Research Handbook on Intellectual Property Exhaustion and Parallel Imports Irene Calboli, Edward Lee, 2016-06-24 From the Americas to the European Union Asia Pacific and Africa countries around the world are facing increased pressure to clarify the application of intellectual property exhaustion This wide ranging Research Handbook explores the questions that pose themselves as a result Should exhaustion apply at the national regional or international level Should parallel imports be considered lawful imports Should copyright patent and trademark laws follow the same regime Should countries attempt to harmonize their approaches To what extent should living matters and self replicating technologies be subject to the principle of exhaustion To what extent have the rise of digital goods and the Internet of things redefined the concept of exhaustion in cyberspace The Handbook offers insights to the challenges surrounding these questions and highlights how one answer does not fit all

The Vacuum Cleaner Carroll Gantz, 2012-09-26 House cleaning has been an innate human activity forever but only since the early 19th century have mechanical devices replaced the physical labor performed mostly by women Mechanical carpet sweepers were replaced by manual suction cleaners which in turn were replaced by electric vacuum cleaners in the early 20th century Innovative inventors who improved vacuum cleaners as electricity became commonly available made these advances possible Many early manufacturers failed but some such as Bissell Hoover Eureka and others became household names as they competed for global dominance with improved features performance and appearance This book describes the fascinating people who made this possible as well as the economic cultural and technological contexts of their times From obscure beginnings 200 years ago vacuum cleaners have become an integral part of modern household culture
