The Urban Ethnography Reader Mitchell Duneier, Philip Kasinitz, Alexandra Murphy, 2014-01-16 Urban ethnography is the firsthand study of city life by investigators who immerse themselves in the worlds of the people about whom they write. Since its inception in the early twentieth century, this great tradition has helped define how we think about cities and city dwellers. The past few decades have seen an extraordinary revival in the field as scholars and the public at large grapple with the increasingly complex and pressing issues that affect the ever-changing American city: from poverty to the immigrant experience, the changing nature of social bonds, to mass incarceration, hyper-segregation, to gentrification. As both a method of research and a form of literature, urban ethnography has seen a notable and important resurgence. This renewed interest demands a clear and comprehensive understanding of the history and development of the field to which this volume contributes by presenting a selection of past and present contributions to American urban ethnographic writing. Beginning with an original introduction highlighting the origins, practices, and significance of the field, editors Mitchell Duneier, Philip Kasinitz, and Alexandra Murphy guide the reader through the major and fascinating topics on which it has focused: from the community, public spaces, family, education, work, and recreation to social policy and the relationship between ethnographers and their subjects. An indispensable guide, The Urban Ethnography Reader provides an overview of how the discipline has grown and developed while offering students and scholars a selection of some of the finest social scientific writing on the life of the modern city.

2013 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

The Palgrave Handbook of Urban Ethnography Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2017-11-14 These ethnographically based studies of diverse urban experiences across the world present cutting edge research and stimulate an empirically grounded theoretical reconceptualization The essays identify ethnography as a powerful tool for making sense of life in our rapidly changing complex cities They stress the point that while there is no need to fetishize fieldwork or to view it as an end in itself its unique value cannot be overstated These active engaged researchers have produced essays that avoid abstractions and generalities while engaging with the analytical complexities of ethnographic evidence Together they prove the great value of knowledge produced by long term fieldwork to mainstream academic debates and more broadly to society

Global Cities, Local Streets Sharon Zukin, Philip Kasinitz, Xiangming Chen, 2015-07-16 Global Cities Local Streets Everyday Diversity from New York to Shanghai a cutting edge text ethnography reports on the rapidly expanding field of global urban studies through a unique pairing of six teams of urban researchers from around the world The authors present shopping streets from each city New York Shanghai Amsterdam Berlin Toronto and Tokyo how they have changed over the years and how they illustrate globalization embedded in local communities This is an ideal addition to courses in urbanization consumption and globalization The book s companion website www.globalcitieslocalstreets.org has additional videos images and maps alongside a forum where students and instructors can post their own shopping street experiences

The Digital Street Jeffrey Lane, 2019 The social impact of the Internet and new digital technologies is irrefutable especially for adolescents It is simply no longer possible to understand coming of age in the inner city without an appreciation of both the face to face and online relations that structure neighborhood life The Digital Street is the first in depth exploration of the ways digital social media is changing life in poor minority communities Based on five years of ethnographic observations dozens of interviews and analyses of social media content Jeffrey Lane illustrates a new street world where social media transforms how young people experience neighborhood violence and poverty Lane examines the online migration of the code of the street and its consequences from encounters between boys and girls to the relationship between the street and parents schools outreach workers and the police He reveals not only the risks youths face through surveillance or worsening violence but also the opportunities digital social media use provides for mitigating danger Granting access to this new world Jeffrey Lane shows how age old problems of living through poverty especially gangs and violence are experienced differently for the first generation of teenagers to come of age on the digital street

The Palgrave Handbook of Prison Ethnography Deborah H. Drake, Rod Earle, J. Sloan, 2016-01-12 The Palgrave Handbook of Prison Ethnography provides an expansive overview of the challenges presented by qualitative and particularly ethnographic enquiry The chapters reflect upon the means by which ethnographers aim to gain understanding make sense of what they learn and the way they represent their finished work The Handbook offers urgent insights relevant to current trends in the growth of imprisonment worldwide In an era of mass incarceration human centric ethnography provides an important counter to quantitative analysis and the audit culture on which prisons are frequently judged The Handbook is divided into four parts Part I About Prison Ethnography assesses methodological theoretical and pragmatic issues related to the use of ethnographic and qualitative enquiry in prisons Part II Through Prison Ethnography considers the significance of ethnographic insights in terms of wider social or political concerns Part III Of Prison Ethnography analyses different aspects of the roles ethnographers take and how they negotiate their research settings Part IV For Prison Ethnography includes contributions that convincingly extend the value of prison ethnography beyond the prison itself Bringing together contributions by some of the world's leading scholars in criminology and prison studies this authoritative volume maps out new directions for future research It will be an indispensable resource for practitioners students academics and researchers who use qualitative social research methods to further their understanding of prisons

