Delivering Distinctive Value in Emerging Economies Thomas Anning-Dorson, Sheena Lovia Boateng, Richard Boateng, 2022-06-23. The idea behind editing this book is to present a contemporary reference that tells the story of how businesses and institutions in emerging economies are circumventing or can better circumvent institutional voids in order to create distinct value for consumers and develop resilient and sustainable economies. For this book, we gathered 24 contributions or chapters on new directions and strategies to create value in emerging economies. The contributions span thematic areas such as COVID 19 and small businesses, social influencers and COVID 19 advocacy, artisan entrepreneurship, leadership and project success, internationalization and intellectual property, cultural artifacts in corporate branding, fintech adoption, mobile money and agriculture, value chain, workplace fraud, ethical decision making in accountancy, modeling, early detection of mother's mode of delivery, assessment of health systems in Africa, online platforms and patient empowerment, students' academic engagement and technology, and continuous use of e-learning among professional accounting students. The authors of these contributions discuss the relevance of each chapter to its target audience, practitioners and students. They also outline the implications for practice and policy where applicable alongside the concluding arguments of their respective chapters. In effect, the 24 chapters offer key strategic directions for businesses, public sector institutions, non-governmental organizations, and international development institutions to be more efficient and sustainably responsible in delivering distinctive value in emerging economies. Emerging economies have become an opportune interest of practitioners, entrepreneurs, and policy makers worldwide. Hence, a contemporary text which explores how to create and deliver distinct value in these economies is a must-a-read.
