Mapping with Words Sarah Wylie Krotz, 2019-03-27 Mapping with Words re conceptualizes early Canadian settler writing as literary cartography Examining the multitude of ways in which writers expanded the work of mapmakers it offers fresh readings of both familiar and obscure texts from the nineteenth century Catharine Parr Traill's The Female

Emigrant's Guide Nathalie Cooke, Fiona Lucas, 2017-06-22 What did you eat for dinner today Did you make your own cheese Butcher your own pig Collect your own eggs Drink your own home brewed beer Shanty bread leavened with hops yeast venison and wild rice stew gingerbread cake with maple sauce and dandelion coffee this was an ordinary backwoods meal in Victorian era Canada Originally published in 1855 Catharine Parr Traill's classic The Female Emigrant's Guide with its admirable recipes candid advice and astute observations about local food sourcing offers an intimate glimpse into the daily domestic and seasonal routines of settler life This toolkit for historical cookery redesigned and annotated in an edition for use in contemporary kitchens provides readers with the resources to actively use and experiment with recipes from the original Guide Containing modernized recipes a measurement conversion chart and an extensive glossary this volume also includes discussions of cooking conventions terms techniques and ingredients that contextualize the social attitudes expectations and challenges of Traill's world and the emigrant experience In a distinctive and witty voice expressing her can do attitude Catharine Parr Traill's The Female Emigrant's Guide unlocks a wealth of information on historical foodways and culinary exploration Forest and Other Gleanings Catherine Parr Traill, 1994-01-01 Forest and other Gleanings reclaims for the contemporary reader a number of stories and sketches written by Catharine Parr Traill after her emigration to Canada in 1832 While most pieces collected here appeared in magazines in Britain the United States and Canada a few have been drawn from archival holdings and make their first appearance here This collection seeks as it were to complete her aspirations and to offer readers interested in Traill and 19th century Upper Canada a gleaning of her better sketches and stories Published in English The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl, Emily Morris, 2022-12-15 Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement I Bless You in My Heart Carl Ballstadt, Michael Peterman, Elizabeth Hopkins, 1996-12-15 Though her life was largely circumscribed by domesticity and poverty both in England and in Canada Catharine Parr Traill's interests experiences and contacts were broad and various Her contribution to our knowledge of nineteenth century Canadian life from a literary historical and scientific perspective was significant Chosen from her nearly 500 extant letters the 136 presented here vividly reflect typical aspects of social and family life attachments to the Old World health and medical conditions travel religious faith and practice the stresses of settlement in Upper Canada in the 1830s and the dispersal of families with the opening up of the Canadian and American West Spanning seventy years the letters are presented in three sections each prefaced by an introductory essay The first 1830 1859 The changes and chances of a settler's life traces Traill's story from her emergence as one of the literary Strickland sisters in England through the difficult poverty stricken years of settlement and family raising in Canada to her husband's death The second 1860 1884 The poor country mouse reveals her quiet life at Westove her cottage at Lakefield her devotion to family and friends and the time she spent writing botanical essays and seeking a publisher for them A trip to Ottawa in 1884 awakened her to a recognition of the literary stature she had earned The third section 1885 1899 The sight of green things is life to me begins with the publication of her Studies of Plant Life in Canada and sheds light on the public recognition she received her continuing literary productivity and the strengthening of her role as matriarch of the Strickland family in Canada It closes with her death on 29 August 1899 Together with the introductory essays Traill's correspondence offers an intimate and revealing portrait of a courageous caring and remarkable woman mother pioneer writer and botanist The Routledge Introduction to Gender and Sexuality in Literature in Canada Linda M. Morra, 2023-01-31 The Routledge Introduction to Gender and Sexuality in Literature in Canada charts the evolution of gender and sexuality as they have been represented and performed in the literatures of Canada for more than three centuries From early colonial texts by Frances Brooke to settler texts by Susanna Moodie and Catherine Parr Traill to more contemporary texts by Jane Rule Alice Munro Joshua Whitehead Ivan Coyote and others this volume will introduce readers to how gender and sexuality have been variably conceived in Canada and the work they perform across multiple genres Calling upon recent currents of gender theory and examining the composition structure and history of selected literary texts that is the literary sediments that have accumulated over centuries readers of this book will explore how those representations shift over time By examining literature in Canada in relation to crucial cultural political and historical contexts readers will better apprehend why that literature has significantly transformed and broadened to address racialized and fluid identities that continue to challenge and disrupt any stable notion of gendered and sexualized identity today L.M. Montgomery and the Matter of Nature(s) Rita Bode, Jean Mitchell, 2018-04-30 L M Montgomery's writings are replete with enchanting yet subtle and fluid depictions of nature that convey her intense appreciation for the natural world At a time of ecological crises intensifying environmental anxiety and burgeoning eco critical perspectives L M Montgomery and the Matter of Nature's repositions the Canadian author's relationship to nature in terms of current environmental criticism across several disciplines introducing a fresh approach to her life and work Drawing on a wide range of Montgomery's novels as well as her journals this collection suggests that socio ecological relationships encompass ideas of reciprocity affiliation autonomy and the capacity for transformation in both the human and more than human worlds and that these ideas are integral to Montgomery's vision and her literary legacy Framed by the twin themes of materiality and interrelationships essays by scholars of literature law animal studies anthropology and ecology examine place embodiment and difference in Montgomery's works and embrace the multiplicities embedded in the concept of nature Through innovative critical approaches L M Montgomery and the Matter of Nature's opens up conversations about humans interactions with nature and the material environment The Anglo-American Magazine, 1853