Interpretive Social Science Mark Bevir, Jason Blakely, 2018-12-17 In this book Mark Bevir and Jason Blakely set out to make the most comprehensive case yet for an interpretive or hermeneutic approach to the social sciences Interpretive approaches are a major growth area in the social sciences today This is because they offer a full blown alternative to the behavioralism institutionalism rational choice and other quasi scientific approaches that dominate the study of human behavior In addition to presenting a systematic case for interpretivism and a critique of scientism Bevir and Blakely also propose their own uniquely anti naturalist notion of an interpretive approach This anti naturalist framework encompasses the insights of philosophers ranging from Michel Foucault and Hans Georg Gadamer to Charles Taylor and Ludwig Wittgenstein while also resolving dilemmas that have plagued rival philosophical defenses of interpretivism In addition working social scientists are given detailed discussions of a distinctly interpretive approach to methods and empirical research The book draws on the latest social science to cover everything from concept formation and empirical inquiry to ethics democratic theory and public policy An anti naturalist approach to interpretive social science offers nothing short of a sweeping paradigm shift in the study of human beings and society This book will be of interest to all who seek a humanistic alternative to the scientism that overwhelms the study of human beings today Growing Up Muslim in Europe and the United States

Medhi Bozorgmehr, Philip Kasinitz, 2018-07-27 This volume brings together scholarship from two different and until now largely separate literatures the study of the children of immigrants and the study of Muslim minority communities in order to explore the changing nature of ethnic identity religious practice and citizenship in the contemporary western world With attention to the similarities and differences between the European and American experiences of growing up Muslim the contributing authors ask what it means for young people to be both Muslim and American or European how they reconcile these at times conflicting identities how they reconcile the religious and gendered cultural norms of their immigrant families with the more liberal ideals of the western societies that they live in and how they deal with these issues through mobilization and political incorporation A transatlantic research effort that brings together work from the tradition in diaspora studies with research on the second generation to examine social cultural and political dimensions of the second generation Muslim experience in Europe and the United States this book will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in migration diaspora race and ethnicity religion and integration

Ethnography in the Open Science and Digital Age: New Debates, Dilemmas, and Issues Colin Jerolmack, Alexandra Murphy, Victoria Reyes, 2024-06-19 In the current moment ethnography is caught up in a number of debates that have led ethnographers to reflect on classic methodological and ethical dilemmas in new ways The replication crisis had led to a movement for open science e.g. registering hypotheses in advance sharing codes and data but it seems unclear that recommended best practices are appropriate to ethnography It's even up for debate whether ethnography is more of a social science or a genre The fact that many ethnographies are widely read invites questions and criticisms from beyond the ivory tower including our subjects about the ethics of representation e.g. who has license to write about whom and the extent to which journalistic standards of data verification and transparency e.g. fact checking naming sources should apply to qualitative research Some ethnographers are calling for more open critical discussions about the embodied dimensions of fieldwork including not only emotions but also issues like sexual intimacy and harassment There's also a growing expectation that ethnographers empower our subjects to represent and analyze themselves What's more as more of social life is lived online it becomes increasingly unclear where the boundaries of the field site should be drawn and whether ethnographic conventions can be applied wholesale to the study of digital spaces

The Next Generation Richard Alba, Mary C. Waters, 2011-04-01 One fifth of the population of the United States belongs to the immigrant or second generations While the US is generally thought of as the immigrant society par excellence it now has a number of rivals in Europe The Next Generation brings together studies from top immigration scholars to explore how the integration of immigrants affects the generations that come after The original essays explore the early beginnings of the second generation in the United States and Western Europe exploring the overall patterns of success of the second generation While there are many striking similarities in the situations of the children of labor immigrants coming from outside the highly developed worlds of Europe and North America wherever one looks subtle features of national and local contexts interact with characteristics of the immigrant groups themselves to create variations in second generation trajectories The contributors show that these issues are of the utmost importance for the future for they will determine the degree to which contemporary immigration will produce either durable ethno racial cleavages or mainstream integration Contributors Dalia Abdel Hady Frank D Bean Susan K Brown Maurice Crul Nancy A Denton Rosita Fibbi Nancy Foner Anthony F Heath Donald J Hernandez Tariqul Islam Frank Kalter Philip Kasinitz Mark A Leach Mathias Lerch Suzanne E Macartney Karen G Marotz Noriko Matsumoto Tariq Modood Joel Perlmann Karen Phalet Jeffrey G Reitz Rubén G Rumbaut Roxanne Silberman Philippe Wanner Aviva Zeltzer Zubida and Ye Zhang

