Marzano, Debra J. around mindsets what's missing are the details of how to convince our discouraged and underperforming students that smart is something you can get. Until now. With the publication of High Expectations Teaching, Jon Saphier reveals once and for all evidence that the bell curve of ability is plain wrong; that ability is something that can be grown significantly if we can first help students to believe in themselves. In drill-down detail, Saphier provides an instructional playbook for increasing student confidence and agency in the daily flow of classroom life. Powerful strategies for attribution retraining organized around 50 Ways to Get Students to Believe in Themselves. Concrete examples, scripts, and classroom structures and routines for empowering student agency and choice. Dozens of accompanying videos showing high expectations strategies in action. All children in all schools, regardless of income or social class, will benefit from the strategies in this book. But for children of poverty and children of color, our proficiency with these skills is essential in many ways. Life-saving. Jon Saphier challenges us all: educators, students, and parents to get started today.

About Jon Saphier: The author of nine books, including The Skillful Teacher, Jon Saphier is founder and president of Research for Better Teaching, Inc. (RBT), a professional development organization dedicated since 1979 to improving classroom teaching and school leadership throughout the United States and internationally.

Resources in Education, 2000-04 Cultivating Curious and Creative Minds, Cheryl J. Craig, Louise F. Deretchin, 2010-01-16 Cultivating Curious and Creative Minds presents a plethora of approaches to developing human potential in areas not conventionally addressed. Organized in two parts, this international collection of essays provides viable educational alternatives to those currently holding sway in an era of high stakes accountability. Taken together, the chapters in Part I of Cultivating Curious and Creative Minds provide a sampling of what the cultivation of curious and creative minds entails. The contributing authors shed light on how curiosity and creativity can be approached in the teaching domain and discuss specific ideas concerning how it plays out in particular situations and contexts.
