C F Martin And Co Images Of America:

The Guitar Chris Gibson, Andrew Warren, 2021-05-05 Guitars inspire cult like devotion an aficionado can tell you precisely when and where their favorite instruments were made And she will likely also tell you about the wood they were made from and its unique effects on the instruments sound In Following Guitars Chris Gibson and Andrew Warren trace guitars all the way back to the tree It is a book about musical instrument making the timbers and trees from which guitars are made It chronicles the authors journeys across the world to guitar festivals factories remote sawmills Indigenous lands and distant rainforests in search of the behind the scenes stories of how guitars are made where the much cherished guitar timbers ultimately come from and the people and skills involved along the way The authors are able to unlock insights on longer arcs of world history on the human exploitation of nature colonialism industrial capitalism and cultural change They end on a parable of wider resonance of the incredible but unappreciated skill and care that goes into growing and felling trees milling timber and making enchanted musical instruments set against the human tendency to reform our use and abuse of natural resources only when it appears too late

Photojournalism and Citizen Journalism Stuart Allan, 2017-06-26 If everyone with a smartphone can be a citizen photojournalist who needs professional photojournalism This rather flippant question cuts to the heart of a set of pressing issues where an array of impassioned voices may be heard in vigorous debate While some of these voices are confidently predicting photojournalism's impending demise as the latest casualty of internet driven convergence others are heralding its dramatic rebirth pointing to the democratisation of what was once the exclusive domain of the professional Regardless of where one is situated in relation to these stark polarities however it is readily apparent that photojournalism is being decisively transformed across shifting uneven conditions for civic participation in ways that raise important questions for journalism's forms and practices in a digital era This book's contributors identify and critique a range of factors currently recasting photojournalism's professional ethos devoting particular attention to the challenges posed by the rise of citizen journalism This book was originally published as two special issues in Digital Journalism and Journalism Practice The United States Catalog, 1913

Dahlgren, 2017-04-13 In From Martyrs to Murderers the author explores the connections between the dark unflattering representations of public schools teachers and teaching in popular Hollywood films and the conservative attacks on public education that have culminated in a generation of neo liberal standards reform measures The author's analysis is based on a survey of 60 movies that feature significant interactions between public school teachers and their students This study employed a textual analysis method involving viewing the films alongside original script material which reveals that the narratives involving public schools during the late 20th century and early 21st century are distinct from those involving other types of schools or eras Rather than the romantic figures of earlier portraits such as Eve Arden's beloved Our Miss Brooks in the 1940s and 1950s radio and television serial these teachers are consistently portrayed as negative archetypes thus providing a rationale for the school reform agenda of the 1980s The sheer repetition of these damaging images in Hollywood products of the period made the American public more susceptible to the deceptive arguments outlined in A Nation at Risk the seminal 1983 report that provided the blueprint for the standards reform movement that has dominated education policy for the past generation This work thus develops upon the critical perspectives of educational historians and social studies educators who have probed this turning point in the history of American schooling It also offers an alternative means of viewing the reality of life in the nation s public institutions Class