Goffman and the Media Peter Lunt, 2024-12-03 Erving Goffman's much loved works are widely cited in media and communication studies

His books have stimulated research on news framing mass media and social media inviting new insights about how communication self audiences and public life are mediated by but also transcend particular technological forms What explains the continuing relevance of this highly original theorist In this book Peter Lunt critically examines how and why the concepts developed by Goffman face work and the mediated self frontstage and backstage impression management media frames and logics footing and interaction rituals still resonate across the field Ultimately Goffman s sociology emerges not only as an enduring influence but as a source of new inspiration in our ever more interactive world Original and incisive Goffman and the Media is crucial reading for students and scholars encountering this fascinating thinker from a media studies perspective

An Ethnography of Urban Exploration Kevin P. Bingham, 2020-10-01 This book analyses a unique leisure world that has been built around a newly emerging phenomenon known as urban exploration the art of exploring human made environments which are generally abandoned or hidden from sight of the public eye Drawing on Michel Foucault s concept of heterotopia Bingham provides a detailed and critical investigation of urban exploration as a form of leisure that is about the coming together of drifting performers who in their celebration of rebellion and deviance are determined to find a sense of meaning and belonging The research considers the influence of consumer capitalism on urban explorers and the wider social economic and political context that shapes ideas of belonging and identity in the twenty first century By doing this the book analyses urban exploration as an activity that has emerged in a time when human ideas about culture individuality and community have transformed and solid modernity is gradually disintegrating around us This multi and interdisciplinary work will appeal to people with an interest in abnormal or deviant leisure as well as academics from sociology anthropology social geography leisure studies cultural studies sport and recreation and tourism

Moving Cities - Contested Views on Urban Life Lígia Ferro, Marta Smagacz-Poziemska, M. Victoria Gómez, Sebastian Kurtenbach, Patrícia Pereira, Juan José Villalón, 2017-08-03 The texts of the book focus on the problems and challenges of urban change especially in Europe in the contemporary context of intense mobility The main topics are mobility urban social structure migrations urban inequalities urban activism community neighbourhood life uses of public spaces and methodological approaches to urban life such as ethnography

The Auditory Culture Reader Michael Bull, Les Back, 2020-05-31 The first edition of The Auditory Culture Reader offered an introduction to both classical and recent work on auditory culture laying the foundations for new academic research in sound studies Today interest and research on sound thrives across disciplines such as music anthropology geography sociology and cultural studies as well as within the new interdisciplinary sphere of sound studies itself This second edition reflects on the changes to the field since the first edition and offers a vast amount of new content a user friendly organization which highlights key themes and concepts and a methodologies section which addresses practical questions for students setting out on auditory explorations All essays are accessible to non experts and encompass scholarship from leading figures in the field discussing issues relating to sound and listening from the broadest set of interdisciplinary perspectives Inspiring students and researchers attentive to sound in their work newly commissioned and classical excerpts bring urban research and ethnography alive with sensory case studies that open up a world beyond the visual This book is core reading for all courses that cover the role of sound in culture within sound studies anthropology sociology cultural studies history media studies and urban geography Young Black Street Masculinities Brendan King, 2022-02-12 This book describes how young Black men on a disadvantaged housing estate in London navigate the estate's expectations for their behaviour as they operate within a street code that endorses violence knife carrying and challenging masculinity This street code informs the men's masculine identities by promoting values of misogyny violence and the possession of expensive material objects while subduing any performance or features deemed as weak or feminine Chapters detail the daily pressure on young men to gain respect and perform the estate's street code while also providing examples of young men who have escaped or rejected its influence King also outlines how youth workers can support those trapped by the estate's street code by embodying personalised or caring masculinity features that seek to transform the dominant masculinity
