Forty Years' Recollections: Literary and Political Thomas Frost, 1880 Purchase of this book includes free trial access to www.millionbooks.com where you can read more than a million books for free This is an OCR edition with typos Excerpt from book CHAPTER XIII MISSION WORK IX BETHNAL GREEN I Was acquainted at this time with a young curate with whom I had some time before made a pedestrian tour through some of the most beautiful portions of the beautiful county of Kent and who had lately exchanged his first curacy at Haverstock Hill for a similar engagement in the district of St Philip Bethnal Green On the occasion of my first visit to him after this change our conversation turned upon home missions and I was led to make some remarks derived from my own observation upon the incompetency of many of the Beripture readers whose mission fields were the industrial quarters of our large towns for the accomplishment of the end for which they were appointed They may be tolerably well qualified to deal with the indifferent and the ignorant I observed but they are utterly incompetent to remove the doubts or meet the arguments of the many intelligent men to be found in large towns who reject the Bible as a divine revelation They may be useful auxiliaries of the clergy in visiting the poor in the lights of a congregation and tolerably successful in bringing into the fold of the Church the ignorant and the indifferent but they do not realize my idea of what a Christian missionary in the home field should be like the present There is great difficulty in obtaining men who would return the curate It is true they are not very highly paid but many of them notably those employed by the City Missionary Society are as well paid as a large proportion of curates who are drawn from a higher and more educated class The Churches said I in continuance of the thought that was in my mind send to the ignorant heathen of Africa and Malaysia men qualified by education for the ministry

Forty Years Recollections Thomas Frost, 2018-02-04 Excerpt from Forty Years Recollections Literary and Political Pm Years are not a very long period in the history of a nation much less in that of the world yet what mighty events may be crowded into them what vast changes made in the social political and educational condition of a people Looking back for instance upon the England of half a century ago we have a retrospect which presents as strong a contrast to the present time as the infancy of an individual affords to the same person's mature years. So rapid has been the progress of the nation in mental development and political enfranchisement that men not yet old may look back upon the days of their boyhood as curiously and as wonderingly. The Poetry and the Politics Gregory James, James Gregory, 2014-10-10. The nineteenth century was a time of movements, political, social, moral reform, causes which drew on the energies of men and women across Britain. This book studies radical reform at the margins of early Victorian society, focusing on decades of particular social, political, and technological ferment when foreign and British promoters of extravagant, technologically assisted utopias could attract many hundreds of supporters of limited means persuaded to escape grim conditions by emigration to South America, when pioneers of vegetarianism joined the ranks of the temperance movement, and when working-class Chartists, reviving a struggle for political reform seemed to threaten the State for a brief moment in April 1848 Through the forgotten figure of James Elmslie Duncan shabby genteel poet and self proclaimed Apostle of the Messiahdom The Poetry and the Politics considers themes including poetry's place in radical culture the response of pantomime to the Chartist challenge to law and order and associations between madness and revolution Duncan became a promoter of the technological fantasies of John Adolphus Etzler a poet of science who prophesied a future free from drudgery through machinery powered by natural forces Etzler dreamed of crystal palaces Duncan's public freedom was to end dramatically in 1851 just as a real crystal palace opened to an astonished world In addition to Duncan James Gregory also introduces a cast of other poets earnest reformers and agitators such as William Thom the weaver poet of Inverury whose metropolitan feting would end in tragedy John Goodwyn Barmby bearded Pontiffarch of the Communist Church a lunatic Invisible Poet of Cremorne pleasure gardens the hatter from Reading who challenged the feudal restrictions of the Game Laws by tract trespass and stuffed jay birds and foreign exotics such as the German born Conrad Stollmeyer escaping the sinking of an experimental Naval Automaton in Margate to build a fortune as the Asphalt King of Trinidad Combining these figures with the biography of a man whose literary career was eccentric and whose public antics were capitalised upon by critics of Chartist agitation this book is essential reading for anyone interested in radical reform and popular political movements in Victorian Britain The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1924
