Under the Nuclear Shadow Fiona S. Cunningham, 2025-01-07 How and why China has pursued information age weapons to gain leverage against its adversaries How can states use military force to achieve their political aims without triggering a catastrophic nuclear war Among the states facing this dilemma of fighting limited wars only China has given information age weapons such a prominent role While other countries have preferred the traditional options of threatening to use nuclear weapons or fielding capabilities for decisive conventional military victories China has instead chosen to rely on offensive cyber operations counterspace capabilities and precision conventional missiles to coerce its adversaries In Under the Nuclear Shadow Fiona Cunningham examines this distinctive aspect of China s post Cold War deterrence strategy developing an original theory of strategic substitution When crises with the United States highlighted the inadequacy of China s existing military capabilities Cunningham argues China pursued information age weapons that promised to rapidly provide credible leverage against adversaries Drawing on hundreds of original Chinese language sources and interviews with security experts in China Cunningham provides a rare and candid glimpse from Beijing into the information age technologies that are reshaping how states gain leverage in the twenty first century She offers unprecedented insights into the trajectory of China s military modernization as she details the strengths and weaknesses of China s strategic substitution approach Under the Nuclear Shadow also looks ahead at the uncertain future of China s strategic substitution approach and briefly explores too how other states might seize upon the promise of emerging technologies to address weaknesses in their own military strategies

Defence Planning for Small and Middle Powers Tim Sweijs, Saskia van Genugten, Frans Osinga, 2024-08-01 This book examines the processes practices and principles of defence planning in small and middle powers Small and middle powers are recalibrating their force postures in this age of disruption They are adapting their defence planning and military innovation processes to protect the security of their nations The purpose of this book is to explore defence planning and military innovation in 11 contemporary case studies of small and middle powers in North America Europe the Middle East Asia and Oceania Employing a structured focused comparison framework it traces patterns in the choices of small and middle powers across the following themes 1 alliances dependencies and national ambitions 2 approaches processes methods and techniques and 3 military innovation strategies and outcomes Breaking new theoretical ground it offers a three pronged typology distinguishing between the strategic defence planner the transactional defence planners and the complacent defence planner The book offers a rich array of insights into cases that fall across different geographies strategic cultures and governance systems These insights can help guide discussions on how to structure decision making structures arrive at ambition levels formulate priorities select partners and design defence planning and military innovation processes This book will be of much interest to students of defence studies security studies public policy and international relations as well as to professionals in defence planning

China's Emergence as a Defense Technological Power Tai Ming Cheung, 2013-10-31 China is flexing its growing military and strategic clout in the pursuit of broadening national security interests At the same time the country s economic and technology policies have also become more nationalistic state centered and ambitious China s defense economy has set its sights on catching up with the West by the beginning of the 2020s and is making steady progress in building up its innovation capabilities although this is presently in the form of incremental and sustaining types of activities More high end disruptive forms of innovation that would lead to major breakthroughs are likely to be beyond China s reach in the near to medium term This volume provides a wide ranging and detailed assessment of the present state of the Chinese defense economy at a time of rapid change and accelerating advancement in its innovation capabilities and performance This collection of articles has three main goals 1 to locate China s defense innovation dynamics within broader historical technological and methodological frameworks of analysis 2 to assess the performance of the Chinese defense economy s six principal subsectors and 3 to compare China s approach to defense industrialization with major counterparts in the Asia Pacific region This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Strategic Studies

Fortifying China Tai Ming Cheung, 2013-04-15 Fortifying China explores the titanic struggle to turn China into an aspiring world class military technological power The defense economy is leveraging the country s vibrant civilian economy and gaining access to foreign sources of technology and know how Drawing on extensive Chinese language sources Tai Ming Cheung explains that this transformation has two key dimensions The defense economy is being reengineered to break down bureaucratic barriers and reduce the role of the state fostering a more competitive and entrepreneurial culture to facilitate the rapid diffusion and absorption of technology and knowledge At the same time the civilian and defense economies are being integrated to form a dual use technological and industrial base In Cheung s view the Chinese authorities believe this strategy will play a key role in supporting long term defense modernization For China s neighbors and the United States understanding China s technological industrial and military capabilities is critical to the formulation of economic and security policies Fortifying China provides crucial insight into the impact of China s dual use technology strategy Cheung s systems of innovation framework considers the structure dynamics and performance of the defense economy from a systems level perspective Getting to Innovation Tai Ming Cheung, Kevin Pollpeter, 2014-01-31
