The Distance Cure Hannah Zeavin,2021-08-17 Psychotherapy across distance and time from Freud's treatments by mail to crisis hotlines, radio call-ins, chatbots and Zoom sessions. Therapy has long understood itself as taking place in a room with two or more people engaged in person-to-person conversation. And yet, starting with Freud's treatments by mail, psychotherapy has operated through multiple communication technologies and media. These have included advice columns, radio broadcasts, crisis hotlines, video, personal computers and mobile phones; the therapists broadly defined can be professional or untrained, strangers or chatbots. In The Distance Cure, Hannah Zeavin proposes a reconfiguration of the traditional therapeutic dyad of therapist and patient as a triad: therapist, patient and communication technology. Zeavin tracks the history of teletherapy understood as a therapeutic interaction over distance and its metamorphosis from a model of cure to one of contingent help. She describes its initial use in ongoing care, its role in crisis intervention and symptom management, and our pandemic-mandated reliance on regular Zoom sessions. Her account of the distanced intimacy of the therapeutic relationship offers a powerful rejoinder to the notion that contact across distance or screens is always less useful or useless to the person seeking therapeutic treatment or connection. At the same time, these modes of care can quickly become a backdoor for surveillance and disrupt ethical standards important to the therapeutic relationship. The history of the conventional therapeutic scenario cannot be told in isolation from its shadow form, teletherapy. Therapy, Zeavin tells us, was never just a talking cure; it has always been a communication cure.

Buenos Aires 2022 - Analytical Psychology Opening to the Changing World: Contemporary Perspectives on Clinical, Scientific, Social, Cultural and Environmental Issues IAAP, 2023-08-03. The XXII International Congress for Analytical Psychology was held in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and for the first time in South America. It was also the first such congress delivered in hybrid form, bringing together IAAP members from all over the globe in person and on screens. Guests interested in Jungian thinking from various other academic fields were invited and joined in the conversations. The theme of Opening to the Changing World was explored as we come out of a pandemic and face the imperative of fast changes to our ways of working and relating to people, living beings and the planet we inhabit. The Congress offered again ways of exploring themes via a rich programme of pre-congress workshops, masterclasses, plenary and breakout presentations and posters. The Proceedings are published as two volumes: a printed edition of the plenary presentations and an e-book with the complete material presented at the Congress. To professionals as well as the general public, this collection of papers offers a cross-section and inspiring insight into contemporary Jungian thinking, spanning from classical theories to the latest scientific research. From the Contents: Soul, myth and cosmovision in a changing world: Essentials of Analytical Psychology and the descendent path by Margarita Ovalle Vergara; Devouring and asphyxia by Liliana Wahba; Walter Boechat: Some questions raised by the practice of teleanalysis by François Martin Vallas; COVID-19: Virtual engagement and the psychoid imagination by Joe Cambray; Working online during the contemporary COVID-19 pandemic by John Merchant; The syzygy reformulation and new perspectives: Dreams, anima, animus, androgynous and gender by Mario Saiz et al; Enforced disappearances and torture today: A view from Analytical
