Study in Perfect Sarah Gorham, 2014-09-15 Study in Perfect is an exploration of perfection In Moving Horizontal a Victorian house loses its charm over time especially when compared to a modernist contemporary filled with light Family life is dense with pleasure as in the perfect vacation described in Marking Time in Door County and in Neriage or What Is the Secret of a Long Marriage where an ancient Japanese ceramic technique has much in common with shaping a close relationship There is such a thing as a perfect cup of tea depending on who is preparing and drinking it Perfect Tea And schmaltzy show tunes flowing from a black lacquered piano in a Chinese restaurant can be genuinely moving Sentimental la Carte Naturally Gorham must embrace imperfection The poisonous mushrooms in Darling Amanita lead to a consideration of our darker impulses like obsessive love even murder And there is pain The Shape of Fear relates the story of a child stricken with a deadly staph infection as it considers the function and form of fear And alcoholism the family disease no one wants to talk about is poised against The Cat in the Hat a story everyone has read and enjoyed Study in Perfect winds its way around and through the many permutations of this most hermetic and exalted concept and proceeds with the full consciousness that perfection's exact definition is subjective reliant on who is speaking and easily unmoored by time geography and the vagaries of taste

system in which conservation like celebrity is big business The book critically examines the heroic status accorded to the five figures mentioned above taking in the various discourses around nature science nation gender through which they and their work have been presented to us In doing so it fills in the cultural historical and ideological background behind contemporary celebrity conservationism as a popular expression of a chronically endangered world
