Gift Darkness Growing Occupied Amsterdam:

Gift of Darkness Craig Comstock, 2015-07-01 Gift of Darkness tells the story of a boy who like Anne Frank lived in Nazi occupied Amsterdam Unlike Anne he was not taken into early hiding but was able to move around the city even to help serve its Jewish community and observe first hand the ominous things that were happening Robbert Van Santen lived each day not knowing how or when the war would end not being sure that he would survive not imagining that as an elder he would articulate his experiences to an American author To put one of Mary Oliver's poetic phrases in a new context his story is a box full of darkness but in the telling he offers the author and the reader the gift of stepping into his shoes and thus the satisfaction of coming to understand a teenager's challenging life What did Robbert do afterward He sought to find joy in life despite what happened Not instead of the memories but as a response to them The Routledge Handbook of Urban Logistics Jason Monios, Lucy Budd, Stephen Ison, 2023-06-23 The Routledge Handbook of Urban Logistics offers a state of the art comprehensive overview of the discipline of urban and city logistics The COVID 19 pandemic and the rise in internet shopping in particular have placed new demands on urban logistics which require innovative technological and policy responses Similarly the necessity for sustainable urban logistics offers both a challenge and opportunity for development and seeks to address traffic congestion local air quality traffic related degradation the use of energy safety aspects and noise Featuring contributions from world leading international scholars the chapters examine concepts issues and ideas across five topic areas that reflect the increasingly diverse nature of current research and thinking in urban logistics transport modes urban logistics sectors technical analysis policy and sustainability Each chapter provides an overview of current knowledge identifies issues and discusses the relevant debates in urban logistics and the future research agenda This handbook offers a single repository on the current state of knowledge written from a practical perspective utilising theory that is applied and developed using real work examples It is an essential reference for researchers academics and students working in all areas of urban logistics from policy and planning to technology and sustainability in addition to industry practitioners looking to develop their professional knowledge Tobacco Charles A. Lilley, L. S. Hardin, Thomas H. Delano, Wilfred Pocklington Pond, 1928 Spinoza Past and Present Wiep van Bunge, 2012-08-03 In this work the author explores various aspects of Spinoza's works and the often conflicting ways in which the Dutch philosopher's views have been interpreted from the 17th century onwards Anne Frank Remembered Miep Gies, Alison Leslie Gold, 1987 An autobiography by the woman who helped hide the Frank family during World War II Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedroli, Anne van Doorn, Geert de Blust, 2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added

The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills. Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc. The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features. Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context. The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English. The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about. The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology.

A Damn Fine Growth Veronica Pinckard, 2012-06-22 This Autobiography was written at the insistence of a daughter who was curious about my life. Far from a dreadful childhood I laughed as I wrote it realizing it was ripe with the richness of the ever cheery Cockney. Born in London opposite the Houses of Parliament I was the last of 16 children. Poverty and war evacuation my home destroyed war work where the first jet engines were flown and refueling in flight invented. Seven brothers my father and my husband who served aboard RMS Venus on those horrendous Russian Convoys in U boat infested waters all had served King and Country. My husband never got over living at fever pitch. We emigrated to Canada and New Zealand finally to California. Settled now in the Santa Clarita Valley with my second husband I have been a docent for 26 years at the Los Angeles Zoo touring school children visiting schools to show slides on the plight of endangered animals reading to children at a local school attending college classes and ongoing programs at the local Senior Center. Our children and grandchildren live close by. 24 around the Christmas table keeps us all happily connected. Attending Tai Chi classes with my husband I took up playing the piano four years ago. I keep busy singing with a Senior group writing stories knitting and crocheting. Together we have travelled much of the globe. I hope the reader will find parallels of his own. Life is never as bad as we think.
