Teachable Moments Peter Woods,Bob Jeffrey,2019-07-23 Creative teaching is an art form aesthetic intuitive and expressive The proliferation of new educational policies in the early 1990s and the related increase in tensions and dilemmas facing schools combined with the growing demand for a wider range of skills and knowledge among children meant that there was an even greater need for creative teaching than before the National Curriculum. Originally published in 1996, this book addresses this need by exploring the features of creative teaching with a focus on the day to day practice of primary teachers, showing how teachers used emotion, created atmosphere and stimulated imagination to enhance their teaching, examining the ways in which teachers managed the National Curriculum and developed a new professional discourse in response to government pressures at the time. This book is a sequel to Creative Teachers in Primary Schools and builds upon this work, providing new insights into the art of teaching.

Risk, Challenge and Adventure in the Early Years Kathryn Solly, 2014-12-05

What is the difference between risk and danger? What can children learn from taking risks? How can you provide key experiences for children and ensure their safety outdoors? Young children will naturally seek out challenges and take risks, and this is crucial to their overall development. This book clearly explains why children should be given the freedom to take risks and provides practical guidance on how to offer stimulating and challenging outdoor experiences that will extend all areas of children's learning. Including examples of activities for all weather conditions across all areas of learning, the book covers:

- The pedagogical history of adventure, risk and challenge
- Health, wellbeing and keeping safe
- The adult role
- Risk assessment
- Supporting individual children with different needs
- Environments that enable challenging and adventurous play
- Working with parents and addressing concerns
- Observation, planning and assessment

This book is essential reading for practitioners and students that wish to provide rich experiences for children that will enable them to become confident and adventurous learners.