Canadian Women in Print, 1750-1918 Carole Gerson, 2011-05-24 Canadian Women in Print 1750 1918 is the first historical examination of women's engagement with multiple aspects of print over some two hundred years from the settlers who wrote diaries and letters to the New Women who argued for ballots and equal rights Considering women's published writing as an intervention in the public sphere of national and material print culture this book uses approaches from book history to address the working and living conditions of women who wrote in many genres and for many reasons This study situates English Canadian authors within an extensive framework that includes francophone writers as well as women's work as compositors bookbinders and interveners in public access to print Literary authorship is shown to be one point on a spectrum that ranges from missionary writing temperance advocacy and educational texts to journalism and travel accounts by New Woman adventurers Familiar figures such as Susanna Moodie L M Montgomery Nellie McClung Pauline Johnson and Sara Jeannette Duncan are contextualized by writers whose names are less well known such as Madge Macbeth and Agnes Laut and by many others whose writings and biographies have vanished into the recesses of history Readers will learn of the surprising range of writing and publishing performed by early Canadian women under various ideological biographical and cultural motivations and circumstances Some expressed reluctance while others eagerly sought literary careers Together they did much more to shape Canada's cultural history than has heretofore been recognized Bardic Nationalism Katie Trumpener, 1997-05-25 This magisterial work links the literary and intellectual history of England Scotland Ireland and Britain's overseas colonies during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries to redraw our picture of the origins of cultural nationalism the lineages of the novel and the literary history of the English speaking world Katie Trumpener recovers and recontextualizes a vast body of fiction to describe the history of the novel during a period of formal experimentation and political engagement between its eighteenth century rise and its Victorian heyday During the late eighteenth century antiquaries in Ireland Scotland and Wales answered modernization and anglicization initiatives with nationalist arguments for cultural preservation Responding in particular to Enlightenment dismissals of Gaelic oral traditions they reconceived national and literary history under the sign of the bard Their pathbreaking models of national and literary history their new way of reading national landscapes and their debates about tradition and cultural transmission shaped a succession of new novelistic genres from Gothic and sentimental fiction to the national tale and the historical novel In Ireland and Scotland these genres were used to mount nationalist arguments for cultural specificity and against internal colonization Yet once exported throughout the nascent British empire they also formed the basis of the first colonial fiction of Canada Australia and

British India used not only to attack imperialism but to justify the imperial project Literary forms intended to shore up national memory paradoxically become the means of buttressing imperial ideology and enforcing imperial amnesia
