the advantages of a young start to today's widespread integration of foreign languages into curricula in public and private schools The chapters in this book bring together internationally renowned researchers who have been vocal in establishing early language teaching and learning as an independent area of research and novice voices who represent a new generation of devoted researchers to present a state of the art volume on the topic The authors address key questions about young learner second foreign language L2 FL development methodological issues when conducting research with young learners L2 FL teaching pedagogy language education policy technology enhanced learning and assessment Together the chapters capture the reality of early FL development in the context of a globalized world and will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduate students of SLA and Applied Linguistics specifically in the field of early language development and teaching languages to young learners

Task-Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education Betty Lou Leaver, Jane R. Willis, 2004-12-30 Task based language instruction has proven to be highly effective but surprisingly underutilized Theory can only go so far and hands on experience can greatly speed and enhance the learning of a second language Nineteen talented instructors who have successfully implemented task based programs explain the principles behind the programs discuss how problems were resolved and share details on class activities and program design Each chapter takes the reader through the different stages in designing and setting up such programs adjusting them and appraising and testing them in normal classroom conditions This book covers TBI syllabus and program design and is based on actual classroom experience Any one of the courses or programs discussed can serve as models for others Many of the contributors are highly respected practitioners who are presenting their programs for the first time while others are regular participants in today s ongoing dialogue about teaching methods Full of concrete adaptable models of task based language teaching drawn from a number of countries and eleven different languages including Arabic Chinese Czech English French German Korean Spanish and Ukrainian Task Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education presents proven real world practical courses and programs and includes web based activities It demonstrates useful and practical ways to engage students far beyond what can be learned from reading textbook dialogue TBI involves the student directly with the language being taught via cognitively engaging activities that reflect authentic and purposeful use of language resulting in language learning experiences that are pleasurable and effective For all instructors seeking to help their learners enhance their understanding and grasp of the foreign language they are learning Task Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education is a rich and rewarding hands on guide to effective and transformative learning

Being and Becoming a Speaker of Japanese Andrea Simon-Maeda,2011 In this postmodernist addition to diary studies in SLA and applied linguistics an autoethnographic approach is used to highlight the mutually constitutive relationship of language acquisition sociocultural contexts and L2 identities The personalized account of the author s Japanese as a second language development is skilfully interwoven with ethnographic details and introspective commentary
