Experience Tourism: A New Way to Travel Genalin Jimenez, Experience tourism is on the rise because consumers would rather spend their money on experiences and not on things The emphasis now is on seeking out activities that appeal to niche personal interests rather than on checking must see sites and monuments off the to do list Travel provides a learning experience like no other It inspires people to seek out new places keeping their pool of knowledge constantly updated It's a great way to not only learn new things and immerse yourself in a new culture but it also provides a constant urge to continue learning

Full Circle Tsunyota Kohe't, 2003 Dwight Diller Lewis M. Stern, 2016-05-09 Dwight Hamilton Diller is a musician from West Virginia devoted to traditional Appalachian fiddle and banjo music and a seminary trained minister steeped in local Christian traditions For the past 40 years he has worked to preserve archaic fiddle and banjo tunes teaching his percussive primitively rhythmic style to small groups in marathon banjo workshops This book tells of Diller's life and music his personal challenges and his decades of teaching an elusive musical form

American Magazine, 1921 Older Widows and the Life Course Pat Chambers, 2018-01-18 Later life widowhood is the expectation of most older wives since statistically women live longer than men and tend to marry men older than themselves Despite this there has been little coverage of the complexities of later life widowhood In this book Pat Chambers redresses this balance combining an analysis of the literature that does exist with qualitative research amongst older widows The research reveals a multi faceted experience of later life widowhood Older widows life stories challenge the dominant public narrative of misery and decline pointing instead to a complexity of experience which is rooted in personal biography and the female life course rather than in later life widowhood itself Chambers develops the concept of multiple narratives as a way of uncovering the complex but often hidden lives of older widows Without such an understanding she argues it is all too easy to subscribe to the powerfully dominant public narrative and thus to misinterpret older widows current needs and aspirations This is an engaging and original study of a key topic for gerontological research and will be of great interest to sociologists and social policy scholars who study ageing and the life course
