Giedion Space Time And Architecture:

Space, Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion, 1967 A classic first published in 1941 this is an unparalleled work on the shaping of our architectural environment In his discussions of leading architects and styles Giedion examines the evolving of new traditions the strengthening of its plastic tendencies and conditions for further evolution the urban renewal boom of the fifties and the development of regionalism by creatively oriented architects Space, Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion, 1941 Space, Time and Architecture, by Sigfried Giedion Sigfried Giedion, 1954 Space, Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion, 1949 Work in Text and Images: Sigfried Giedion's "Space, Time and Architecture", 1941-1967 Gregor Harbusch, 2015 Fallingwater and Pittsburgh Narciso G. Menocal, 2000 Richly illustrated with 73 halftones and 23 line drawings this volume explores the imagery of water used by architect Frank Lloyd Wright particularly in Fallingwater one of his most successful designs Giedion Revisited Jean Cimon, 1961 Recensione A: Space, Time and Architecture, by Sigfried Giedion, 1942 The Baroque in Architectural Culture, 1880-1980 Andrew Leach, John Macarthur, 2016-03-09 In his landmark volume Space Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion paired images of two iconic spirals Tatlin's Monument to the Third International and Borromini's dome for Sant Ivo alla Sapienza The values shared between the baroque age and the modern were thus encapsulated on a single page spread As Giedion put it writing of Sant Ivo Borromini accomplished the movement of the whole pattern from the ground to the lantern without entirely ending even there And yet he merely groped towards that which could be completely effected in modern architecture achieving the transition between inner and outer space The intellectual debt of modern architecture to modernist historians who were ostensibly preoccupied with the art and architecture of earlier epochs is now widely acknowledged This volume extends this work by contributing to the dual projects of the intellectual history of modern architecture and the history of architectural historiography It considers the varied ways that historians of art and architecture have historicized modern architecture through its interaction with the baroque a term of contested historical and conceptual significance that has often seemed to shadow a greater contest over the historicity of modernism Presenting research by an international community of scholars this book explores through a series of cross sections the traffic of ideas between practice and history that has shaped modern architecture and the academic discipline of architectural history across the long twentieth century The editors use the historiography of the baroque as a lens through which to follow the path of modern ideas that draw authority from history In doing so the volume defines a role for the baroque in the history of architectural historiography and in the history of modern architectural culture Changing Ideals in Modern Architecture, 1750-1950 Peter Collins, 1998 Changing Ideals in Modern Architecture revolutionized the understanding of modernism in architecture pushing back the sense of its origin from the early twentieth century to the 1750s and thus placing architectural thought within the a broader context of Western intellectual history This new edition of Peter Collins's ground breaking study includes all seventy two illustrations of the

Phenomenology, Architecture and the Built World James Dodd, 2017-01-05 Phenomenology Architecture and the Built World is an introduction to the methods and basic concepts of phenomenological philosophy through an analysis of the phenomenon of the built world The conception of the built world that emerges is of space and time fashioned in accordance with a living understanding of what it is for human beings to exist in the world Human building and making is thus no mere supplementary instrument in the pursuit of the ends of life but a fundamental embodiment of the self understanding of human beings Phenomenological description is uniquely capable of bringing into view the physiognomy of this understanding its texture and complexity thereby providing an important basis for a critique of what constitutes its essence and its conditions of possibility Space, Time and Architecture Siegfried Giedion,1969 Space, Time and Architecture S. Giedion,1947 Re-Humanizing Architecture Ákos Moravánszky,Judith Hopfengärtner,2016-12-19 After the Second World War a divided Europe was much affected by a period of reconstruction This was influenced by the different political systems in the socialist East and in the capitalist West the focus was on cohesion in society and its cultural and architectural expression In parallel to the rapidly progressing industrialization of the building industry debates on the humanization of the built environment were led on both sides with great intensity The volume shows how on the back of existentialism new monumentality and socialist realism quite similar concepts and strategies were developed in order to find answers to questions relating to adequate structures for new forms of community and identity The Virtual Window Anne Friedberg,2009-02-13 From the Renaissance idea of the painting as an open window to the nested windows and multiple images on today s cinema television and computer screens a cultural history of the metaphoric literal and virtual window As we spend more and more of our time staring at the screens of movies televisions computers and handheld devices windows full of moving images texts and icons how the world is framed has become as important as what is in the frame In The Virtual Window Anne Friedberg examines the window as metaphor as architectural component and as an opening to the dematerialized reality we see on the screen In De pictura 1435 Leon Battista Alberti famously instructed painters to consider the frame of the painting as an open window Taking Alberti s metaphor as her starting point Friedberg tracks shifts in the perspectival paradigm as she gives us histories of the architectural window developments in glass and transparency and the emerging apparatuses of photography cinema television and digital imaging Single point perspective Alberti s metaphorical window has long been challenged by modern painting modern architecture and moving image technologies And yet notes Friedberg for most of the twentieth century the dominant form of the moving image was a single image in a single frame The fractured modernism exemplified by cubist painting for example remained largely confined to experimental avant garde work On the computer screen however where multiple windows coexist and overlap perspective may have met its end In this wide ranging book Friedberg considers such topics as the framed view of the camera obscura Le Corbusier s mandates for the architectural window Eisenstein s opinions on the shape of the movie screen and the multiple images and nested windows commonly displayed on screens today The Virtual Window proposes a new logic of visibility framed and virtual an architecture not only of space but of time The Common Good and the Global Emergency T. J. Gorringer,2011-02-03

Provides a theoretical and political framework of the common good and applies this to the built environment
