Criminalizing Women, 2nd Edition Gillian Balfour, Elizabeth Comack, 2021-01-10T00:00:00Z Criminalizing women has become all too frequent in these neo liberal times Meanwhile poverty racism and misogyny continue to frame criminalized women's lives Criminalizing Women introduces readers to the key issues addressed by feminists engaged in criminology research over the past four decades Chapters explore how narratives that construct women as errant females prostitutes street gang associates and symbols of moral corruption mask the connections between women's restricted choices and the conditions of their lives. The book shows how women have been surveilled, disciplined, managed, corrected, and punished, and it considers the feminist strategies that have been used to address the impact of imprisonment and to draw attention to the systemic abuses against poor and racialized women. In addition to updating material in the introductions and substantive chapters, this second edition includes new contributions that consider the media representations of missing and murdered women in Vancouver's Downtown Eastside, the gendered impact of video surveillance technologies, CCTV, the role of therapeutic interventions in the death of Ashley Smith, the progressive potential of the Inside Out Prison Exchange Program, and the use of music and video as decolonizing strategies.

Women and Gendered Violence in Canada Chris Bruckert, Tuulia Law, 2018-01-01. Violence against women is usually framed as an issue of interpersonal violence perpetrated by men. While domestic violence and sexual assault are significant social problems, such a narrow framing obscures the diversity of women's experience, fails to illuminate the role social structures play, and excludes discussions of workplace and state violence. By drawing on a range of theoretical traditions emerging from feminism, criminology, and sociology, Women and Gendered Violence in Canada significantly expands the conversation on violence against women. The first section of the book develops the conceptual and contextual framework that informs the remainder of the text, and the following three sections are organized around types of victimization: interpersonal, labour, site, and state. Each chapter ends with lists of suggested activities, and first person narratives are integrated throughout to personalize the material and issues being examined.

Putting Family First Harald Bauder, 2019-05-01. When migrants reach their new home, we often interpret their settlement and integration as an individual process driven largely by the labour market. But family plays a crucial role. Putting Family First is the fruit of a four-year academic-community partnership to investigate the experience of immigrant families settling in Greater Toronto. Contributors explore the integration trajectory of immigrant families from newcomers' initial reception to their deep involvement in and attachment to their receiving society. Chapters examine the interrelated themes of the policy environment, children and youth, gender, labour markets, and work, and community supports, making insightful connections between concepts such as neoliberalism, resilience, and social capital. Putting Family First applies rigorous academic research to solve practical problems, illustrating how the family context can be mobilized to facilitate the successful integration of newcomers and offering important guidance to practitioners and policy makers in Canada and beyond.

Innovations in Interventions to Address Intimate Partner Violence Tod Augusta-Scott, Katreena Scott, Leslie M. Tutty, 2017-04-21. Innovations in Interventions to Address Intimate Partner Violence: Research and Practice speaks to what can be done to effectively intervene to end intimate partner violence against women. Including contributions from both researchers and practitioners, chapters describe service innovations across systems in large urban and remote rural contexts aimed at majority and minority populations and that utilize a range of theoretical perspectives to understand and promote change in violence and victimization Reflecting this range contributions to this volume are organized into five sections legal responses to domestic violence intervention with men who have perpetrated domestic violence responses to women who have experienced domestic violence restorative approaches to intimate partner violence and a section on integrating intervention for domestic violence across systems The book highlights advances in practice which will be of interest to researchers practitioners policy makers and students

Keetsahnak / Our Missing and Murdered Indigenous Sisters Kim Anderson, Maria Campbell, Christi Belcourt, 2018 A powerful collection of voices that speak to antiviolenence work from a cross generational Indigenous perspective

Non-Death Loss and Grief Darcy L. Harris, 2019-10-16 Non Death Loss and Grief offers an inclusive perspective on loss and grief exploring recent research clinical applications and current thinking on non death losses and the unique features of the grieving process that accompany them The book places an overarching focus on the losses that we encounter in everyday life and the role of these loss experiences in shaping us as we continue living A main emphasis is the importance of having words to accurately express these living losses such as loss of communication with a loved one due to disease or trauma which are often not acknowledged for the depth of their impact Chapters showcase a wide range of contributions from international leaders in the field and explore individual perspectives on loss as well as experiences that are more interpersonal and sociopolitical in nature Illustrated by case studies and clinical examples throughout this is a highly relevant text for clinicians looking to enhance their support of those living with ongoing loss and grief

Violence Against Children Gertrud Lenzer, 2017-11-28 Violence Against Children adopts in its title the exhortation of Nobel Laureate Amartya Sen Making Human Rights Real which also represents the leitmotif of the book It examines the prevalence of violence against children in Africa the Asia Pacific Region Europe Latin America and the Caribbean and in the United States and explores major ways of its prevention

Making human rights real engenders the challenge of helping all children to be free from violence and to lead a life replete with genuine nurture and the elimination of all violence Only in this manner will the goal of the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development target 16.2 be achieved and the child as a rights bearing individual realized in her/his fullness The specially commissioned chapters that make up the volume have been written by renowned scholars researchers and advocates They coalesce to provide an overview of the challenges facing children exposed to violence worldwide and they advance discussions of the measures which are available and necessary for the prevention of violence against children The book is intended for policy makers researchers and students of the social sciences and human rights who are interested in ending all the widespread maltreatment of children in our societies and our time

Three Plays of Maureen Hunter Hunter, Maureen, 2003 Book is clean and tight No writing in text Like New

The Social Organization of South Asian Immigrant Women's Mothering Work Ferzana Chaze, 2018-10-01 This book examines the social organization of recent immigrant South Asian women's mothering work It explicates the processes that contribute to those belonging to this social group making changes to their mothering work after immigrating to Canada despite having reservations about doing so The book draws its findings from interviews with 20 South Asian immigrant mothers who were raising school aged children in Canada and had been in the country for less than five years Government policies websites and newspaper reports also form important data sources for this study Using institutional ethnography the book shows the disjuncture between the mothering work of the South Asian immigrant woman and institutionally backed neoliberal discourses in Canada around mothering schooling and immigrant employment It highlights the manner in which the settlement experiences for South Asian immigrant women can become stressful and complicated by the changes that these women are required to make in line with these institutional discourses The study explicates how the work of immigrant mother in the settlement process changes over time as she participates in social relations that require her to raise her children as autonomous responsible citizens who can participate in a neoliberal economy characterised by precarious work The research that informs this book has implications for the social work profession which is connected in many ways to the settlement experiences of immigrant women

Corporal Punishment of Children Bernadette J. Saunders, Pernilla Leviner, Bronwyn Naylor, 2018-11-26 Corporal Punishment of Children Comparative Legal and Social Developments towards Prohibition and Beyond provides insights into the views and experiences of prominent academics and political religious and human rights activists from Australia Canada Germany Ireland Israel New Zealand Norway South Africa Sweden the UK and the US Country specific and thematic insights in relation to children's ongoing experience of corporal punishment are detailed and discussed and key questions are raised and considered with a view to advancing progress towards societies in which children's human rights to dignity and optimal development are more fully recognised
