Community Literacy and the Rhetoric of Public Engagement Linda Flower, 2008-07-24 Community Literacy and the Rhetoric of Public Engagement explores the critical practice of intercultural inquiry and rhetorical problem solving that encourages urban writers and college mentors alike to take literate action Author Linda Flower documents an innovative experiment in community literacy the Community Literacy Center in Pittsburgh and posits a powerful and distinctively rhetorical model of community engagement and pedagogy for both marginalized and privileged writers and speakers In addition she articulates

a theory of local publics and explores the transformative potential of alternative discourses and counter public performances In presenting a comprehensive pedagogy for literate action the volume offers strategies for talking and collaborating across difference for conducting an intercultural inquiry that draws out situated knowledge and rival interpretations of shared problems and for writing and speaking to advocate for personal and public transformation Flower describes the competing scripts for social engagement empowerment public deliberation and agency that characterize the interdisciplinary debate over models of social engagement Extending the Community Literacy Center's initial vision of community literacy first published a decade ago Community Literacy and the Rhetoric of Public Engagement makes an important contribution to theoretical conversations about the nature of the public sphere while providing practical instruction in how all people can speak publicly for values and visions of change Winner 2009 Rhetoric Society of America Book Award Disrupting Pedagogies in the Knowledge Society: Countering Conservative Norms with Creative Approaches Faulkner, Julie, 2011-12-31 This book examines a range of disruptive approaches exploring how challenge dissonance and discomfort might be mobilized in educational contexts in order to shift taken for granted attitudes and beliefs held by both educators and learners Provided by publisher The Best of the Independent Rhetoric and Composition Journals 2011 Steve Parks, Brenda Glascott, 2013-03-06 The Best of the Independent Rhetoric and Composition Journals 2011 represents the result of a nationwide conversation beginning with journal editors but expanding to teachers scholars and workers across the discipline of Rhetoric and Composition to select essays that showcase the innovative and transformative work now being published in the field's independent journals Academic Constraints in Rhetorical Criticism of the New Testament J. David Hester Amador, 1999-01-01 Rhetorical criticism promised to bring New Testament studies into a new era that approached the Bible as a document of persuasive discourse Major proponents of this approach suggested that its potential lies in its democratization of biblical interpretation To date that promise has never been fulfilled The reasons can be found by exploring the rhetoric of these rhetorical critics Such an exploration uncovers systems of disciplinary constraints and discursive habits that keep rhetoric firmly within traditional units of academic biblical interpretation The promise of rhetoric can only be fulfilled by shattering all notions of a rhetorical programme of biblical interpretation Remapping the Rhetorical Situation in Networked Culture Ramesh Pokharel, 2021-06-02 With the advent of new media and technology the notion of the rhetorical situation has changed and there is now the exigence of a new theory of the rhetorical situation that better incorporates such new notions By bringing together critical theory of technology and theory of critical geography along with rhetoric and language theory this book proposes a new theory on the rhetorical situation that has more explanatory power and accounts for frames critiques and analyses the fundamental assumptions and beliefs on the rhetorical situation This theory conceives the constituents of the rhetorical situations as indiscrete and non linear entities The book offers an innovative way to study the rhetorical situation in a new light that will broaden the research scope of rhetoric Into the Gateway Catherine Chaput, Amy Pason, 2022-06-08 This book advances the trend toward field methods in rhetorical scholarship by collecting distinct chapters based on the same object of study the University of Nevada Reno's Masterplan that extends the University into the adjacent community Exploring the perennial problem of university community relations from the perspective of multiple publics this book provides thick description of a local issue that resonates with communities across the country The fieldwork for each chapter was conducted in groups during a single week long site visit that asked scholars to study the asymmetrical traction among different communities to organize publicize and advocate positions around a proposed redevelopment project Surveying the results of this professional experiment the Project on Power Place and Publics each chapter offers a theoretical intervention into the same material site illustrates diverse place based field methods and models the scholarly results of work that mixes slow deliberate and thoughtful analysis with the fast pace and spontaneous demands of participatory research This volume is unique for a number of reasons it is the only study to concretely illustrate the compatibility of field methods with a wide range of theoretical perspectives it attests to the possibility of deeply collaborative research as teams of researchers engaged multiple local partners to produce these chapters and it challenges the pervasive intellectual terrain that pits one theory against another by showing how diverse scholarly approaches can bolster one another With a new introduction afterword and post script material from authors the other chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Review of Communication Resources in Education ,2000-10 Literacy in America Barbara J.
